

GERMANY.

Letter from the French minister Alquier to Baron Humboldt, dated Munich, February 12, 1799.

M. BARON, I am informed, that on the 22d instant, (Feb. 10,) Mr. Pagen, the King of England's Minister, said to the Circle, at the Court of his Electoral Highness, "That he had it for certain, that Citizen Trouve was employed by order of the Directory of France in revolutionizing the States of the Duke of Wirtemberg; that I corresponded upon the subject with the Minister; and that in concert with him, I was labouring to excite troubles in Bavaria."

STRASBURG, March 5. Jourdan's head quarters were yesterday moved from Gengenbach to Lischlach. The left wing marched by the Knuchis into the country of Wurtemberg; the center by the valley of Kintzig, to Villingen, Rothweil, and from thence towards the Danube.

PARIS, March 11. Accounts from hence, of the 16th ult. state that M. Mocenigo, the Russian Minister at the Court of the Grand Duke, had notified to that Government that the Emperor Paul I had engaged to succour the King of Naples, and to furnish him with the means of rescinding his Throne.

LONDON, March 26. It is a remarkable, but a pleasant truth, that out of 1103 children last year in Christ's Hospital, only eleven died. The Oxfordshire militia are on their route from Colchester barracks for Portsmouth, where they are to embark for Ireland.

how considered of accommodating himself to the approaching change, of making his peace with the advocates of Republicanism, and providing for his own safety. And such is the appearance which the governing and active party can give to the public opinion, that a few hours seemed to have changed the people of Naples from devoted Royalists, to furious Republicans.

From papers brought by the Venus, arrived at Boston from Liverpool.

STRASBURG, March 9. The Austrian army, under Prince Charles, is in active movement. Nine battalions have already passed the Lech. The 6th, his head-quarters was at Augsburg, [in Suabia.] The head-quarters of Gen. Jourdan, were the 8th, at Bidigen, on the Danube, [about 20 leagues from Prince Charles' head-quarters.]

Gen. St. Cyr, who commands the left of Jourdan's army, has advanced a column to Tubingen, [in the Duchy of Wirtemberg, about 25 leagues from Augsburg.] Jourdan has between 40 and 50,000 men; one third levies. Bernadotte has 20,000.

March 10. The Austrian army continues to cross the Lech, advancing towards ours. The front of the Austrian line may be known by drawing a line from Wurtzburg, in Franconia, to the Lake Constance, through Ulm, Mindelheim, and Kempton. The advance of the French, at this time, may be seen, by a line from Schaffhausen, in Switzerland, to Mannheim on the Rhine. [The distance, generally, from 20 to 30 leagues.]

March 12. Jourdan's centre is at Moeskirch. The left wing will not (in consequence of the occurrences in Switzerland) march through Tubingen, as was first ordered. It will march towards Switzerland.

The Helvetic troops are advancing towards the Empire. Massena's head-quarters are between Zurich and St. Gall, [in Switzerland]; the left of his army is at Lake Constance; the right in the Grison country, extending near ten leagues.

THE AUSTRIAN ARMY. In Batavia numbers 115,000 men, independent of the Russian columns which are advancing; 80,000 are in advance of the Lech. They are represented in fine order, and are animated with the best dispositions.

LONDON, March 23. On the 21st a squadron of six sail of the line, left Yarmouth, for the coast of Holland.

RATISBON, March 10. The votes of the Diet of the Empire, on the subject of the march of the Russian troops, are in decided opposition to the wishes of the French.

PHILADELPHIA, THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 23. THE undersigned Secretary of State of his Britannic Majesty has received his Majesty's commands to acquaint Mr. King, Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States of America, that the King, judging it expedient to avail himself of the superiority of his Naval Forces for the defence of his dominions, has signified his commands to the Lord's Commissioners of the Admiralty, to cause the most rigorous blockade to be established at the entrance of all the ports of Holland, which will be maintained and enforced in the strictest manner, according to the usages of war, acknowledged and observed in similar cases.

BOSTON, May 18. Ireland will again become an object of attention. All the energies of the British and Irish Governments were in operation to defend it against external invasion; and to eradicate every fibre of internal rebellion.

From Havanna. The British fleet has left the blockade of this port; and the galleons arrived a few days after from Vera Cruz with an immense quantity of dollars. A money fleet has sailed from Spain.

A bill passed the British Parliament for preventing the exportation of copper; as the Admiralty found it difficult to procure that article for the ship yards.—In the last six months it rose 20 per cent. in price.

Samuel Snow, Esq. Consul of the United States, at Canton, has arrived there.

We learn that the Boston frigate will be launched on Monday next, if foul weather should not intervene.

The Intelligence of the capture of the Insurgente, was received with the greatest pleasure in England.

IMPORTANT! BALTIMORE, May 21.

A letter from a gentleman in Norfolk, dated May 17, to his friend in this city, received yesterday, contains the following IMPORTANT INFORMATION: The ship Mary-Ann, mounting 16 guns, and manned with 51 hands, arrived here yesterday from the river La Plata; she was furnished with a letter of marque, and 7 days since in the Gulf Stream, was engaged by a French brig of 10 guns and 117 men all mulattoes and negroes, except the first lieutenant, who is an American, a native of Barnstable in Massachusetts. The engagement lasted two hours, during which nine Americans were killed and wounded, and 17 of the negroes. At length the Mary-Ann got so completely athwart her bows, that every shot raked her fore and aft, when the tri-colored flag was hauled down and she yielded to the superior bravery of American seamen.

