THEIR superiority consists in being free from boles and honey-combed places, which are commonly found in rollers cast in fand, or clay moulds. These patent rollers are cast in iron moulds, previously heated, and will be found to be more dense, folid and durable than any rollers beretofore used. Another important advantage they have over others, is, that the necks require no turning, but are immedaitely fit for use, and from their accuracy, run with less frishion, and require tels avater to make them perform their require iefs water to make them perform their work.
