From the Portland Gazette. TOM PAINE'S PLAN OF REVOLUTIONIZING AMERICA.

The late French papers contain a number of speculations with regard to this country, the most false and ridiculous. Something, however, may be learnt from them respecting the views of that abandoned nation. In one of their philippics appear the following sketch of a plan to "chastise Americans!" from the pen of that arch revolutionizer Tom Paine.

"Had France an army to throw into the United States, she ought not to attempt it. The disasters of Burgoyne and Cornwallis, arose from penetrating into their interior."

"Has France, say the partisans of Pitt, a naval force to send upon the American coast? Where can they be victualled? Are there not fortifications in almost all their sea ports? and an English Squadron on their coasts? True indeed it is, that France can neither send an army or great naval force to America. How ought she then to deal with these high mettled sons of America? Who in fact owe their very elevation and prosperity to France and to the friends of Franklin and Thomas Paine. She ought to distrust and embarrass the American government, that is, the English or anti-American party."

To declare war against the United States, would be the height of folly: for it would be declaring war against all the republicans, the planters, and the Indians, from whose support we may derive great advantage. But how, it will be said, can we carry on a partial war? With a small Squadron of light vessels, not drawing more than ten feet of water, a few guns and bomb ketches you may proceed to the river Savannah in Georgia, pass the Tibbebar island at Savannah. Here you may get a handsome supply of provisions; and on your return down the river, burn the buildings on each side, even to its mouth. The same plan will do for Charleston; pass the bar and set fire to the buildings on Johnson and Sullivan islands. You may next visit Georgetown in South Carolina, Wilmington in North-Carolina; enter the Chesapeake (perhaps it may be advisable to make the first operation here) burn Norfolk, Alexandria, Annapolis and Baltimore. You must be careful, my friends, by rapid movements, to prevent a defeat by the English Squadron, or by the Americans on shore, who will at the first alarm collect in great numbers. In eight days you may do all you wish in the Chesapeake. As Baltimore is situated up, you had better begin with that, and there you may raise a handsome contribution.

Near Savannah, Charleston and Norfolk, are small forts, that you may easily take in the rear.

In the Delaware you must proceed with great caution. Lewistown on the left may be easily burnt; and if you were certain there was not an English Squadron near the Capes, you might let fire to Philadelphia. It is a business of a week only.

Between Sandy Hook and New-York, you will find a pretty strong fort; this you will silence with your bombs. The buildings at Long Island and Nantucket are easily burnt; but Boston must be bombarded.

The master-stroke would be to conclude with Halifax. The English vessels from the East Indies generally winter there. Not expecting you in that quarter, they will be less prepared to receive you. Should your brave Squadron fall in with the Quebec fleet conveyed by a single frigate, it would be a brilliant affair indeed. Excuse my freedom, dear republicans; you are neither tygers nor sep embriers. Why may you not lend the most of your emigrants into Canada?

Connected as you are with Spain, you might go to New-Orleans, seize the ports of the Natches, collect the friends of liberty from the back settlements in the United States, from Kentucky to the frontiers. You will have to distribute a few presents among the Indians. You must put Gen. Clark and Knox in motion, summon to the French standard the Floridas and American troops raised by Genet and Magoniare, declare freedom to the black men, that are slaves in the southern states, and give to the men of colour, the sweet enjoyment of the rights of man.

It is in fact from the inhabitants of the sea ports that British influence proceeds. The only way to break up their nests is to burn their sea ports, and in this way compel them to live among the Plains. These last will not fail to treat them as the authors of all their calamities. This is the only way to humble the British Lion that now courts an alliance with the American Eagle, only to bring about its destruction.

GENERAL DUMOURIER, In a late publication, in which he notices the difference between the United States, among other judicious thoughts gives the following: "It appears very impolitic in France to exasperate the peaceable Americans, and make them acquainted with their strength. Beyond the reach of attack by land, should despair convert them into warriors, they may become the scourge of Europe. The Antilles and the colonies of the different powers are entirely at their mercy, they may easily starve and conquer them, they may put an end to the Newfoundland fisheries, they may devastate the coast of Europe by their privateers. Maritime war has charms for two great passions of human nature, avarice and love of adventure. The preparation, the expense, the forces it requires, are of a smaller magnitude than those of land, and their effects more lucrative and rapid.

"The Americans have provisioned, and consequently lived the colonies of France; that service alone ought in the eyes of the Directory to have obliterated the frivolous grievances complained of, which if duly weighed, were not injurious, but rather the just procedures of a prudent and pacific neutrality."
