AN ACT

Respecting quarantines, and health laws.

BE it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the quarantines and other restraints, which shall be required and established by the health laws of any state, or pursuant thereto, respecting any vessel arriving in, or bound to, any port or district thereof, whether from a foreign port or place, or from another district of the United States, shall be duly observed by the collectors, and all other officers of the revenue of the United States, appointed and employed for the several collection districts of such state respectively, and by the masters and crews of the several revenue cutters, and by the military officers who shall command in any fort or station upon the sea coast; and all such officers of the United States shall be, and they hereby are, authorized and required, faithfully to aid in the execution of such quarantines and health laws, according to their respective powers and precincts, and as they shall be directed from time to time by the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States. And the said Secretary shall be, and he hereby is authorized, when a conformity to such quarantines and health laws shall require it, and in respect to vessels which shall be subject thereto, to prolong the terms limited for the entry of the same, and the report or entry of their cargoes, and to vary or dispense with any other regulations applicable to such reports or entries: Provided, that nothing herein shall enable any state to collect a duty of tonnage or import, without the consent of the Congress of the United States thereto: And provided, that no part of the cargo of any vessel shall, in any case, be taken out, or unladen therefrom, otherwise than as by law is allowed, or according to the regulations hereinafter established.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That when, by the health laws of any state, or by the regulations which shall be made pursuant thereto, any vessel arriving within a collection district of such state, shall be prohibited from coming to the port of entry or delivery by law established for such district, and it shall be required or permitted by such health-laws, that the cargo of such vessel shall or may be unladen at some other place within or near to such district, the collector authorized therein, after due report to him of the whole of such cargo, may grant his especial warrant or permit for the unloading and discharge thereof, under the care of the surveyor, or of one or more inspectors, at some other place where such health laws shall permit, and upon the conditions and restrictions which shall be directed by the Secretary of the Treasury, or which such collector may, for the time, reasonably judge expedient for the security of the public revenue: Provided, that in every such case, all the articles of the cargo so to be unladen, shall be deposited, at the risk of the parties concerned therein, in such public or other ware-houses or inclosures, as the collector shall designate, there to remain under the joint custody of such collector, and of the owner or owners, or master, or other person having charge of such vessel, until the same shall be entirely unladen or discharged; and until the goods, wares or merchandise which shall be so deposited may be safely removed, without contravening such health laws; and when such removal may be allowed, the collector having charge of such goods, wares or merchandise, may grant permits to the respective owners or consignees, their factors or agents, to receive all goods, wares or merchandise, which shall be entered, and whereof the duties accruing shall be paid or secured, according to law, upon the payment by them of a reasonable rate of storage, which shall be fixed by the Secretary of the Treasury for all public ware-houses and inclosures.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That there shall be purchased or erected, under the orders of the President of the United States, suitable ware-houses, with wharves and inclosures, where goods and merchandise may be unladen and deposited, from any vessel which shall be subject to a quarantine, or other restraint, pursuant to the health laws of any state as aforesaid, at such convenient place or places therein, as the safety of the public revenue, and the observance of such health laws may require.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That when, by the prevalence of any contagious or epidemic disease, in or near the place by law established, as the port of entry for any collection district, it shall become dangerous or inconvenient for the collector and the other officers of the revenue employed therein, to continue the discharge of their respective offices at such port, the Secretary, or in his absence, the Comptroller of the Treasury of the United States, may direct and authorize the removal of the collector, and the other officers employed in his department, from such port, or any other more convenient place, within, or as near as may be to such collection district, where such collector and officers may exercise the same authorities, and shall be liable to the same duties, accordance to existing circumstances, as in such lawful port or district; and no such removal, public notice shall be given as soon as may be.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for the Judge of any district court of the United States, within whose district any contagious or epidemic disease shall at any time prevail, so as in his opinion, to endanger the life or lives of any person or persons confined in the prison of such district, in pursuance of any law of the United States, to direct the marshal to cause the person or persons confined as aforesaid, to be removed to the next adjacent prison where such disease does not prevail, there to be confined, until he, he, or they may be safely removed back to the place of their first confinement; which removals shall be at the expense of the United States.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That in case of the prevalence of a contagious or epidemic disease at the seat of government, it shall be lawful for the President of the United States to permit and direct the removal of any or all the public offices to such other place or places as, in his discretion, shall be deemed most safe and convenient for conducting the public business.

Sec. 7. And be it further enacted, That whenever, in the opinion of the Chief Justice, or in case of his death, or inability of the Senior Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, a contagious sickness shall render it hazardous to hold the next stated Session of the said court at the seat of government, it shall be lawful for the Chief, or such Associate Justice, to issue his order to the marshal of the district within which the Supreme Court is, by law, to be holden, directing him to adjourn the said session of the said court to such other place within the same, or an adjoining district, as he may deem convenient: and the said marshal shall thereupon adjourn the said court, by making publication thereof in one or more public papers printed at the place by law appointed for holding the same, from the time he shall receive such order, until the time by law preferred for commencing the said session. And the District Judges shall, respectively, under the same circumstances, have the same power, by the same means, to direct adjournments of the District and Circuit Courts within their several districts, to some convenient place within the same respectively.

Late Foreign Articles

NAPLES, November 1.
Our army is now in motion to occupy different positions. A great quantity of arms have been delivered for the use of the troops. The king commands in person a division of 30,000 men, and another serves under the orders of general Mack, under whom our Prince Royal commands. The head-quarters are at St. Germaine. Our horse artillery has been lately greatly increased.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 13.
The army here having been reinforced with a considerable number of troops from different parts, the rebels here having been every where attacked with success, and we hope that tranquillity will soon be restored. General Galland has already declared the department of the Dyle and this city no longer in a state of siege. Seven waggons with armed persons have again set off from this city for Paris.

VIENNA, Nov. 17.
According to last accounts from Belgrade, fears were entertained there of a visit from Paskwan Oglozu, who had advanced to the vicinity of that city. The Pacha of Belgrade had in consequence sent cohorts to several of the neighbouring Pachas to require reinforcements.

FRANKFORT, Nov. 17.
Appearance are again very warlike. The army of Mentz will again be called the army of the Rhine, and be augmented to 80,000 men. The French head quarters at now at Wilbaden, and will, it is said go with general Jourdan to Strasbourg. The situation of Ehrenbreitstein becomes every day more critical.

MILAN, Nov. 19.
On the 15th instant General Morra arrived here, as General Inspector of the army in Italy, and yesterday general Montichiani, now chief of the Staff of the Italian army, arrived. General Joubert left this city the day before yesterday, to review the different divisions of the army, and their positions. Before he set out, he left orders that the Austrian officers in the Cisalpine territory should leave it within eight days, and this city within 24 hours.

LONDON, December 17.
The Loan was yesterday sold at 2 per Cent. premium, which was attributed to the news from Grand Cairo.

Sometime since the Arctifusa, of 38 guns anchored in Havre Roads, and sent a flag of truce with some French prisoners to that port. The boat having been allowed to approach within half point blank shot, was fired on by the batteries, and several of the oars broken by a heavy discharge of grape shot. Captain Wolley has written to the Directory and to the commandant at Havre, reproaching in strong terms the infamy of such conduct. Had their object been to prevent the approach of the boat, it might have been fully accomplished by firing a single shot at a head; but there perhaps is not on record so criminal an infringement of the principles which nations denominated civilized, have heretofore held sacred.
