

By this Day's Mail.

SALEM, April 12.
On Tuesday arrived here the brig Eliza, Capt. John Carlton, from Corunna, which he left the 25th Feb. Left there the ship Belvidere, Frankford, Philadelphia, to sail in 10 days, destination unknown; brig Good Hope, Neal, of Salem, cargo on third landed, to sail for the Havanna in about 4 weeks; brig Brothers, Brown, Boston, part of her cargo landed, destination unknown.—Jan 22, sloop Hannah, Barker, of Marblehead, sailed from Corunna for Lisbon.—From Jan. 10 to 20, five American vessels were carried into Corunna as prizes, and condemned by the French consul, viz. the Pacific, Kennedy, from London for Charleston; the Aurora, from Savannah for London; the Sarah, from New-York for London; the Republican, from Baltimore for England; the Eagle, from New Bedford for Leghorn. They had no articles but American produce on board, and their papers were perfectly clear.—Feb. 15. La Penitente, frigate of 44 guns, arrived from Guadalupe, on board of which was Victor Hugo; eleven days after this ship failed, they had a very heavy gale of wind, in which they threw over all their guns, yards and topmasts, and could scarce keep the ship above water: after the arrived at Corunna, a large number of Spaniards were put on board to keep her from sinking. Victor set out for France the 20th by way of Madrid. It was said he carried immense riches with him from Guadalupe. The Bellegarde, 16 gun ship, sailed the 23d Feb. on a cruise, and the Mars, of 22 guns, the next day: and four French privateers remained at Corunna.

Feo. 28 lat. 44° 25', long. 16°, fell in with the ship Flying Fish, of Bayonne, mounting 16 guns; went on board, and saw there one English captain that had been taken, the mate and 4 seamen belonging to the brig Betsey, Wyer, of New York, taken on her passage from New York for St. Sebastian's, the captain and boy being sent in the brig to St. Andrew's. Took on board the above mate and seamen, by request of the French captain. Carlton's vessel being in ballast, did not think her worth making a prize of—March 31, lat. 42° 18', long 57° 30', spoke brig Two Sisters, Pinkham, from New York for Londonderry, 9 days out.

BALTIMORE, April 17.
Arrived this morning, brig George, capt. Higgins, 35 days from Cowes.

We have been favored with papers bro't by the George, of the 1st and 2d March, but find in them nothing entitled to attention. We are promised some papers of anterior dates, when we hope to be able to lay before our readers a regular chain of intelligence, from the dates before received.

The Cork fleet were to sail under convoy for America, the 16th of March. A fleet of 10 sail of armed Americans, for different ports, but none for this, were to leave the Downs the 5th March, the day after capt. H. left Cowes under convoy of the ship Connecticut, of 20 guns, of Philadelphia.

The Morning Herald of the first March, mentions the arrival of the Ann, Johnson, of this port, at Dover.

The Morning Chronicle of the 2d March contains nothing but parliamentary debates on local subjects, and bitter complaints for being locked up from the news of the continent, by frozen rivers and the non-arrival of the Hamburg mail, for a long time.

The news of Loring's inflicting treatment of our flag had been received in London, and had excited much sensibility; and it was confidently asserted he would be broke.

NEW-YORK, April 18.
We are sorry to state, that the authority of a letter from the Savannah, dated the 4th ult. to a respectable merchant in this city, that the ship Ocean, Capt. Kemp, from this port to Havana, after a severe engagement with two French Privateers, fell into their possession—and that the Captain, and all the crew, except four, were inhumanly put to death, after she was taken by these monstrous savages. [We took considerable pains to get a sight of the letter, but could not.]

Yesterday afternoon arrived here from Laguira, the ship Washington captain Packwood, who brought out 11 of the Cleopatra's seamen, lately captured by a French privateer.

On her passage, exchanged a shot or two with a French privateer; but the weight of Washington's metal, induced her to sheer off.

A gentleman on board the Washington informs us, that a salute was fired by all the armed American vessels at Laguira, on the receipt of Commodore Truxton's victory.

We were yesterday favoured with several files of London papers to the 9th of Feb., brought by the British Packet Weymouth, from Falmouth, and the Fair American, 44 days from Portsmouth. Extracts will be found in the preceding columns of this day's paper, and will be continued to morrow.