After taking possession of her, she proved to be Le Generoux, of Guadaloupe; but contrary to all other privateers, was deeply loaded with guns, pistols, daggers, flints, cutlasses, and all other military stores and implements. The captain of the Mary-Ann took out what men he could stow, and put the rest in irons, of which he found plenty in the prize; he also put 21 men on board her, and ordered her for the first port in the United States which she could make.

PHILADELPHIA, THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 23.

THE undersigned Secretary of State of his Britannic Majesty has received his Majesty's commands to acquaint Mr. King, Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States of America, that the King, judging it expedient to avail himself of the superiority of his Naval Forces for the defence of his dominions, has signified his commands to the Lord's Commissioners of the Admiralty, to cause the most rigorous blockade to be established at the entrance of all the ports of Holland, which will be maintained and enforced in the strictest manner, according to the usages of war, acknowledged and observed in similar cases.

Mr. King is therefore requested to apprise the American Consuls and Merchants residing in England, that the above mentioned ports of the United Provinces are, and must be considered as being in a state of blockade, and that from this time no neutral vessel can be suffered to enter them upon any consideration, or under any pretence whatsoever; and that all the measures authorized by the law of nations, and the respective treaties between his Majesty, and the different neutral powers, will henceforth be adopted and executed, with respect to vessels destined for the said ports, or such as shall attempt to enter them after this notice.

JACOB WAGNER, Ch. Clk.

By a letter from Havanna, dated the 10th of May, advice is received of a new Governor having arrived at the other side of the island, from Spain, and that he was expected there on the 12th—that the change was quite unexpected, and had very much surprised the inhabitants, as the old Governor's time was not expired.

The same letter advises, the actual prices of sugars to be 9 dollars for brown and 11 for white—and that flour was down to 10 dollars per barrel; beef and pork 5 and 10 per barrel, and parcels shipped back to America. No kind of goods in demand, and money not to be got for any thing.

COMMUNICATION.

IN the Aurora of yesterday the faction, of which that paper is the organ, are expressly called upon to associate themselves in the military corps, not for the purpose of defending their country from foreign invasion; not with a view to support their government against the machinations of domestic traitors but avowedly in order to act against the Friends of Government. Under the authority of Duane himself, it is stated that to accomplish this object, considerable accessions of strength have already been made to the Militia Companies; and that a band of Jacobins mount guard every evening at his office. By the same paper it appears that "Committees of Arrangement, as they are called, for the City, Northern Liberties, and Southwark" meet at the same place. Thus it appears that all their separate plans are formed, their means collecting; and their forces nearly organized. That their confidence in their own power has greatly increased is made evident by this desperate avowal of their bloody intentions. Heretofore indeed these men have existed, though their real views have been concealed under the cloak of a desire to operate against the common enemy; but now in the fulness of their audacity they boldly proclaim the end they have always really aimed at. To oppose so formidable a phalanx of perfidy and iniquity, what are our means, our preparations or resources. Are we tamely to submit to the dagger and the bayonet, without even an attempt at resistance? Are we to wait until bound hand and foot, before we even endeavour to exert ourselves? Are we individually content to be marked out for future revenge and slaughtered without even wishing to pare the nails or to cut off the claws of this daring Banditti.

The Irish Rebellion has been nearly quelled. How? Not by suffering the rebels to mature their schemes in safety; but by hunting them from their kennels and forcing them to resistance, before the moment of their readiness. The allusion is obvious and the example ought to be profitable.

Duane says that during the horse-whipping he received the other day the "people who stood looking with dumb astonishment were heard to murmur aloud!! Will this blundering bull maker again tell us he is an American?"

The same paddy whack says that as he was "lying senseless" he received a kick.—It senseless lying is to be his security he has an indurmountable rampart to defend him.

The Merchants and Underwriters of Lloyd's Coffee House, London, have agreed to present a superb piece of Plate to Capt. TRUXTON, for his gallant conduct in the capture of the French frigate, Insurgente.

Capt. James Allen from Havanna, sailed from thence the 11th inst. in the evening, in company with an armed ship of 18 guns and 50 men, for Charleston, brig Franklin, Morris, of Philadelphia, for Vera Cruz, and schr Minerva, Davidson, of and for Philadelphia. May 12, saw a brig near the Florida shore, appear in distress, with two small vessels assisting her, the wind and sea being on shore, could not learn her name. 18th was chased by a frigate for 7 or 8 hours; and was finally, after several shots, obliged to heave too; was boarded and informed the frigate was the United States. I observed she had decreased much since I saw her in the Delaware. However, a schooner coming up, they fired a gun, hoisted English colors and boarded her—after examining my papers and pressing me to receive some Spanish prisoners, which I refused, they wished me a good passage, and dismissed me. I left them examining the other schooner, in lat. 29, 49, long. 70, 30.

Capt. Allen has forwarded from the fort the following very correct list of vessels at Havana, for which he merits the thanks of the public.
