T. SWANN

T. SWANN
RETURNS his fincere thanks to twole gentlemen by whom he has been employed, during his refidence in this [City, and fasters himfelf that he fuecefs of his efforts, in the numerous, obtinate and dangerous difeafes in Herfes, in which he has been confulted, together with his moderate charges, will feure their futurefavors and recommendation.
He now begs leave to inform them and the public at large that his fpacious and commodious premifes, erefield for the purpoles above deferibed are open for the reception of pupils of either fex, who with to be infructed in the Art of Riding, and the right method of governing their horfes, fo asto ride them with eafe, elegance, and fafety—their horfes, will be usefully and expeditionally broke, for every purpole, and made obsedient to the will of the riders; the natural powers which are that up in them, will be unfolded by art, calling forth uniformity of motion, and giving to that noble animal all thole beauties of action which re to which the horfe is bidly before do no them.

Allo, at his kolpital, every diforder to which the horfe is liable will be treated according to the rules of art, sonfirmed by long and repeated experience. The utility of the above inflictution has never been queffion-ed; that it has long been wanted in this city, every gentleman's fluid will manifelt, and T. Swann as the first establisher of the venerenary art, folicits and relies upon the fuppert of that public (which he is ever anxious in ferving) to enable him to bring it to perfection. The idea of a fubfeription for that purpole has been hinted by feveral gentleman, who with to promote the inflictution—the amount of each fubfeription to be retarned by fervices in any of the departments he profeffes, agreeable to the rate of charges flated in his hand bill. Such fubfeription is now open, and the fignatures of many refpect-able gentlemen already obtained. He therefore informs his friends and/fuch Ladies and gentlemen to whom he has not the honor of being known, that he fhall in a few days take the liberty of waiting upon them and foliciting their fupport and protection.

and protection. N. B. Hories are properly prepared for those Ladies and Gentlemenwho with to be instructed. Nov. 5.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE caution introduced into the public prints, warning all perfons against purchasing from the grantees of Blair M'Clenachan, any portion of the arge, real and perfonal effates he conveyed away to his fon-in law and to his children was the refult of a deliberation had upon the fubject by a general and numerous meeting of the creditors as well of Blair M'Clenachan and P. Moore as of Blair M'Clenachan individually. It was no more than an execu-tion of that truft confided in the fubferibers by those creditors: a flep which it would have been a breach of duty and honor in them to have omitted. The very fatement of the fact therefore must difpel the imputation that it was either " precipitate or vindictive." It originated in a defire to fecure the property of the debtor as a fund for the payment of his just debts. It was fanctioned by the advice of council as a measure necessary to the fastery of the creditors. If the advertisement has been injurious to Mr. M'Clenachan he owes that injury to his own unjustifiable conduct, not to the fub-feribers who have merely published the truth in terms as mild as the fact would admit, and who mean to inveffigate in a high court of juffice the validity of those purchases of which Mr. M'Cle-nachan fo confidently fpeaks. The fubfcribers therefore are bound by a fenfe of duty to the creditors in general to repeat their eaution against purchasing of those graatces or either of them, and to extend the terms of it to a ferve that patronage with which he has been to diffinguish-incly in the angle of the second diffinguishpurchase from any other perfons (if fuch there be) to whom Mr. M'Clenachan may have made fimilar nveyances.