MORE WAR!
Extract of a letter from Alicante, to a respectable house in Boston, dated Jan. 7, 1799.

"The Algerines have become very numerous in these seas, and are very strict since their declaration of war against the French; the Consul, merchants, and all French people of every description in Algiers, were put into chains, and are kept at work as captives. On Christmas day six Algerine corsairs sailed with orders from the Dey to capture all French vessels they may meet; and he has sent a party to surprise a factory, the French have established on the coast for the coral fishery, and bring them all in chains to Algiers. All this in consequence of the Grand Seignior's request, made by his Ambassador arrived at Algiers, 20th Dec. The Tunisians also, in obedience to the Grand Seignior's desire, have engaged to act with the Algerines; and the Dey has sent to the government of Tunis to have all the French secured in that place, which at present are about 250; they will all be made slaves, and it is presumed the Tripolitan will also declare war against the French, and that Morocco will follow their example. This news has just arrived by express, two days from Algiers, sent by consul O'Brien to consul Montgomery."

General Cuyler goes out Commander in Chief to Portugal. Major Gen. Taleton is to command the cavalry.

From a London paper of Feb. 5.
General Maitland, accompanied by Colonel Grant, have set out on their appointments, the first, it is said, to succeed Lord Barracca as Governor of Jamaica, and the other to be the British Resident in St. Domingo. They are certainly the two men best qualified for the important stations, for it is only by a perfect co-operation between the commander of Jamaica and our agent at St. Domingo, that the advantages flowing from a treaty with Toussaint can be secured. The vigorous skill, activity of General give the Maitland best chance of success in that important quarter of the world, and the appointment does credit to its advisers.

It is reported on the Continent that one of the motives which constantly induces the King of Prussia to refuse entering into the new coalition is, the belief that Austria only waits for the moment when he shall be at war with France, in order to make her peace with that power upon any terms, and to leave Prussia alone in the contest.

[Lou. Pap.]

From a Liverpool paper of Jan. 3.
The Factor, late Kämpf, from New York, arrived here on Saturday—on the passage fell in with a French privateer, of 22 guns, who ordered the Americans to come on board, and bring his slaves which he compelled with; whilst on board the Frenchman a gale of wind coming on, the Factor (in which was the owner) immediately made fast, and in spite of every effort of the enemy, outwitted him, and made his escape.

We have strong reason to believe, the privateer has since been captured, as several American letters have arrived here by way of Plymouth, on which was written "per ship Factor."

(From the Paris Journals.)

BERLIN, Jan. 5.
The public papers have exaggerated the warlike preparations in the Prussian states, and the march of the troops. The garrison of Wefel has been reinforced with a battalion, and that of Han with two; but after erecting three batteries in the front of the Isle of Buderich, the works which were carrying on there have ceased. No movement is made by the army of demarcation; and though some dispositions have been ordered which seemed to announce the march of 60,000 men, their execution has been so slow and the inclination of this Cabinet towards peace so marked, that every thing indicates it will not change its system.

SEMLIN, Jan. 1.
It appears to be certain that Passau Oglou is at length in possession of Wallachia, and he is making preparations to attack Bulgaria. The Russian Minister has received intelligence that two Russian frigates have been wrecked in the Black Sea, near one of the mouths of the Danube. Rear Admiral Afzing has perished, and of both crews only eight have escaped death.

Specimen of SUBLIMITY SUBLIMATED.
The plenilunular orb had just emerged from the cerulean abyss of the expansive ocean. The mild radiance of her beams resplendent, gambled eccentric on the verge of the horizon, suffusing ineffable tranquility through the love-lorn breast of the contemplative philosophic philanthropist. The dimpled surface of a capacious reservoir of aquatic particles, gently agitated by aromatic nocturnal zephyrs, reflected the placid rays of NIGHT'S BEAUTEOUS REGENT. The tremulous undulations, resplendently luciferous, illumined by Cynthia's emanations, surpassed the scintillating coruscations which gaily gilded the gorgeous gems, so glaring at Golconda. What raptures! what thrilled the glowing bosom of the amorous Alfonso, when through the attenuated, semiluminated, intervening, verdurous foliage, the celestial semblance of lovely Lauretta arrested attention! the perlel Goddes, in a most fascinating attitude, of delicate demideclinatio, fat secluded beneath the frondiferous opacity, where pliant woodbine, romantically variegated, with a multifarious diversity of circumrotative and curvilinear ramifications, most delectably mantled the vivid circumference of a beautiful alcove. Would you form an idea of lovely Lauretta?

