Is there an American, young or old, not interested in the History of the first Rise and Progress of his native Country, and from so celebrated a pen as that of Doctor Robertson?
Just Published,
AND TO BE SOLD BY
JAMES HUMPHREYS,
No. 59, south Third street, opposite the Bank of the United States,
(Price one dollar neatly bound and lettered, in boards, six shillings)
Dr. Robertson's History of AMERICA,
Containing
The history of Virginia to the year 1685, and the history of New-England to the year 1652, being what the Doctor had completed previous to his death. It has lately been given to the public with a preface by his son at Edinburgh, has already passed through three or four editions, and has been translated and published in French at Paris.
Mr. Robertson in his preface observes, "During the course of tedious illness, which his early forefall would have a fatal termination, Dr. Robertson at different times destroyed many of his papers: But after his death, I found that part of the History of (British) America which he had written many years before, and which is now offered to the public. It is written with his own hand as all his works were; it is as carefully corrected as any part of his manuscripts which I have ever seen; and he had thought it worthy of being preserved, as it escaped the flames to which so many other papers had been committed. I read it with the utmost attention; but, before I came to any resolution about the publication, I put the MSS. into the hands of some of those friends whom my father used to consult on such occasions, as it would have been rashness and presumption in me, to have trusted to my own partial decision. I was persuaded by some other persons also, in whose taste and judgment I have the greatest confidence: by all of them I was encouraged to offer it to the public, as curious and interesting in itself, and not inferior to any of my father's other works."
The Editor of the Pa. Edition apostrophizes the above work in the following manner.
"Every thing ensures success to this volume the talents and reputation of the author, and the impression left recent in the minds of all who have read the excellent work of which this is the completion—all conspire to give it an extensive spread. The history of America was the matter-piece of one of the two ablest, or rather one of the two only modern historians. He has created this part of history, distinguished with the hand of a master part of genius, fortune, courage and crime, and conquered as it were, America, for literary, commercial, and political Europe.
"To ensure this last volume circulation, it is necessary only to name its author, and to remark, it possesses all that accites of observation, that perspicuity of exposition, the art of referring effects to causes, and of mingling with the account of events, the wholesome and most approved principles of morals and politics, for which this writer was so eminently conspicuous.—In short, that it exhibits the talents of ROBERTSON."
