To the Inhabitants of the United States.

SINCE the knowledge of medicine, none has ever or proved to aftenishingly efficacious, fo universally efficamed, or to which the afflicted with Rheumatisms, Gout, Rheumatis Gout, Lumbago, Pally, Sprains, Bruises and Childiains, may look for relief with so much confidence, as Whitehead's effence of Mustard. This extraordinary Medicine very foon affords the wished for relief, "even to the aged in cases the most desperate" For these substantial reasons the most desperate." For these substantial reatons it is patronised by all ranks of people in England.

From the great number of communications confantly received by Mr. Johnston, he is under the necessity (in laying them before the world) of abridging their contents; the following letters (although curtailed) are so very important, and the signatures so very respectable, that he conceives he should be doing injustice to Whitebead's Essence of Messard, were he to withhold them from public inspection.

Letter from Mrs. Mills, Housekeeper to the Duke of Cumberland.

of Cumberland.

Sir,

A most inveterate Rheumatism and Lumbago (occasioned by laying in a damp bed, when at Brustels, in the fuit of Fier Royal Highness the Dutchess of Cumberland) has afflicted me eighteen Putchels of Chimberland) has afficied me eighteen years. I have employed the first medical gentlemen in London, and (although I derived no benefit) am bound to acknowledge my gratitude to several of the nobility, who knew my deplorable fituation, and humanely fent me their physicians; I have also tried most advertised medicines. At length, fir, after, cichten years acceptation length, fir, after eighteen years excruciating torture, a few bottles of your Whitehead's Effonce of Mustard, have, I thank God, restored me to the mestimable blessings of health and permanent case.

No. 134, Jermyn-street, St. James's. S. MILLS.

Copy of a letter from G. Countofs, esq. Captain of His Majefty's Ship the Dedalus.

Sir, Spithead, Nov. 8, 195.

As I expect to fail in a few days, I beg you will immediately forward me a dezen of Whitehead's Effence of Mollard. It gives me confiderable satisfiaction to inform you, I have myself experienced its good effects, and have in several instances of Rheumatisms, Sprains, and Bruises, witnessed its associated as a portfraouth, and all other seaponting it to be fold at Portfraouth, and all other seaponts; for you may rest assured, when this invaluable specific becomes generally known, not an Officer in Mis Majesty's Navy will go to sea without it.

Yours, &c. O. COUNTESS.

Sir,

A fevere stroke of the Palfy, six months ago, deprived me of my speech, and the use of one side: In this desperate situation, Whitehead's Essence of Musiard was very strongly recommended, and, I thank God as successfully applied. By persevering in itsuse a short time, I was completely reserved, and continue to enjoy the full and persect use of my faculties, although near eighty years of age.

Yours,

No. 14, Arabella-rew, Pimlico,

Mr. Francis has held a public situation at the Guildhall in the city of Westminster, many years, and is well known to the generality of the respectable inhabitants.

Letter from A. McCan Efq. Capt. of the 60th re-giment, dated Fort George, Guerniey,

Sir, Jane of the years past I have been afflicted with a most violent Rheamatic Affection in my head, which has bassed the skill of the most eminent Physicians; some months since I was induced to try your Whitehead's Essence of Mussard. I am now happy to inform you, it has done me essential service, and I think it necessary to declare, no other medicine ever gave me the smallest degree of relief.

I am with regard, yours, &c. &c.

Capt. 60th Regt.

August, 1795; Mr. Middleton, of Chesterfield-Greet, St. Ma-ry-le-bone was so severely afflicted with the Rheu-matic Gout, as to be unable to move in my bed for fix months; his limbs were enormously swelled, and at length from excessive pain became quite black. In this distressing situation he was induced to try your Whitehead's Effence of Mussiard; the effect far exceeded the most sanguine expectation, his pain was immediately alleviated, and his limbs returned to their natural colour; his appetite restored, and in a very short time he was enabled to leave his bed in a very short time he was enabled to leave his bed and walk with crutches; and by a few weeks perfeverance, was completely restored to the full enjoyment of perfect health.

 Mr. Middleton, with his fon, repeatedly called as he got better, on Mr. Johnston, and declared that his life was utterly despaired of.

Respected Sir, Nov. 6. 1795.

Passing by a croud, in the fifth month of her pregnancy, my wife received a dreadful blow on her side, which apparently destroyed the life of the infant; after the most skillul advice, and trying various remedies for two months, she still found the symptoms increase to an alarming degree; spitting of blood—shortnets of breath—and other difagreeable circumstances appeared from so violent a brusse, afforded only the statal appearance of her speedy dissolution.—A friend to whom I related her sad case, having experiences great benefit from your Whitehead's Essence of Mussiand, kindly presented me with a bottle; to my unspeakable fatisfaction, it spedily relieved her from pain; a second bottle has removed every disagreeable symptom, and with the most heartselt gratitude I inform you, we have the happy prospect of her long continuing a living mother to our numerous samily.

Yours, &c. T. HURLOCK:
Whitmore's-row, Haxton.

CHILBLAINS.
