The following is the act of Congress, commonly called the Alien Law. It is published at this time, in order to answer numerous applications for it, and to shew how groundless have been the calumnie circulated against it.

Law of the United States.

AN ACT Concerning Aliens.

Sec. 1. B E it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That it shall be lawful for the President of the United States at any time during the continuance of this act, to order all such aliens as he shall judge dangerous to the peace and safety of the United States, or shall have reasonable ground to suspect are concerned in any treasonable or secret machinations against the government thereof, to depart out of the territory of the United States, within such time as shall be expressed in such order—which order shall be served on such alien by delivering him a coferved on such alien by delivering him a copy thereof, or leaving the same at his usual abode, and returned to the office of the Secretary of State, by the marshal or other person to whom the same shall be directed. And in case any alien, so ordered to depart, shall be found at large within the United States after the time limited in such order for his departure and not be in the contract. for his departure, and not having obtained a licence from the President to reside therein, or having obtained such licence shall not have or having obtained fuch licence shall not have conformed thereto, every such alien shall, on conviction thereof, be imprisoned for a term not exceeding three years and shall never after be admitted to become a citizen of the United States. Provided always, and be it surface enacted, That if any alien so ordered to depart shall prove to the satisfaction of the President, by evidence to be taken before such person or persons as the President shall direct, who are for that purpose hereby authorized to administer oaths, that no injury or danger to the United States will arise from suffering such alien to reside therein, the President may grant a licence to such ahen to remain within the United States for such a time as he shall judge proper, and at such place as he may designate. And the President may also require of such alien to enter into a bond to the United States, in such penal sum as he may direct, with one enter into a bond to the United States, in fuch penal fum as he may direct, with one or more sufficient sureties to the satisfaction of the person authorized by the President to take the same, conditioned for the good behaviour of such alien during his residence in the United States, and not violating his sicence, which licence the President may revoke, whenever he shall think proper.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for the President of the United States, whenever he may deem it pecessor.

ed States, whenever he may deem it necessary for the public safety, to order to be removed out of the territory thereof, any alien who may or shall be in prison in pursuance of this act; and to cause to be arrested and sent out of the United States such of those aliens as shall have been ordered to depart therefrom and shall not have obtained a li-aliens as shall have been ordered to depart therefrom and shall not have obtained a licence as aforesaid, in all cases where in the opinion of the President the public safety requires a speedy removal. And if any alien so removed or sent out of the United States by the President shall voluntarily return thereto, unless by permission of the President of the United States, such alien on conviction thereof, shall be imprisoned as long in the opinion so of the President, the public safety may require.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That every master or commander of any ship or vessel which shall come into any port of the United States after the first day of July next, shall immediately on his arrival make report in writing to the collector or other chief officer of the customs of such port, of all aliens, if any, on board his vessel, specifying their names, age, the place of nativity, the country from which they shall have come, the nation to whom they belong and owe allegiance, their occupation and a description of their persons, as far as he shall be informed thereof, and on failure every such master and commander shall forseit and pay three hundred dollars, for the payment whereof on default of such passes are such as the payment whereof on default of such passes are such as the payment. pay three hundred dollars, for the payment whereof on default of fuch master or commander, fuch veffel fliall also be holden, and may by fuch collector or other officer of the customs be detained. And it shall be the duty of fuch collector or other officer of the cuftoms, forthwith to transmit to the office of the department of state true copies of all such

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, Tha States, shall respectively have cognizance of all crimes and offences against this act. And all marshals and other officers of the United States are required to execute all precep and orders of the Prefident of the Unite States iffued in pursuance or by virtue of this

Scc. 5. And to it farther enacted, That it shall be lawful for any alien who may be ordered to be removed from the United States by vietue of this act, to take with him such part of his goods, chattels, or other property, as he may find convenient; and all property left in the United States, by any alien, who may be removed, as aforesaid, shall be, and remain subject to his order and disposal, in the same manner, as if this act had not been passed. been passed.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That this act shall continue and be in force for and during the term of two years from the past

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Tuesday, February 12.

Mr. Living no presented a petition from a number of aliens, natives of Ireland, resident within the United States, praying for a repeal of the alien law, which, having been read, he moved to have it referred to the fame committee of the whole to whom had been referred the petitions heretofore presented against the alien and sedition laws.

Mr. Sewall objected to this reference. He said he held in his hand a motion, which he had several times, in the course of the

he had several times, in the course of the morning, rifen to make, in relation to peti-tions of this kind. He could not now make the motion, but would offer it as a reason why he should vote against this motion. It has all along appeared to him that these memorials would have been better referred to a select committee, than to a committee of the whole. As the subject of these petitions was the order of the day, he had intended, in order to save time and prevent unuecessary discussion, to have moved to discharge the committee of the whole from a farther consideration of these petitions, with a view of afterwards referring them to a felect committee. Indeed he thought is important, whatever might be the refult of the business, that an opportunity should be af-forded of shewing to the house, and to the Union at large, the nature of the complaints made against those laws, from whence, and from whom they came. Some of these memorials, it was seen were presented by aliens, who not only complain of the alien law, but other acts of Congress, to which our citizens make no objection; and who, it is clear, said Mr. S. do not aim so much at obtaining a repeal of the alien law, as by complaining of he government of the union, to spread a selitious spirit through the country. How far this was the case, he could not precisely say, but if the business was referred to a select committee, they would of course, examine the merits of these petitions, and report their opinion thereon to the house. He hoped, therefore, the present reference would not be asserted.

Mr. Nicholas hoped the gentleman from New-York would withdraw his motion, in order to make way for the gentleman from Massachusetts. He had listened to the peti-tion which had been read, and did not hear any thing in it but what related to the case of the petitioners; but he thought they had one farther into a discussion of our consti ution, than was necessary for their purpose. The did not wish the petitions of our citizens of be blended with this.

Mr. Livingston had no objection to with-traw his motion, at the same time that he must say, the objections to this petition are wholly without foundation. The object of ese petitions is to obtain a repeal of a law hich is pointed at them, and at no other chich is pointed at them, and at no other erfons. And when aliens pray for a repeal f the alien law, shall we say to them, "You hall not use arguments which you think will induce us to repeal the law?" Certainly notate would, however, withdraw his motion, is he did not wish to consound this pet tion. th the petitions of the citizens of the nited States.

Mr. Sewal then made his motion, "that peal of the Alien and Sedition acts, be difharged from a faither confideration thereof. and that the same be referred to a select ion thereon to the house."

After a debate which occupied the whole of the fitting, the question was taken by Yeas and Nays as follow:

Heifter,

A correspondent observes, that no Newgate bird, who had received the highest honors of the Old Baily, ever exhibited more trick and cunning, than was displayed by the learned Doctor, during the examination of himself and his accomplices before the Mayor on Sunday.—Cummens, who seems to be a young hand, answered unadvisedly to the name of James Cummens. The Doctor hastily whilper'd "you must not tell your name:" upon which James mutter d, "fait my name is not James Cummens, for all one of your evidences has savo n st." He was not however well enough schooled by the Dr. for, in the course of his examination, he consessed himself to be Samuel Cummens.

The quantity of flour exported from the port of New-York during the first nine months of the last year (viz. from January to September both inclusive) was 99,026 barrels.
