An Essay on Slavery, Designed to exhibit in a new point of view its effects on morals, industry, and the peace of society. Some facts and calculations are offered to prove the labor of freemen to be much more productive than that of slaves; that countries are rich, powerful and happy, in proportion as the laboring people enjoy the fruits of their own labor; and hence the necessary conclusion, that slavery is impolitic as well as unjust.

Congress of the United States.
IN SENATE,
Thursday, May 15.
A message from the House of Representatives by Mr. Beckley their clerk:
"Mr. President—The House of Representatives agree to the amendments of the Senate to the bill, entitled, "an act providing for the payment of certain ex-pences incurred by Fulwar Skipwith on public account;" also to the amendments of the Senate to the bill, entitled, "An act for erecting a light-house on the Island of Seguin, in the District of Maine"— And he withdrew.
Mr. Foster reported from the committee on enrolled bills, the bill, entitled, "An act providing for the payment of certain expences incurred by Fulwar Skip-with on public account;" the bill, entitled, "An act for erecting a light-house on the island of Seguin, in the District of Maine, and for erecting a beacon and placing three buoys at the entrance of St. Mary's river in the state of Georgia;" also the bill entitled, "An act further to authorize the adjournment of circuit courts," and that they were duly enrolled.

The bill sent from the House of Representatives for concurrence, entitled, "An act for the relief of Reuben Smith and Nathan Strong," was read the third time.
Resolved, That this bill pass.
Ordered, That the Secretary acquaint the House of Representatives with the concurrence of the Senate in this bill.
Mr. Ellsworth from the committee to whom was referred certain resolutions moved for the 15th of April last by the Senators of Kentucky, relating to the navigation of the Mississippi, and the negocia-tion at the court of Spain, reported—"That in the negotiation now carying on at Madrid between the United States and Spain, the right of the former to the free navigation of the Mississippi, is well asserted and demonstrated, and their claim to its enjoyment is pursued with all the assiduity and firmness which the magnitude of the subject demands; and will doubtless continue to be so pursued, until the object shall be obtained, or adverse circumstances shall render the further progress of the negotiation impractable. That in the present state of the business it would be improper for Congress to interfere—But in order to satisfy the Citizens of the United States, more immediately interested in the event of this negotiation, that the United States have uniformly asserted their right to the free use of the navigation of the river Mississippi, and have employed, and will continue to pursue such measures as are best adapted to obtain the enjoyment of this important territorial right. The committee recommend that it be Resolved by the Senate.

"That the President of the United States be and he hereby is requested to cause to be communicated to the Executive of the State of Kentucky such part of the existing negotiation between the United States and Spain, relative to this subject as he may deem advisable and consistent with the course of negociations."
And the report was adopted.
Ordered, That the Secretary lay a co-
