A valuable three story Brick House;

SITUATE in Lodge alley, next to the bank of Pennsylvania, the lot on which it stands, together with the vacant lot adjoining, which ex-feet in front on Lodge alley, and about 42 feet in depth, the adjoining lot is about 96 feet front on Lodge alley, and 42 feet on Goforthstreet, being a street which leads from Chestnut-street and Carter's alley into Dock-street at the horse market. The house consists of ten lodging rooms, with six fire places, two dining rooms, one of them forty feet in length, the other about thirty-four feet, each containing two fire places, two parlours and a large kitchen, with extensive cellars under, and garrets over the whole, a privilege of a vacant lot of ground to the eastward between this house and the bank, a pump of excellent water in the cumbrances.

Subscriptions will be received by Zachariah Poulson, jun. Printer, No. 80, Chestnut-street, and at the lins, Printer, and Joseph James, Merchant, New-York; by John P. Plesants and George W. Field,

Veneral Complaints,

PUNCTUALLY attended to in every stage of that disease, without the use of mercury or restraint of diet, in any case recent and simple, on application at No. 173, Chestnut-street, opposite the United States bank, or at No. 170, South Water-street, between Spruce and Pine-streets, where he has opened an office for the better accommodation of his patients.

But in Lues Venereae confirmed, Doctor Morgan pledges himself, that no system of cure (however specious) can be effectual without mercury, and that all the known rules of practice for these two centuries past, and united experience affirms, that any substitute for it is but nugatory, and any mode of practice to the contrary must be futile and deceptive.

Nevertheless, he undertakes, however complicated the case, to effect a cure without mercury, and in time not generally experienced or expected.

N. B. Regular attendance at the office in Water-street, from the hour of nine o'clock in the morning until one, and from three o'clock in the evening until seven; but any other time at his dwelling house, in Chestnut-street.

after the year 1742; with

AN INTRODUCTION.

Respecting the Life of W. PENN.

Prior to the grant of that Province, and the religious Society of the people called Quakers; with the FIRST RISE of the NEIGHBORING COLONIES, more particularly of WEST-NEW-JERSEY, and the VINCE.

And of the general state, in which it flourished, principally between the years 1750 and 1770. The whole including a variety of things, useful and interesting to be known, respecting that country in early time, &c. With an appendix.

Written principally between the years 1776 and 1780, By ROBERT PROUD.

"WILLIAM PENN, the great legislator of the Quakers, (in Pennsylvania) had the success of a conqueror, in establishing and defending his colony, among savage tribes, without ever drawing the sword; the goodness of the most benevolent rulers, in treating his subjects as his own children; and the tenderness of an universal father, who opened his arms to all mankind without distinction of sect or party. In his Republic it was not his religious creed, but personal merit, that entitled every member of society to the protection and emolument of the State."

John Barker Church and accompanied with powers of transfer to the Subscribers.

In the months of October and November last they were forwarded to us by Findlay Bannatyne and Co. of London. Both of the ships it appears from the public prints have been carried into the West-Indies by the French and condemned, from which it is apprehended the papers are destroyed. Steps have been taken to prevent, the improper transfer of the above

WHEREAS I am informed that two bonds given by me to Stockley Donelson in July in the year 1795, for about six thousand one hundred and ten pounds Virginia currency each, have been transferred by the said Donelson and others, and that it is intended to offer for the said bonds for sale at auction; I think it my duty to inform the public, what the circumstances are under which the said bonds were given, and leave those who are in possession of them, or to whom they may be offered, to judge of the probability of their being paid.

In June 1795, Samuel Love, Josiah Watson and myself entered into contract that I should go to the S. Western Territory (now the State of Tennessee) for the purpose of making a purchase of lands in that country; the terms on which the purchase was to be made, were defined in our agreement, and fifteen days by stipulation were given said Samuel Love and Josiah Watson, after I should inform them of any purchases I should make to determine whether they would be partners in it.

I made a purchase of lands of the said Stock-ley Donelson but not on the terms, to which I was limited by the said agreement with Samuel Love, Josiah Watson and myself—and although the purchase exceeded in price, and was not on the credit agreed on, I thought the bargain a good one, and supposed Samuel Love and Josiah Watson would join me in it. I therefore signed bonds for the payments, in the same manner as I should have done, if I had been certain Mr. Love and Mr. Watson would have ratified and confirmed them; because I did not chuse as I meant to give them an option of taking part of the said lands, to become solely responsible for the payments, if they should determine to accept my offer of part. On my return those gentlemen refused to be concerned at all in my purchase, and as I had received the deeds jointly in our names, they when requested immediately conveyed to me, so that I stood wholly possessed of the lands, and solely responsible for payments.

