PEALE'S MUSEUM.

THIS valuable repository of the works of Na-ture, fo well calculated to delight the mind and enlarge the understanding, is opened daily, as isfual. It stands in an airy and healthy fituation, and free from the epidemic that at prefent afflicts the city; it may, therefore, be frequented with the greates fafety. As an Amufement, the fludy of Nature is the most rational and pleasing : as a Science, the most most rational and pleating : as a Science, the most fublime and infiructive. It elevates the mind and expands the heart. They " Whom Nature's works can charm, with God himfelf