Recollect the gay tints, of the cloud dapp'd morn, THE FLAME CINCTURED, MULTING' morn in the sky;

When bright burn'd beauties creation adored—THEY ARE ALL ONE DULL BLANK, WHEN COMPARED TO HER EYE.

Go, gaze at the charms of thi Goddes complete, From the sole of her head, to the crown of her feet, For a primary lesson, thy doubts would take her, And (wear HEAVN' WASH UNMAO'D FOR MATTER TO MAKE HER.)

Oft had the enamoured Alfonso, smitten by the arrows of chubby fac'd cupid, secretly heard the poignant unavailing sigh of lurid anguish. Oft had his plaintively languishing strains harmonic taught solitary woodlands, to reverb lymphonious echoes, in unison, sweetly responsive, to the wild, melodious, warbling, rhapsodical carols of love! The Goddes of hope, though often delusive, yet flattering ever, now ventured to prompt the faded heart fawn, to amicariate to the divinely amiable object of his fondest wishes, what thrilling sensations of rapturous love extatic, glowed intensely ardent in the abruse recesses, of his palpitating breast, convulsively fluctuating, with ceaseless solicitude! still did hesitating timidity, approximating murky despondency, with the frigorous hand of pallid anxiety impale the ferrugineous shackles of that soul damping indifference, which precludes any origin to amorous utterance!

Just Published,
And now to be Sold, by

ZACHARIAH POULSON, jun.

at his Printing Office,

106, Chestnut-street, Philadelphia;

Also to be had at the Philadelphia Library,

AND OF

JOSEPH & JAMES CRUKEHANK,

Booksellers, Market-street.

The History of Pennsylvania,

BY ROBERT PROUD,

In two octavo volumes.

A work entirely new, original, and highly interesting; embellished with a Portrait of the head of WILLIAM PENN, and a new Map of Pennsylvania, New-Jersey, Maryland, and the State of Delaware, and parts adjacent.

In this publication are exhibited the remarkable rife, happy progress, and extraordinary prosperity of that province, till near the time of the declaration of the United States of America; effected by such uncommon and pacific measures singular, just and prudent policy, as appear nowhere in the history of nations, to have generally, and so extensively prevailed—in any other country, to an equal degree of advancement, importance, and felicity of the people, and is generally to have excited the admiration of all observerses in the flourishing and happy state of the Province of Pennsylvania;—proper to be known and remembered by all those, who wish to be informed in the extraordinary migration of this country, and in the means of rendering the inhabitants so happy and prosperous in former time; as well as an egregious example for poverty and surrounding states to imitate and improve upon, &c.

"Hoc opus, hoc studium, parvi proponemus et amplius;

Sicut patrum, si nobis vivere cari" Hor.

In deeds like these, let all themselves approve,

Who seek their proper bits, and country's love.

Note.—The subscribers for this work are particularly desired to call, or send for their respective copies, or to direct their friends, in, or near Phi-adelphia, to receive the same for them, at either of the two places first above mentioned. And all persons holding subscription papers, are earnestly requested to return the same, as soon as possible, to ZACHARIAH POULSON, jun. aforesaid.

April 12. 22 w 3 w

Letters for the Troops under the command of GENERAL MACPHERSON, if

eft at the War-Office, will be forwarded.

April 5, 1799.

22 w 3 w

The Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA,

FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 19.

The English article, contained in this day's Gazette, affecting the capture of the Fox and Orpheus, frigates, is false—the former of those vessels having been left by the Delaware, together with the Vestal and a ship of the line, at Canton.

From Northampton.

