S T A G E S.

The public are requested to take notice, that the partnership which has for some time, subsisted between Mathias Slough of Lancaster, and William Geer, is now difficult but, not as M. Slough infinuates to the public without just cause; as will more fully appear by a letter on the subject from M. Slough to W. Geer, dated the 20th December last, a recital of which is not now doesnod necessary. Any gentleman who wishes to be more circumstantially informed of the merits of this business, by applying to W. Geer may have the perisal of M. Slough's letter, and then can be at full liberty to determine whether or not W. Geer is not perfectly justifiable in attaching himself to any other person in the prosention of the Stage conveyance from Philadelphia to Shippensurg, or any other place.

Now from the liberal and generous support the public were pleased to confer on the first effort in this business, William Geer, in conjunction with Mesirs. Reily, Weed and Witmer, is determined to prosecute and carry it on, with every care, attention and dispatch that a zeal to c-blige the public can possibly exert.

The above company, who are amply provided with carriages, horses, and every appurtenance to render the passage fase and commodious, inform those who wish to patronize and encourage the undertaking, that they can take their seats at George Weed's, the sign of the White Horse, Market Street, Philadelphia, on every Monday and Friday, to proceed to Lancaster, Harrisburg, Carlisle and Shippensburg. The fare as hitherto established.

For the further accommodation of the public, a Stage will start every Wednesday from the house of Samuel Elder, in Harrisburg, arrive at Sunbury in Northumberland county, every Thursday, and return from theace and arrive at Harrisburg every Saturday, so that passengers delined for Lancaster or Philadelphia, may proceed on Mondays.

WILLIAM GEER.

WILLIAM GEER.

Lancaster, Jan. 27, 1797.

N. B. This Line of Stages starts from the house of William Ferree, in Lancaster, on every Tuesday and Saturday morning at 6 o'clock, proceeding to the westward; and from the house of Mr. Samuel Elder in Harrisburg every Wednesday morning, on the same evening arrives at Patrick Cochran's in Shippensburg, and returns from thence on every Thursday: performing the same routine daily as in its tour from Philadelphia.

SWANN'S

Riding School, Horse Academy & Infirmary, Adjoining the Public Square, Market Street.

T. SWANN

RETURNS his fincere thanks to those gentlemen by whom he has been employed, during his residence in this City, and flatters himself that the success of his efforts, in the numerous, obdinate and dangerous diseases in Horses, in which he has been consulted, together with his moderate charges, will see ure their future saves and recommendation.

He now begs leave to inform them and the public at large that his spacious and commodious premises, erecked for the purposes above described are open for the reception of pupils of either sex, who wish to be instructed in the Art of Riding, and the right method of governing their horses, so as to ride them with ease, clegance, and safety—their horses will be carefully and expeditiously broke, for every purpose, and made obedient to the will of the riders; the natural powers which are shut up in them, will be unfolded by art, calling forth uniformity of metion, and giving to that noble animal all those beauties of action which providence has so bountifully bestowed on them.

all those beauties of action which providence has so bountifully bestowed on them.

Also, at his hospital, every disorder to which the horse is liable will be treated according to the rules of art, confirmed by long and repeated experience.

The utility of the above institution has never been questioned, that it has long been wanted in this city, every gentleman's stud will manifest, and T. Swann as the first establisher of the veterenary art, solicits and relies upon the support of that public (which he is ever anxious in serving) to enable him to bring it to perfection. The idea of a subscription for that purpose has been hinted by several gentleman, who wish to promote the institution—the amount of each subscription to be returned by services in any of the departments he prosesses, agreeable to the rate of charges stated in his hand bill. Such subscription is now open, and the signatures of many respectable gentlemen already obtained. He therefore informs his friends and such Ladies and gentlemen to whom he has not the honor of being known, that he shall in a few days take the liberty of waiting upon them and solicing their support and protection.

