my of Naples, it is in confequence of the fo-lenin engagement into which it has entered, to die for your cause, and to make no other use of its arms than to maintain your independence, and to preferve your rights, which it has vindicated. Let the people therefore, be assured of the full enjoyment of their religion, and cease to be alarmed with respect to the rights of property! The force of interests has maintained the tyrants in great exertions which they have made to calumniate in the eyes of the world, the integrity, and good faith of the French nation; but to a nation fo generous, a few days are fufficient to dwest credulous men of the odious prejudites to which tyranny has recourse to incite them to deplorable excesses.

The organization of plunder and affaffination projected by your last king, and executed by his corrupt agents, as a means of defence, has produced the most dreadful and horrible confequences; but in removing the cause of the evil, it will be easy to check the effects, and to repair even the fatal mifchiefs which it has produced. Let the republican authorities which are about to be established reflore order and tranquility on the bahs of paternal admirifration; let them diffipate the idle charms of ignorance, and appeale the fury of fanaticitm with a zeal equal to that which has been employed by perfidy to increase them; in a short time the severity of discipline, which re-chablishes with so much faculty order among the troops of a free people, will not delay to put a period to the diforders produced by hatred, and which have been with difficulty represed."

(Signed) "CHAMPIONNET." mander in Chief of the army of Naples. Naples, June 24.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

THE KING T VINT AND OTHERS.

This was an information filed en-officio, by his majesty's attorney general, at the inflance of his excellency the Russian ambassador, against the proprietor, printer, and publisher of the evening paper called The Courier, for a libel, which appeared in November last, tending to villify and bring into reproach the character of his imperial ma-jefly the Emperor of Russia, and to excuse and promote a war between this country and

The libel was in form of a paragraph, and was copied from a country paper. It stated among other things, that the Emperor of Rusha had rendered himfelf obnoxious to his fubjects by various acts of tyranny, and by his inconfistency had made himself ridiculous in the eyes of Europe.

The Attorney General selt it his duty to call the ferious attention of the jury to the libel in question, which he had brought before them, by command of the ambaffador of a great and illustrious monarch, whose political character had been impudently and wickedly calumniated. It became the justice and dignity of this country to vindicate his imperial majefly against these defamatory afpertions by a public profecution. It was evidently the design of the authors of this and other libels of a similar complexion to diffolve the political relations at prefent sub-tifling between this kingdom and other counprovoke a fpirit of hostility against each other. The attorney general then noticed the various political paragraphs which occupied the appeared to him to be fabricated with the malicious and feditious design to libel all the monarchs in Europe, for no other reason than because they were kings and enperors. He made a variety of other remarks, and concluded by referring the libellous paragraph to the jury, for them to decide whether it was considered. er it was, or was not, a wicked, malicious, and feditions libel.

The fact of the publication of the libel was then proved.

Mr. Erskine addressed the jury, as counfel for the desendant, in a very able speech.

The Attorney General replied.

Lord Kenyon was clearly of opinion that this paragraph was a gross and abominable libel on a very great and illustrious monarch whose honor and character it was highly incumbent on this country to vindicate against the charges contained in this libel.

The jury withdrew for about three quarters of an hour, and on their return pro-nounced the defendants—Guilty.

Agreeable to an act of Parliament passed the 24th, Geo. II. ann. 1751, the year of our Lord, 1800 will not be reckoned a Biffextile or Leap Year, but will be computed a common year, confisting of 365 days and no more: and that in confequence thereof. the month of February next to come wil confiit of 28 days only, making thereby a difference of 12 days between the old and new files; which difference of the 2 files will continue the fame throughout the whole of the 19th century, in order that the vernal or fpring equinox may be fixed, on or near the 21st day of March yearly, as it happened at the time of the General Council of Nice,

His Prullian majefty is faid to have been much exaferrated by the furrender of Ehrenbreitstem; and it is reported, a request has been made for 45,000 Rushan troops to pass through his territory to the attack of Holland. This makes the whole number of Rushian troops marching against Erance amount to 113,000. If their facts be true, we may see a very formidable coalition against the Republic, and a war the most terrible, in its immediate effects, of any yet witnessed in the world.

BOSTON, May 24

The tenewal of war os the European continent, whatever may be its termination, is a fact, which through some have effected to doubt, is now fully established. The charge d'affairs of the French Republic to the German Diet, has been compelled to return to France; and his Imperial Majelty, has published a manifesto, in which he charges he French with perfidy and aggression, justifies himself to the world, and calls upon the States of the Empire to unite with him in measures of mutual security.

There is no doubt, from a veriety of intelligence, that the Torks, the Ruffians, the Germans and the English will combine in one great effort to restore the kingdom of Naples to its fovereign.

Capt. Samuel Nicholson, of the Con-Mitution frigate, is appointed to command a 74 gun ship—which is to be immediately commenced in this town, and to be built with all speed.

We understood, that St. Andrews Lodge,

The preclamation published by general Dueline, on his entering the Abruzzoes, com hefine, on his entering the Abruzzoes, combines in a firiking manner the traits of falfe liberty, perfidy and hypocrify which have marked all the productions iffued by the agents of the Directory during the war. It is peculiarly remarkable for containing a most unequivocal and formal declaration of war against all existing governments whatever, and this declaration is announced in the following language.

"The king of Naples in violating the most facred treaties, has dared to rouse the slumbering Lion. God who judges kings, has had pity on our miseries. He imagined he could resist the Great Nation, and change the order of the Supreme Arbiter of Empires who has chosen the French people to renew the furface of the Globe, disfigured by the crimes of governments, and to establish upon it the reign of that Liberty and Equality to which he has destined men."

COMMUNICATION.

A small Daily Paper has lately been started in Baltimore, under the title of "The American and Daily Advention," by a Mr. Martin, in connection with Mr. James Carey, late of Philadelphia. Its politics are those of the Argus and Aurora. Finding after a few days trial, that it was not likely to get much of advertifing enflow of the federal city of Baltimore, they at length very modefly inform the citizens that one of them, or a person employed for that purpose will canvass the city and beg their support! It is so be hoped that even this unmanly and degrading conduct will not insure the success of a paper professedly inimical to the government. Those printers must have formed an erroneous opinion of the citizens of Bal timore, or they would at least concealed their real sentiments; for it is very evident that the generofity of the Merchantile part of Bal-timore, as well as New Tork, would not withhold their patronage from men who came forward even with the profession of being OPEN TO ALL PARTIES, but INFLUEN CED by NONE, though the motto in itself is ridiculous in the extreme, as it is never adhered to.
