English Grammar,

The fecond edition, with improvements,

A DAPTED to the different classes of learners, with an appendix, containing rules and obfervations for allisting the more advanced students to write with perspectively and accuracy,

By LINDLEY MURRAY.

"This is a publication of much merit, and fully answers the professions in the Title. The appendix contains some of the best rules for writing elegantly, and with propriety, that we recollect to have seen."

Monthly Review, July 1796.

"This Grammar is, on many accounts entitled to commendatory notice, its materials have been carefully and judiciously felected; its arrangement is diffined and well adapted to the purpose of instruction and its expression is simple, perspicuous and accurate, Sex."

See the character ar large in the Analytical Review, July 1796.

English Exercises,

Adapted to the Grammar larely published by Lindley Murray, confisting of exemplification of the parts of speech, instances of false orthography, violations of the rules of synax, defects in punctuation, and violations of the rules respecting perspicuity and accuracy, designed for the benefit of private learners, as well as for theuse of schools.

"We have been much pleased with the perusal of these Exercises. They occupy with distinguished excellence a most important place in the science of the English language; and as such, we can warmly recommend them to the Teachers of Schools, as well as to all those who are desirous of attaining correctness and precision in their native tongue."

Monthly Review, July 1997.

WRITTEN BY BIMSELF.

This publication prefents a concile statement of the base means practified by the Jacobins of the United States to asperse the characters of those persons who are considered as hostile to their disorganizing schemes. It also contains the control of the documents aloresaid, and a feries of letters from James Reynolds and his wife to Mr. Hamilton, proving beyond the possibility of a doubt, that the connection between him and Reynolds, was the result of a daring conspiracy on the part of the latter and his associates to extert money.

A discount of one third from the retail prize will be made in favor of wholesale purchasets, for gash. Orders to be anarched to Mr. Young.
