PROPOSALS

FOR PUBLISHING BY SUBSCRIPTION,

A Ground Plan

OF THE

City Philadelphia,

AND ITS ENVIRONS:

Taken from actual survey, by A. P. FOLIE, Geographer, from St. Domingo.

THIS Plan will be engraved on a plate 26 inches square; and it will contain an exact description of all the squares, streets and alleys in the City and Liberties. The situation of the several public buildings, such as the State-House, City-Hall, Seat of Congress, Churches, Meeting-Houses, Hospital, Library and Seminaries of Learning—of the several Banks, and of the Federal and State Offices, will be ascertained. The parts which are built on will be distinguished from those that are not. The courses of the rivulets between Delaware and Schuylkill, and as much of the Canal, intended to connect the navigation of these two waters, as lies within the compass of the draught, will be accurately delineated. It will also be ornamented by a view of the shipping in the harbor, and an elevation of Congress-Hall, and of the other public buildings that occupy the ground contiguous. In short, nothing will be omitted to render this useful and desirable work acceptable to an enlightened public, that is in the author's power; and it shall be completed with the greatest possible dispatch, as soon as the generous encouragement of subscribers shall insure to the author such a sum as will be sufficient to defray expenses.

A Pamphlet will be delivered with each Plan, which will contain an alphabetical list of the Subscribers names, and information concerning the police, population and present state of the city.

The price to subscribers will be Two Dollars and one third, to be paid at the time of delivering the Plans.

Subscriptions will be gratefully received at the principal Bookellers in this city—and the original Draft may be seen at B. DAVIES', No. 68, Market-street, at any time until it shall be put into the hands of the Engraver.

A PHILADELPHIE, le 10 Ventos—l'an 2d de la République Française une & indivisible.
(28 Fevrier, 1794. vieux stile)

Le Ministre Plénipotentiaire de la République Française.

JH. FAUCHET.

The editors of newspapers in the United States are requested to insert the above notice in their paper. 8

This Gazette shall be enlarged, as it receives encouragement—The Subscription increases daily—Advertising Favors are solicited—These constitute an essential item in diminishing the Debt side of the Account.

The following miscellaneous articles are copied from the American Star.

The National Gazette of France of the sixth, reports, that the curate of the district of Mleun said at the tribunal "it is time to inform the people that there is no true religion but the religion of nature, and that all the dreams, all the mockeries, with which the name of religion has been decorated, are but mere tales—no more priests—we shall arrive to it at last.

At the sitting of the 8th, a number of petitioning priests were admitted; the most of them deposited the corals of fanaticism—many members of the Convention both priests and bishops followed this example.

The Abbe de Sicyes, who has not been spoken of a long time, has lately left his voluntary obscurity, and following the example of his colleagues, has renounced priesthood, and made a donation of a pension of a thousand livres, which was allowed him for a number of benefices.

The Convention went in a body to the late church of Notre Dame, at present called the Temple of Reason—they consecrated it, and there made a sacrifice to liberty.

There is remarked amongst the Brissotins (of whose execution an account has been already given) a man called Fauchet, surnamed in the revolution Iron-Mouth, a great partizan of the Agrarian law, which he called agree-able law.

Du Chatel, is also distinguished amongst them, who, before the sentence of the king, had himself carried sick to the Convention, and there declared, that in his soul and conscience he could not find Louis the 16th guilty.

Lequinio and Lignel write to the Convention from Rochfort, "The popular society of this city has lately proposed a philosophical dispute between the priests and intelligent men—never was the church so full—we spoke first, and the curate after. The people gave us attention, and hissed at the curate, with his mysteries. This church has been named the Temple of Truth."

The deputies of the commune of Ris, appeared before the Convention and there declared "They have no more any need either of gospel or pastor, they will make a present to the nation of the money these inutilities cost; that at the feet of the statue of Brutus they will become republicans, and on his forehead they will read their duties."

Voltaire has said in his tragedy of Mahomet:

"There is need of a new gospel * * *
"There is need of a new God to awaken the universe.

At the sitting of the 1st of December, La Planche, Dumont, and Fouché sent seventeen trunks full of precious stones, gold and silver, coming from the department of la Nievre. The republicans, who were the bearers of this offering said, in the name of their fellow-citizens, that they despised all this gold, and that they only wished for bread and iron. They added—we also express our wishes for the suppression of the ministers of the gospel.

The same Fouché writes to father Duchene (Hebert, substitute of commune) "Happily at Nievre there is now neither poor nor rich."

Dubois Crance, and Gautiers, who were seen in the preceding news to have been arrested, are now set free, on the motion of the Committee of Public Safety. One of them has sent the Convention an important piece; it was a resolve, signed by 20,000 Lyonsese, and who by its being shown are convicted of rebellion. Their property has been confiscated to the profit of the Republic; Dubois Crance affirms, that this property amounts to near 2000 millions.

Amongst the guillotined Brissotins, or rather destined for it, since he of whom we speak killed himself, there is remarked Du Friche Valaze, the author of the report which produced the act of accusation against Louis XVI.
