One Hundred Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the Subscriber, on Tuesday the second of this inst. April, living in Kent county, Maryland, near Chester Town, the following described Negroes, viz. William, about 5 feet 3 or 6 inches high, a yellowish complexioned fellow, about thirty years of age, formerly the property of doctor William Matthews, he has been very much given to running away, and has been so often advertised in the public papers within this twelve months that any further description of him seems needless. Jacob, about 6 feet high, and about 32 years of age, of a common Negro complexion, down look, his little finger of his left hand stands straight, occasioned by the cut of a tickle. Pat, the wife of said Jacob, about 27 years of age, a small light made woman of a yellowish complexion, with thick lips for an American of her feature, she is a very good needle woman, and spins on either small or great wheel, and is very handy in any common house work. Two children of the said Jacob and Pat's, the one a male child about four years old, the other a female child about two years old. The above defamed Negroes took with them, besides their own wearing apparel, three coats, two of which were lined cloth of a light grey color, both new; one of the two was a great deal too large for either of the said fellows; the other coat of brown cloth, half worn; three under jackets, one velvet, another a drab, the other a light colored lining cloth do, one new pair of Calf skin shoes, lined with linnen and bound with leather, one pair of boots remarkably large in the legs, several pairs of stockings and a silver watch, all Hoken: their own wearing apparel as follows—William had on a light-horned regimental coat worked with silver twill, (which coat he had when he was brought home to me the first of February last, a round collar jacket (blue,) thickset breeches, patched with corduroy in the frize, with other necessary clothing. Jacob, two lining cloth coats, lead colored, one new the other half worn, blue lining cloth jacket, half worn, two pairs of lining cloth trousers, of a lead colour, the one new the other half worn, tolerable good shoes and stockings. Pat has every day clothing, and her children wore home-made linen and lining, her other clothing not to be well known; it is uncertain which course they may take, as William is such an experienced coaster.

Any person or persons apprehending said Negroes or founding them, so that their master may get them again, shall be entitled to the above reward, or in proportion for either of them, that is to say, 40 dollars for each of the fellows, and twenty dollars for the wench and children, and if brought home, all reasonable charges paid by
