A POETICAL EPISTLE TO THE AUTHOR

By an American Gentleman.

[In introducing this celebrated work to the Gentlemen and Ladies of America, I have endeavored to give it a dress proportioned to its diffinguished merit, and to the tale-of those for whose amusement and delight it is intended. No expense has been spared in the publication; and I flatter myself that the work does not yield, either in paper or print, to any one ever published in America.—

This edition has an advantage over some former ones, as it contains by way of notes, the minor productions of the author; and, it has an advantage over every other edition, in the Poetical Epistle, which is prefixed to it, and which must be extremely granifying to every lover of literature in this country, as it is a proof that there are Americans who have the taste to admize, the justice to appland, and the talents to rival the Geniuses of other nations.

The Swift-Sure, A NEW LINE OF STAGES,

field and Newark.

THE excellence of this road, the populoufness of the country through which it paffes, with fundry other advantages, which render it so far preferable to the Old Road through Bristol, Brunswick, &c. long ago suggested the propriety of its becoming the Grand Thorough-Fare from Philadelphia to New York. During the present year, a minute survey of it has been taken, and its superiority over the Old Road, both in winter and summer, has been clearly ascertained.—There are good bridges over all the other waters but the Delaware, and here the crossing is performed with great safety and in less than half the time required at the Trenton Ferry. The road is several miles shorter than the old road, but this is among at the least of its advantages, because daily experience proves to us, that dispatch as well as comfort in travelling principally depend on the goodness of the road and the leveluess of the country, and, in these respects, the New Road is, beyond all comparison, the best. It presents none of those rocky hills, which render the Old Road so statiguing between the Delaware and Newark. The soil, too, for the greater part, is such as to produce but little mud in winter, and very little off in summer, which circ unstance, added to the beauty of the country, and a considerable propertion of shade, must always render travelling in the latter season petuliarly agreeable.

care has bren taken to fix on fuch places and taverns as always afford a good accommodation and entertainment for the passengers at the mest reasonable rates. The stages are well equipped furnished with seet and steady horses, and committed to the care of intelligent fober and obli-ging drivers. The proprietors themfelves live at the different towns and villages what the flages will flop, fo that the conduct of the perfons they employ is continually an object of their attention. They take care also to see that the paffengers are well provided for and politely treated at the taverns, and that no fort of chicathere is practifed upon them; in their locations on the thort, they have spared neither pains nor expense to render the SWIFT-SURE the very best line registered warrants.

The line has now run nearly a month, dur-ing which time a great number of gentlemen have gone through, both from Philadelphia and New York.
