The Norfolk Mail STAGE.

His Stage ftarts from the GEORGE Tavern,

L at the corner of Becond and Arch Streets, in Philadelphia, every Tuglday, Thurfilay, and Saturday, at 3 o'clock, in the morning; arrives at Dover the first day, at Snowhill the second day, at Northampton Court House the third day, and on the morning of the south day the passengers find a safe and comfortable packet to convey them to Norfolk.

A packet leaves Norfolk for Northampton ferry, every Tuefday, Thurfday and Saturday, and the Stage starts from this ferry for Philadelphia, every Monday, Wednesday and Friday; puts up at Snow Hill the first night, at Dover the 2d night, and arrives in Philadelphia in the evening of the third day.

The distance on this route, between Philadelphia and Norfolk, is 30 miles less than on any stage route between those places.

Too much cannot be said in favor of the road, which is most excellent indeed. The proprietors willingly engage to return the whole fare to any passenger, who, after having performed this route, will say that he ever travelled in a stage for the same distance, so good a road in America. ce, fo good a road in America.

PEALE'S MUSEUM.

THIS valuable repolitory of the works of Nature, fo well calculated to delight the mind and enlarge the understanding, is opened daily, as usual. It stands in an airy and healthy situation, and free from the epidemic that at present afflicts the city; it may, therefore, be frequented with the greatest safety.

As an Anusement, the study of Nature is the most rational and pleaning: as a Science, the most fubline and instructive. It elevates the mind and expands the heart. They