N B. Horfes are properly prepared for those Ladies and Centlemen who wish to be instructed.

CHATHAM,

MOST delightfully fituated on the north bank of Rappahanock river, opposite the town of Fredericksburg, in the state of Virginia, coasisting of eleven or sisteen hundred acres, as may best suit the purchaser. There is on this estate, a large and well built brick house, containing nine commodious rooms, exclusive of a spacious hall or entry, 22 feet square, two pair of stairs, suitable and convenient passages, and excellent dry cellars. It is placed on a sine heelthy eminence, commanding beautiful views in every direction over the towns of Fredericksburgh and Falmouth, and an extensive cultivated country.—The Falmouth, and an extensive cultivated country.—The grounds adjoining the house are nearly laid out in pleasure and kitchen gardens interspersed with a variety of scare trees, a choice collection of flowers and flowering shrubs, and enriched by various sorts of the following fruits viz anyles pears walnuts she fourte cherries reach firsts, viz apples, pears, walnuts, chefinuts, cherries, peaches, plumbs, nectarines, apricots, grapes, figs, rafberries, goofeberries, firawberries, and currants; the whole admirably varied by turfed flopes which have been formed by great labour and expense. Bordering upon these improvements, are several lots, in a high state of cultivation, and well set with red clover and orchard grafs, from which three heavy crops of hay are taken every year. Adjacent thereto are two large and flourishing orchards; one of well chosen peach trees, the other of apple and peartrees, selected from the best nurseries in the state. Properly detached from the mansion house are extensive roomy offices of every denomination, viz. a Kitchen and Larder, house-keeper's room and Laundry, with a celiar-underneath for a variety of purposes, a store-house and smoke house all of brick, a dairy and spring house of stables for thirty horses, and coach houses for four carriages. Also a large and well planned farm yard, with barn and granary, a cow house, with separate stalls for thirty-fix grown cattle; apartments for fattening veals. muttons and lambs; extensive sheds for sheep, and other arrangements for stock of every description, with a large and convenient recentable for provender, from which they muttens and lambs; extensive sheds for sheep, and other arrangements for stock of every description, with a large and convenient receptable for provender, from which they can be furnished without being exposed to the inclemency of the weather. An overseer's house, blacksmith's shop, and quarters sufficient to accommodate in the best manner more than sirty labourers.

The arable lands are so advantageously divided as to afford an apportunity of makings large quarters of Indian ford an opportunity of making a large quantity of Indian corn annually, without bringing the field into fimilar culture oftner than once in four years; confequently the lands may be improved by keeping up the inclosures during the introduction of the interpretation of the interpretatio wheat and other grain at the option of the proprietor.

On the premises there is also a merchant mill with one pair of best French burr stones, and one pair of Cologne; pair of belt French burr Itones, and one pair of Cologne; furnished with modern machinery, and now leafed for the unexpired term of four years, at 150l per annum, and all grain for the use of the farm, hopper free, which is nearly 100l more. The mill and miller's hopse are built of free stone, within a very small diffrance of mavigation, near to which are two or more valuable lisheries, and a well accustomed ferry over the Rappahannock to the town of Fredericksburg. The land contains inexhaustible quarries of free from mear to the river, is plentifully supplied with remarkable fine water and possesses a due proportion of meadow, which by having the command of water may be considerably increased. The roads are good, and the neighbourhood genteel and fociable. In fact, exclusive of an improveable and well conditioned farm, the value and employees interactable consequences. an improveable and well connected with a mill, forries, fiftheries and quarries eligibly structed; the profits arising from an ice-house inferior to none in the state, and a garden of four acres fo abundantly stocked with vegetables of all forts acto be fully equal to the demand in market, there might be detailed many other advantages, apper taining to the fertility of these lands, which the subscriber conceives it unnecessary to mention, being fully convinced that when examined, it will be found to be a complete, pleasant and healthy residence, pessessing beauties and conveniences sufficient to attract the attention of any per-for defirous of becoming a purchaser.

