THE CONSTITUTION. We this day were in hopes to have announ-ced to the public the launch of the frigate Conflictution : but after two attempts to fet her afloat, file remains in perfect fafety, on the ways where the was confiructed. How-ever mortifying the circumflance may be to the file, yefterday, is fufficient proof the friends of the Conftitution ; and however ardent their prayers might have been for her fafe delivery into her deflined ele-ment; there cannot be the leaft imputable blame attached to the confiructor; or to any, or to either of the gentlemen who were conductors of the operation. Every thing that men could do, was done. Wif-dom and feience could not prevail, where in-evitable obfiructionsoppofed a fuperior force.

THE LAUNCHING OF THE FRIGATE CONSTITUTION.

" If these things be necessities, let's use them like ne-ceffities." Sbak fpeare.

Difappointments are not always to be ranked among evils, efpecially when we ranked among evils, efpecially when we find that a difappointment is in the end more beneficial than our first wishes. This fenti-ment is verified in the flate of the frigate, who fill remains firm in her cradle. The explanation of the matter will doubtlefs be explanation of the matter will doubtlefs be gratifying to an anxious public, who feem to contemplate this veffel with a folicitude highly pleafing to the great family of repub-lican America. The fact is this; her con-fiructor found that the fhip United States, which was launched at Philadelphia, had too great an obliquity or defeent; in confe-quence fhe run off her ways full an hour be-fore her confiructor intended; which dam-aged her keel and maimed feyrral people To prevent thefe evils, the Bofton confluct-or laid the Conflictuion too level, and his levelling fyftem, or fyftem of equality, has produced all the inconvenience, and obfruct-ed the punctual performance of the bufinefs. Another reaion is this, part of the ground fhe floodon, was the natural terra firma, and a part artificial or made ground. This made ground has funk by the immenfe weight of the fhip ; and this finking occa-fioned her obfiruction yefterday. The con-fiructor could have forced her off, had his pride or ambition exceeded his diferetion and patriotifm ; but he chofe to facrifice his feelings, rather than rifk the lives of his fel-low citizens, or the property of the public ; low citizens, or the property of the public ; and many thanks are due to him and Capt. Nicholfon, for their decifion.

verge of its peftiferous influence. To the gentlemen who are converfant with fhips, the occurrence is a confolation; they can apply the Dutch proverb, which fays—" Stay a little while that we may get done the former." The ancient Romans con-centrated much wildom in their proverb of "fefine lente"—make hafte flowly. But what thall we fay to the ladies, who are difappointed of the fine fight? First, you mult fubmit to the powers above you, who guide and direct all fach weighty mat-ters. A remarkable interposition has regu-lated every event of importance, which has yet affected this country, and that it will fill be the cafe is prefumable in these fhips, which are the little wheels of an immense low fufficient length for the flip to get into deep water, and make the other end faft to the wharf. When thefe ropes draw upon the bilge-ways, the flip will flide off from them, and they will float, leaving the flip free. The ways which now pinch in the cradle under the ftern, may be thrown m by ferews, and confined from again fpread-ing, without great expense, with the affilt.

low citizens, or the property of the public; and many thanks are due to him and Capt. Nicholfon, for their decifion. To indifferent unthinking people, the dif-appointment is mortifying. The Jaco-bins will crow, and the Chronicle, that fpeaking trumpet of the devil, will echo the tale of difappointment, to the utmoth verge of its peltiferous influence. Mr. EDITOR, ome time fince, a paragraph in the Di-announced, that a gentleman had, the announced, that a gentleman had, the ning before, feen a COMET in nearly the tern direction. In confequence of this rmation, the philosophers of our city e put on the watch to fee fuch a rare nomenon. Inveftigations took place, the flarry element was invaded with all telefcopes that were to be had ; when, the telefcopes that were to be had; when, behold! our comet proved to be the beau-tiful evening planet—Venus. The watch full continuing, it was at length announced, that the comet had really appeared in the fouth eaft quarter; an inveftigation, as be-fore, took place; and, as before, the comet proved to be the brilliant planet—Jupiter; but the inveftigators were much more grabut the invefligators were much more gra-tified in viewing this planet, becaufe they faw within its vicinity, the fatellites, or Jupiter's moons; and, on the furface of the noise planet lumiter's below. This of the the noble planet, Jupiter's belts. It is faid alfo, that the comet has been feen at Cam-bridge, Baltimore, and Newhaven; but I ap-prehend that it is the fame that has appeared in our city, for it is the fame that has appeared n our city, for it is ftrange that none of the pectators have announced that they have feen the tail. I affure you, fir, that I keep a good look ont for the Comet, with good telefcopes-and whenever any appears, I shall with the greatest pleasure, announce it to my fellow citizens, and invite them to come at the top of the Muleum, and view it thro' my excellent telescope. CHARLESTON, September 12.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Phi-ladelphia, to his friend in this eity, dated August 28, 1797.