At the time I made the purchase of Mr. Donelson, I informed him with whom and in what manner I was concerned, and that Mr. Love and Mr. Watson becoming responsible for the payments, depended entirely on themselves.

The purchase I made was to the amount of upwards of 70,000 dollars, one thousand dollars were paid in cash, six thousand dollars in sixty day bills, and upwards of twenty thousand dollars in goods the fall following the purchase. The two bonds above alluded to were given, one payable in October ninety-six, the other in October ninety-seven. Those two last bonds were given on the conditions expressed in an agreement delivered at the same time, and dated the same day with the said bonds, the substance of which is, that the said bonds were not to be paid, or any part thereof until it appeared to the satisfaction of the obligors, that all incumbrances of every nature and kind whatsoever were removed from the lands and every part thereof, which I had purchased of Mr. Donelson. More than one half of the lands, and those of the best quality, the Indian claim is not yet extinguished to, and possession cannot of course be taken of them.

This incumbrance, perhaps, it was expedient when the contract was made would be removed, before the said bonds or either of them became due.

There are other obstacles of less magnitude, which must be removed before either of the said bonds will be paid.

At the time the said bonds were given it was agreed by Mr. Donelson that he would not dispose of them, until it was clearly known that there were no incumbrances on the lands. It is not necessary, I should say, how, he has been induced to violate this part of our agreement.

I have complied with the agreements on my part to be done, agreeable to the letter and meaning of my contract, and shall continue to comply with my contract on the plainly-expressed and unequivocal terms on which it was made. Any person interested in the payment of the said bonds may have on application a copy of the contract agreement herein alluded to.

I have only to add, that I was very much surprized in a short time after the said bonds were given to be applied to, to know if they would be paid; at that time and whenever after I have been spoken to on the subject, I have informed those applying of the nature of the circumstances on which the payment depended, and I have never failed to declare in the most free and unrestricted manner the true nature of my engagements with Mr. Donelson.

SWANN'S

Riding School, Horse Academy & Infirmary, Adjoining the Public Square, Market Street.

T. SWANN

RETURNS his sincere thanks to those gentlemen by whom he has been employed, during his residence in this City, and flatters himself that the success of his efforts, in the numerous, obdurate and dangerous diseases in Horses, in which he has been consulted, together with his moderate charges, will secure their future favors and recommendation.

He now begs leave to inform them and the public at large that his spacious and commodious premises, erected for the purpose above described are open for the reception of pupils of either sex, who wish to be instructed in the Art of Riding, and the right method of governing their horses, so as to ride them with ease, elegance, and safety—their horses will be carefully and expeditiously broke, for every purpose, and made obedient to the will of the riders; the natural powers which are shut up in them, will be unfolded by art, calling forth uniformity of motion, and giving to that noble animal all those beauties of action which providence has so bountifully bestowed on them.

Also, at his hospital, every disorder to which the horse is liable will be treated according to the rules of art, confirmed by long and repeated experience.

The utility of the above institution has never been questioned, that it has long been wanted in this city, every gentleman's stud will manifestly, and T. SWANN as the first establisher of the veterinary art, solicits and relies upon the support of that public (which he is ever anxious in serving) to enable him to bring it to perfection. The idea of a subscription for that purpose has been hinted by several gentlemen, who wish to promote the institution—the amount of each subscription to be returned by services in any of the departments he professes, agreeable to the rate of charges stated in his hand bill. Such subscription is now open, and the signatures of many respectable gentlemen already obtained. He therefore informs his friends and such Ladies and gentlemen to whom he has not the honor of being known, that he shall in a few days take the liberty of waiting upon them and soliciting their support and protection.

N. B. Horses are properly prepared for those Eduessed Gentlemen who wish to be instructed.

Laws of the U. S.

SWIFT'S EDITION.

Price 6 dollars, 30 vol. 12mo.

P. Rice, M. Carey, R. Campbell and Co.
Laws of the United States,

From the commencement of the Federal Government to the end of the last Session of Congress, which terminated March 3, 1797.

THIS edition, published under an order of Congress of the United States, has many peculiar advantages. In the former one, each volume had a separate index, which rendered the reference in all cases, difficult and troublesome, and in many almost impossible. The indexes were, moreover, very injudiciously compiled. On the contrary, in the present edition, there is one copious, luminous index, compiled by Zephaniah Swift, Esq. referring to all the volumes, and comprising in itself a complete digest of all the laws of the United States.