The motive which induces the subscriber to offer for sale an estate so singularly beautiful and advantageous, is a defire to become an inhabitant of Alexandria, where he can with more ease attend to his interests in the neigh-can with more case atteme to an bourhood of that city.

The purchaser may be accommodated with a few flaves in families, either for plantation or domestic use. A part of the purchase money will be required and the balance made casy, the debt being properly secured.

ANENQUIRY Concerning POLITICAL JUSTICE,
And its Influence on Morals and Happiness,
By. WILLIAM GODWIN.

THE reputation of this work is already well established in Europe—It is hardly necessary for an American editor to say more than barely to mention, that the Enquiry concerning Political Justice has ever since its publication been a favorite performance with the friends of republican government. The stile is pure, nervous, and classical; the ideas are strongly marked by an original vein of thinking; and among the same of th pure, nervous, and classical; the ideas are strongly marked by an original vein of thinking; and, amongst a multitude of other just and Rriking passages, the author's delineation of the peculiar infelicities inseparable from the condition of a King, may be pointed out as a most masterly specimen of philosophical disquistion. Porcupine's Gazette.

Proposals by WILLIAM COBBETT, opposite Christ Church, Philadelphia, for publishing a news-paper, to be entitled Porcupine's Gazette, & Daily Advertiser.

Methinks I hear the reader exclaim; "What! have we not Gazettes enough already?" Yes, and far too many: but those that we have, are, in general, conducted in such a manner that their great number, inflead of rendering mine unnecessary, is the only cause that calls for its establishment.

The gazettes in this country have done it more real injury than all its open enemies ever did or can do. They

The gazettes in this country have done it more real injury than all its open enemies ever did or can do. They milicad the people at home and mifrepresent them a broad. It was these vehicles of sedition and discord that encouraged the counties in the West to rebel; it was they that gave rise to the depredations of Britain, by exciting the people to such acts of violence against that nation, as less no room to doubt that we were; described on was a said in was those when an account. that nation, as left no room to doubt that we were de-termined on war; and it was they, when an accom-modation had been happily effected, that flirred up an opposition to it such as has feldom been witnessed, and which was overcome by mere chance. These gazettes it was, that, by mistepresenting the dispositions of the people, encouraged the French to proceed from one degree of insolence to another, 'till at last their Minister ter braves the President in his chair, and a bullying commander comes and tells us that his only business is to feize our vessels, in violation of a treaty, in virtue of which alone he claims a right to enter our ports; and of which alone he claims a right to enter our ports; and it is these gazettes that now have the impudence to defend what their falsehood and malice have produced.

I shall be told that the people are to blame; that they are not obliged to read these abominable publications. But they do read them; and thousands who read them, read nothing else. To suppress them is impossible; they will vomit forth their posion; it is a privilege of their natures, that no law can abridge; and therefore the only mode less, an counteract its essential.

therefore the only mode left is, to countered its effects.

This must be done, too, in their own way. Books, or periodical publications in the form of books, may be of some service, but are by no means a match for their slying felios. A falsebood that remains uncontradicted for a month, begins to be looked upon as a truth, and when the detection at last makes its appearance, it is often as useless as that of the doctor who finds his patient expired. The column the statement of the doctor who finds his patient expired. The only method of opposition, then, is to meet them on their own ground; to set foot to foot; dispute every inch and every hair's breadth; fight them at their own weapons, and return them two blows for one

A gazette of this flamp is what I have long wished to fee, but I have wished and expected it in vain. Indignation at the supineness of others has at last got the better of all diffidence in my own capacity, and has determined me to encounter the task. People have heard one fide long enough; they shall now hear the other.

1. Porcupine's Gazette shall be of the usual fize, and the subscription Eight Dollars a year, to be paid at the expiration of each half year.

2. Advertisements will be inserted at half the ofual price, which will atways be required in ready money. 3.
