TREASURY DEPARTMENT, JULY 19th, 1796. (CIRCULAR.) TO THE COLLECTORS OF THE CUSTOMS.

THE inclosed act for the relief and protection of American seamen, passed at the last session of Congress, having neither ascertained what proof of citizenship shall be in any case deemed sufficient, nor how such proof shall be authenticated to authorize a delivery of the certificate of citizenship, in that act prescribed; the President of the United States has thought it expedient, to the end, that there may be an easy, certain and uniform mode of executing the law in these particulars, to give some general instructions upon the subject, which I am by him directed to communicate to all the Collectors, for their rule and government. They are as follows: Persons of the following description are to be registered and furnished with certificates of citizenship: 1st. 2d. Persons naturalized pursuant to the laws of any of the United States, prior to the twenty-ninth day of January, in the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety five.

3d. Persons naturalized pursuant to the law of the United States, passed on the twenty-sixth day of March, in the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety, while it was in force.

4th. Persons naturalized pursuant to the laws of the United States, passed on the twenty-ninth day of January, in the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety five.

5th. Children of Citizens of the United States, or any one of them born at any place out of the limits of the United States.

6th. Children of naturalized citizens, dwelling in the United States, and under twenty-one years of age at the time of such naturalization.

Proofs of citizenship in the several cases before-mentioned, to be produced to the collectors respectively, prior to their issuing certificates of citizenship, are to be of the kind, and to be authenticated as follows: 1st. Every person claiming citizenship, as a native of the United States, is to produce an extract from the register of births or baptisms, where such is kept, in the civil or religious society, to which the applicant belongs, certified by the proper officer of such society, in the usual manner, and supported by the affidavit of at least one credible witness, testifying that the applicant was born within the limits of the United States, and describing the county and state in which he was born.

2d. Every person claiming citizenship, by virtue of an actual settlement within the United States, on the third day of September, in the year one thousand seven hundred and eighty three, shall produce the affidavit of at least one credible witness, testifying that the applicant was actually settled within the United States, on the third day of September, in the year one thousand seven hundred and eighty three, and describing the town or county, and state in which he was then settled.

3d. In cases where citizenship is claimed by virtue of any naturalization, pursuant to the laws of any one of the United States, prior to the twenty-ninth day of January, in the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety five, or pursuant to the laws of the United States, the same shall be proved by a copy of the law or record, (as the case may be) certified under the hand of the proper Officer; and in case of a record of a court, it is to be authenticated also under the seal of the Court, if any seal is used.

4th. In cases where citizenship is claimed by persons as being children of citizens of the United States, or any of them, born out of the limits of the United States, the citizenship of the parents under whom the applicants claim, shall be proved as before prescribed, in like manner as if the citizenship was claimed by the parents themselves; and further, it must be proved by the affidavit of at least one credible witness, that they are reputed and believed to be the children of the persons under whom they derive their citizenship.

5th. In cases where citizenship is claimed by persons in virtue of the naturalization of their parents, such naturalization shall be proved in the manner before directed, and in addition thereto, the applicants are to produce respectively the affidavits of one credible witness in each case, testifying that they are reputed children of naturalized citizens of the United States, or of some one of them, and did reside within the United States, and were under twenty-one years of age at the time their parents respectively were naturalized.

The affidavits before mentioned, may be taken before, and
