Porcupine's Gazette.

Proposals by WILLIAM COBBETT, opposite Christ-Church, Philadelphia, for publishing a news-paper, to be entitled

Church, Philadelphia, for publishing a news-paper, to be entitled Porcupine's Gazette, & Daily Advertifer.

Methinks I hear the reader exclaim; "What! have we not Gazettes enough already?" Yes, and far too many: but those that we have, are, in general, conducted in such a manner that their great number, instead of rendering mine unnecessary, is the only cause that calls for its chablishment.

The gazettes in this country have done it more realinging that passed in such a manner that their great number, instead of rendering mine unnecessary, is the only cause that calls for its chablishment.

The gazettes in this country have done it more realinging that passed in the people at home and misterpresent them a broad. It was these vehicles of sedition and discord that encouraged the counties in the West to rebel; it was they that gave rise to the depredations of Britain, by exciting the people to such acts of violence against that mation, as left no room to doubt that we were determined on war; and it was they, when an accommodation had been happily effected, that first dup an opposition to it litch as has feldom been witnessed, and which was overcome by mere chance. These gazettes it was, that, by mistreprelenting the dispositions of the people, encouraged the French to proceed from one degree of infolence to another, 'till at last their Minister braves the President in his chair, and a bullying commander comes and tells us that his only bulines, is to selve our vessels, in violation of a treaty, in virtue of which alone he claims a right to enter our ports: and it is these gazettes that now have the impudence to defend what their salfshood and malice have produced.

I shall be tool that the people are to blame; that they are not obliged to read these abominable publications. But they be read them; and theusands who read them, read nothing else. To suppress them is might be done, too, in their own way. Books, This must be done, too, in their own way. Books, This must be done, too, in their own way.

This must be d

vilege of their natures, that no law can abridge; and therefore the only mode left is, to counteract its effects.

This must be done, too, in their own way. Books, or periodical publications in the form of books, may be of fome fervice, but are by no means a match for their flying folios. A fallebood that remains uncontradicted for a month, begins to be looked upon as a truth, and when the detection at last makes its appearance, it is often as useless as that of the dector who finds his patient expired. The only method of opposition, then, is to meet them on their own ground; to set foot to foot; dispute every, inch and every hair's breadth; fight them at their own weapons, and return them two blows for one

A gazette of this stamp is what I have long wished to fee, but I have wished and expected it in vam. Indignation at the superness of others has at last got the better of all difficience in my own capacity, and has determined me to eucounter the task. People have heard one side long enough; they shall now hear the other.

FIREFORT EDWARDS, Eig. District Attorney for the state of Connecticut.

New-Naven, October 7, 1796.

Dear Sir,
I shouldhave written you last week, had I then been able to ascertain certain facts, the rumour of which I had heard. A Mrs. Beers, a sear neighbour to me, the wife of Eben Beers, and daughter of captain Samuel Huggins, of this town, had been, for sourteen weeks, exceedingly distressed with the Rhennatism, to such a degree that for sourteen weeks previous to the 29th of last month, she had not been able to wall, acress the room even with crutches, save only once, when she made out with the affistches, fave only once, when the made out with the affiftance of crutches to hobble part of the way acro's her room.

On the 29th of September 1aft, the procured a fet of your metallic fubstances, and in lefs than an hour after the had metallic fubstances, and in less than an hour after she had begun to use them, in the manner directed by you, she rose from her chair, and wasked about her house, and on the next day she went abroad to her neighbours, having thrown aside her crutches. I have this day paid her a visit in company with her tather, and Timothy Jones, Esq. who lives in the street where she resides and directly opposite to her residence, and with Capt. Abel Burrett, who is her next neighbor, and lives within eight yards of her door. I requested her to relate her case over in their presence, which she did, and these gentlemen all with one voice, supported, from their own knowledge, her story, it is a futly which you owe yourself and the world to promulge this event. It is a fluty which yet mulge this event.

I am, very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,

FOR SALE By private contract, a very valuable Estate, known by

MOST delightfully fituated on the north bank of Rappahanock river, opposite the town of Fredericksburg, in the state of Virginia, consisting of eleven or sisteen hundred acres, as may best suit the purchaser. There is on this estate, a large and well built brick house, containing nine commodious rooms, exclusive of a spacious hall or entry, 22 feet square, two pair of stairs, suitable and convenient passages, and excellent dry cellars. It is placed on a sine healthy eminence, commanding beautiful views in every direction over the towns of Fredericksburgh and Falmouth, and an extensive cultivated country.—The grounds adjoining the house are nearly laid out in pleasure and kitchen gardens interspersed with a variety of searce trees, a choice collection of slowers and flowering shrubs, and enriched by various sorts of the following fruits, viz apples, pears, walnuts, chefinuts, cherries, peaches, plumbs, nectarines, apricots, grapes, sigs rasherries, goofeberries, strawberries, and currants; the whole admirably varied by tursed slopes which have been formed by great labour and expence. Bordering upon these improvements, are several lots, in a high state of cultivation, and well set with red clover and orchard grafs, from which three heavy crops of hay are taken every year. Adjacent thereto are two large and flourishing orchards; one of well chosen peach trees, the other of apple and peart trees, selected from the best nurseries in the state. Properly detached from the mansion house are extensive roomy offices of every denomination, viz. a Kitchen and Larder, house-keeper's room and Laundry, with a cellar underneath for a variety of purposes, a store-touse and smoke house all of brick, a dairy and spring house of stone. Stables for thirty horses, and coach houses for four carriages. Also a large and well planned farm yard, with barn and granary, a cow house, with separate stalls for thirty-fix grown cattle; apartments for fattening veals muttons and lambs; extensive sheds for sheep, and other arrangements for stock CHATHAM, of the weather. An overfeer's house, blackfmith's shop, and quarters sufficient to accommodate in the best manner more than sity labourers.

The arable lands are so advantageously divided as to alford an opportunity of making a large quantity of Indian corn annually, without bringing the field into similar culture oftner than once in four years; consequently the lands may be improved by keeping up the inclosures during the intermediate years, or may be beneficially fallowed for wheat and other grain at the option of the proprietor.

On the premises there is also a merchast mill with one pair of best French burr stones, and one pair of Cologne; furnished with modern machinery, and now leased for the unexpired term of four years, at 1501 per annum, and all grain for the use of the farm, hopper free, which is nearly tool, more. The mill and miller's house are built of free stone, within a very small distance of navigation, near to which are two or more valuable lisheries, and a well accustomed ferry over the Rappahannock to the town of Fredericksburg. The land con tains inexhaustible quarries of free stone near to the river, is plentifully supplied with remarkable sine water and possesses a due proportion of meadow, which by having the command of water may be considerably increased. The roads are good, and the neighbourhood genteel and fociable. In fact, exclusive of an improveable and well conditioned farm, the value and anolument inseparably connected with a mill, services, sistence and quarries eligibly situated; the profits arising from an ice-house inferior to none in the state, and a garden of, four acres so abundantly stocked with vegetables of all forts as to be fully equal to the demand in market, there might be detailed many other advantages, apper taining to the fertility of these lands, which the subscriber conceives it unnecessarined, it will be found to be a complete, pleasast and healthy residence, possessing beauties and conveniences sufficient to attract the attention of any person desirous of bec a defire to become an inhabitant of Alexandria, where he can with more cafe attend to his interests in the neighbourhood of that city.

The purchaser may be accommodated with a few slaves in families, either for plantation or domestic use. A part of the purchase money will be required and the balance made easy, the debt being properly secured.
