AN ESSAY ON THE

Natural Equality of Men, On the Rights that refult from it, and on the Duties which it impofes. To which a MEDAL was adjudged, by the Teylerian Society at Haarlem. Corrected and Enlarged. By WILLIAM LAWRENCE BROWN,

D. D. Profeffor of Moral Philosophy, and the Law of Nature, and of Ecclesiaffical Hiftory; and Minister of the English Church at Utrecht.

Aliquid semper ad communem utilitatem af-

Aliquid femper ad communem utilitatem af-ferentum. CICERO. The First American Edition. The grand principle of Equality, if right-niverfal juffice, facred order, and perfect freedom, can be firmly built, and permanente ly fecured. The view of it exhibited in this effay, at the fame time that it reprefies the infolence of office, the tyranny of pride, and the outrages of opprefilion ; confirms, in the moft forcible manner, the neceffity of fubor-dination, and the juft demands of lawful au-bonts. So far indeed, from loodening the every natural and every civil diffinction, draws more clofely every focial tie, unites in one harmonious and juftly propertioned fyfone harmonious and julily propertioned fyf-tem, and brings men together on the even ground of the inherent rights of human na-ture, of reciprocal obligation, and of a com-mon relation to the community.