The army marched in perfect health on Wednesday morning, 5 o'clock, from Allen Town for Greenmeier's, near the Blue Mountains, in Lynn township, Northampton. Some persons in Penn township were to be apprehended, which induced the General to approach the Mountains. As no evidence of hostility or violence was apprehended, it is believed that the bushmen will be soon accomplished there. After which, it is hoped, the troops will return by way of Hamburg, through Berks county; many parts of that county having noticed a ferocious temper, though it has not arrived at the disgraceful crisis exhibited in Northampton.

It is probable the army will return through Reading, and visit some disturbed parts of Bucks and Montgomery in their march home, where they will arrive in all probability the middle or latter end of next week. We are informed by a gentleman who has been continually with the troops, that their conduct has not only been irreproachable, but remarkable for discipline and good order through the whole course of their march. It appears that the violence of the detached people of that country is completely subdued, and many of them begin to be sensible of their error; though too many are in a state of infidelity which time only and the punishment of the most atrocious offenders, at least, will remove.

The ship Connecticut, arrived at this port from London, has brought 127 chests of stands of arms, and 80 heavy cannon, on government account.

The ship Amiable, of this port, stated to have been on shore, on the coast of England is safe arrived at London.

From the Columbian Mirror.

Brigadier General Stevens Thomson Mason having calumniated me, and having since refuted me the satisfaction of a Gentleman, I hereby declare him to be an infamous Coward and Liar.

THOS. BLACKBURN, Jun.

April 16.

From the VERGNEZEN GAZETTE.

A SPECIMEN OF SUBLIMITY SUBLIMATED.

The plenilunular orb had just emerged from the cerulean abyss of the expansive ocean. The mild radiance of her beams resplendent, gambled eccentric on the verge of the horizon, suffusing ineffable tranquility through the love-lorn breast of the contemplative philosophic philanthropist. The dimpled surface of a capacious reservoir of aquatic particles, gently agitated by aromatic nocturnal zephyrs, reflected the placid rays of NIGHT'S BEAUTEOUS REGENT. The tremulous undulations, resplendently luciferous, illumined by Cynthia's emanations, surpassed the scintillating coruscations which gaily gilded the gorgeous gems, so glaring at Golconda. What raptures! what thrilled the glowing bosom of the amorous Alfonso, when through the attenuated, semiluminated, intervening, verdurous foliage, the celestial semblance of lovely Lauretta arrested attention! the perlel Goddes, in a most fascinating attitude, of delicate demideclinatio, fat secluded beneath the frondiferous opacity, where pliant woodbine, romantically variegated, with a multifarious diversity of circumrotative and curvilinear ramifications, most delectably mantled the vivid circumference of a beautiful alcove. Would you form an idea of lovely Lauretta?

Recollect the gay tints, of the cloud dapp'd morn, THE FLAME CINCTURED, MULTING' morn in the sky;

When bright burn'd beauties creation adored—THEY ARE ALL ONE DULL BLANK, WHEN COMPARED TO HER EYE.

Go, gaze at the charms of thi Goddes complete, From the sole of her head, to the crown of her feet, For a primary lesson, thy doubts would take her, And (wear HEAVN' WASH UNMAO'D FOR MATTER TO MAKE HER.)

Oft had the enamoured Alfonso, smitten by the arrows of chubby fac'd cupid, secretly heard the poignant unavailing sigh of lurid anguish. Oft had his plaintively languishing strains harmonic taught solitary woodlands, to reverb lymphonious echoes, in unison, sweetly responsive, to the wild, melodious, warbling, rhapsodical carols of love! The Goddes of hope, though often delusive, yet flattering ever, now ventured to prompt the faded heart fawn, to amicariate to the divinely amiable object of his fondest wishes, what thrilling sensations of rapturous love extatic, glowed intensely ardent in the abruse recesses, of his palpitating breast, convulsively fluctuating, with ceaseless solicitude! still did hesitating timidity, approximating murky despondency, with the frigorous hand of pallid anxiety impale the ferrugineous shackles of that soul damping indifference, which precludes any origin to amorous utterance!

Oft had the enamoured Alfonso, smitten by the arrows of chubby fac'd cupid, secretly heard the poignant unavailing sigh of lurid anguish. Oft had his plaintively languishing strains harmonic taught solitary woodlands, to reverb lymph