"The alarm (on account of the fever) has been fo great, that every body that can has been to great, that every body that can move are gone or going. The proclamation has frightened the people more than the fe-ver; the fear of the hufband being parted from the wife; the wife from the hufband; and children from their parents, has had a terrible effect on the minds of the people; been already acted; and the terror of the fight of the yellow flag, I have heard, has been the caufe of fome deaths. "You know my fentiments of Rush's fystem, and I fee no reason to alter that opinion : it rather firikes me more forcibly, pinton : It rather trikes the more forciety, that it is a definefive mode of proceeding; that it may be compared to a lamp, where all the oil is drawn off, it burns feebly, and just before dying, it blazes up. Such has been the cafe in feveral inflances, now and in 1793, when we heard the patient was getting well, and fometimes out of danger, the next report was that they were dead ! "I have not heard how the fever was yefterday or this morning, but the increase of deaths and new cases on Saturday was coniderable. The freets are, becoming lonefome by the prodigious numbers removing, and however ridiculous the caufe of flight, yet with the diffrefs which will be brought m many, it will be the means, perhaps, of ooner flopping the infection. "Mr. C---'s fon was taken ill on Thurfday afternoon, the father fearful of fending for a phylician, leaft his boy fhould be taken and fent to the hofpital, preferibed himfelf, first, some lemonade, a cooler, and a warm bath that evening, the next morning a little cooler, in the evening, the next peated : Saturday, he got well and afked for victuals; fome forrel broth was taken (a fort of forrel fold in our market, boiled in water, with a little butter, and fome bread crumbled in it.) Mr. C. tells me that be believes if he had fent for one of the A-merican doctors, his fon would have died.— The outfet was a high fever, pain in his ack, head ach and delirium. "Our fituation is fine, and I give the Columbo bitters to all the family. We bathe in cold water every day, I mean the children and myfelf; when any of us are going out we eat garlic, and fhall depend upon the ma-chine to open and cleanfe the bowels, if any complaints arife ; and we have no fear with these means to keep it off, and even to effect a cure, without the aid of phyficians."

which are the little wheels of an immenfe machine.

The Constellation, which is an affemblage of the fixed stars, went off in spite of all earthly impediments, becaufe the heavenly bodies are placed where the art of men cannot reach, and where human preseience can-not controul. The United States ran rapidly on, but with formedamage and deftruct-ion from adverfe parties and oppofing mate-rials; but the Conftitution formed with deliberation; coolnefs and extraordinary fore-thought, cannot eafily be moved. But like the ark of the covenent, an emblem of fomething facred, fhe helitates, and feems to fay, "conftructed as Lam with skill, and confummate judgment, my movements must be the refult of cool, calmand deliberate judgment; learn from my inanimate materials this lef-fon of political wildom; that no flep is fo likely to be lafting as that which is purfued with deliberation ; and remember, O Americans ! that in the courfe of your hiftory, your most violent efforts, produced but lit-tle, and that your greatest glory arofe out of your darkest gloom and apparent difap-pointments."

A large fhip, copper bottomed, is to be confidered as a heavy, polifhed, copper wedge. The fides of this wedge, in some places, form an angle of 45 degrees with a perpendicular line ; in others more : in others perpendicular line; in others more : in others, iefs. If that part towards the flem or flern, which is 45 degrees, fettles one inch per-peendicularly, the ways mult fpread one inch on one fide, or two inches in the whole. The parts which form a lefs angle, prefs outward with greater force. Braces are bolted on the fides of a fhip in launching, to prevent her settling; but it is to be supprevent her letting; but it is to be fup-pofed, that by the fpringing of bolts, and the compression of joints and blocks, she will fettle one inch. Motion increases her power of fettling, and the part towards the ftern is most liable, as being the sharpest. The bilge-ways being spread, become a wedge and stop the progress. The above-mentioned force has twice stopped the launch-ing of the frigate.

BALTIMORE, September 25.

By Capt. Sanger, from Port-de-Paix, we have been favored with a proclamation from Touffaint, general in chief of the armies of St. Domingo, to the citizens of the Cape, foldiers of the garrifons, and culti-vators of the plain. The gentleman, into whole hands we put it for translation, fays, it contains nothing more than a call on the inhabitants to behave themfelves peaceably and quietly under the laws of the virtuous RAIMOND, and to liften not to the perfidious emiffaries of Santhonax, who has been fent before the tribunal of his country.

Great hopes began to be entertained that our city was about to be reflored to its ufual health, and fome who had taken the aing of the frigate. To preventalike difappointment during the future process, the following hint is offered: Let three or more firong chains be paffed under the keel at each end to bolts paffing the bolts paffing the bolts and most faithful criterion to judge by and ought to do away all other rumors.

WOBURN-ABBEY SHEEP SHEARING.

On Monday, the 12th inft, his Grace the Duke of Bedford's theep-thearing commenced, to which all the capital Farmers, Graziers, and Agriculturifts were invited, and his exhibition or fhew of his new Leiceftershire breed of sheep. The company prefent were Messrs. Coxe, Colhoun, Bevan, ind many other Gentlemen and breeders of heep at Norfolk and Suffolk : Lord Somerille, Sir John Ramfden, Mr. Bennett, Mr. Northey, Mr. Lee Antonie, and many gentlemen breeders of fheep from the different countries in England-Mr. Arthur Young, Mr. Marfhall, Mr. Stone (his Grace's furever,) and the principal breeders of flicep of Bedfordshire and the neighbouring counics...

Notwithflanding the fhort time his Grace has turned his thoughts to this species of im-provement, it is altonishing to find to what perfection he has carried the breed of this truvaluable animal, fearcely to be exceeded by he Leicestershire Society.

The meeting lafted leveral days, during which time the ancient English hospitality. brevailed in all its glory. Dinner was pro-vided and ferved up each day, in the great hall, at three o'clock, and there was not one word of politics. His Grace and Mr. Stone, his deputy, prefided : his Grace enlivened the upper part of the table, and Mr. Stone did his utmost at the other end. Notvithftanding the fhort time (which is only three or four years) his Grace has paid at-tention to the breed of fheep, his bailiff let the use of fome of his fhearing rams (i. e. one year old) for one feafou, for fifty guineas cach.

It is aftonishing the advantage the country might derive in its improvement, from thus bringing together fcientific and public spirited men from different parts of England which relate to the promoting the utmost produce from the earth. [Lond. Pap.
