

The Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA, TUESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 28.

The Amiable Matilda had an action in the British Channel, with a French privateer.

The Osber Packet has arrived in England, and after landing the Mail, was ordered to Quarantine Ground.

There has been a great alarm about the Plague in London; several persons were reported to have died of that disorder, the latter end of November, in the City. The alarm appears to have been unfounded.

The Sultan Selim has had three more Apoplectic Shocks at Lancaster, since our last Bulletin of Health. A sagacious physician was intimated to us that an apoplectic twinge is to attend the appointment of every villain to office. We leave the intelligent reader to decide, for himself, on the probability of this prediction: we will just remark, en passant, that if old arrears are to be paid up, the citizen Sultan must needs be shortly twinged into the other world.

Duces, late Director, now National Consul, or Triumvir, is one of the greatest villains in all France.

It appears that Buonaparte has ordered the Young Council and the old Council into custody, from which said custody, they must straightway march either to the scaffold or to Cayenne. "Shed blood enough, young man, shed blood enough! How thou charm'st me."

It is a fact not generally known, that Robespierre, the worthy friend, camarade and coadjutor of that execrable and infernal atheistical priest and monster Talleyrand, was the nephew of DANTE, the assassin who attempted the life of Louis XV.

King Buonaparte, the Italian, after having triumphed over the Russians, the Croats, the Danes, and terrible Slavonians; after having, if we may believe his majesty, subdued the Mamelukes and their Beys, caps, at length, the climax of his glory, by triumphing over the magnanimous, invincible, Great Nation itself.

Sic vos non vobis vellera teris oves.

Never were a set of men more egregiously humbled than our profound and knowing Democrats have been by Buonaparte. For the several years they lung unceasing hostility as to his name, as the most invincible and insuperable of Republicans; and lo, he turns out to be a "staunch" Royalist.

Last evening as a gentleman of this city was walking through Moravian alley, he observed a large log with some thing in his mouth which appeared white. He immediately pursued the animal determined to find out what it was, when, to his inexpressible astonishment he found a new-born infant in the jaws of the voracious monster. It was with difficulty he could disengage it and hardly escaped being severely wounded in the attempt. The infant, though not dead, was shockingly mangled in the side. The gentleman conveyed it to the house of a Physician in this city where it died in about two hours after.

A circumstance so awful, must inspire every humane heart with regret at the want of a suitable provision for the unfortunate offspring of illicit intercourse. There can be little doubt that the establishment of a Foundling Hospital might be made the means of preserving hundreds of helpless infants, now victims to an unnatural and more than savage cruelty.

Extract of a letter from captain James Williamson, of the ship Perseverance, of this port, dated

"LISBON, NOV. 2, 1799.

"I have this moment got prolix [a bill of health] and liberty to land, and finding the packet fails early tomorrow morning, have just time to give you a short account of my transactions on the 24th ult.—Scilly bearing N. E. 40 leagues; at day light in the morning, I perceived a large ship standing after us, under easy sail; finding he could come up with us when he pleased, I shortened sail and hove too for him, and got all clear for action. At 10 A. M. he came upon our larboard quarter, hoisted French colors and gave me a gun. I immediately hoisted American colors, and returned it, which commenced a very hot and close action, being within half pistol shot the most of the time. She was frigate built, mounted 24 guns on her deck and 4 on the quarter deck, and was crowded with men; a great number on the upper deck at the small arms. He kept a very hot fire from his gun deck, chiefly directed to disable us in the rigging, in which he completely succeeded, as early in the action my rigging and sails were cut to pieces, so that I had not the least command of the ship, nor could brace a yard about: at the second and third broadsides the most of the carronades overboard, and had but seven guns on that side to engage with, but the well directed and hot fire kept up from them obliged him, after one hour and ten minutes severe action to haul off. He left me so completely a wreck aloft, that I could not let one fail to follow him. I had one man killed and two severely wounded. He hove to about two miles to windward, and was busy employed repairing damages and plugging shot holes: we were likewise all employed about the rigging, but it was so bad that it was with the greatest exertions I could get the fore and main top sails half set. At noon he bore down upon us again, and at one we commenced another very severe action for one hour and a quarter, when he made all sail possible and stood off to the S. E. I fortunately lost no men in the last affair, but received a great deal more damage in the masts and rigging, and some shot through the hull, and we picked up some 18 and 9 pound shot. All my masts and yards are rendered quite unserviceable, the sails cut to pieces, and but very few shrouds left standing. It was with the greatest difficulty I got her in here, and the wind being strong from the N. E. I could not fetch Cork, as my spars would not bear carrying fail upon them; there was ten shot through the main mast alone.

"I am convinced they will condemn all the masts and lower yards, and the whole set of fails and rigging, and I shall be obliged to discharge part of her cargo to get the new masts in; it will be a most difficult and expensive thing here to get masts that will suit her—I shall hurry every thing on as fast as possible, but it will be a most tedious business; they calculate here for two months.

I cannot say enough in praise of my officers and men for their gallant conduct against so superior a force, as I had but 22 guns mounted, and he 28, with three times the number of men. All my crew's distress was that we had no fails to follow him when he went off.

"You may well imagine what chagrin we must have experienced; had I taken the rascal, it would have completed my happiness. Indeed he stands a great chance of going down yet, as he was much shattered in the hull, and must have lost a great many men from our grape shot."

UPWARDS OF Eighteen Thousand Persons Of all ages, within nine months past, have found relief from HAMILTON'S Worm destroying Lozenges,

In various complaints arising from worms and from flatulency or obstructions in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar title so commonly complained of, as operating with a degree of violence, sufficient, not only to kill worms, but sometimes to endanger the patient's life; on the contrary, a peculiar excellence of this remedy is, it being suited to every age and constitution, contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is so mild in its operation, that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady, or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders.

RECENT CURES

Selected from several hundreds, the authenticity of which, any person may ascertain either by letter or personal application—not being performed in Europe, nobody knows where—but at home.

AFFIDAVIT.

MICHAEL DUFFY, residing at No. 47, Wilkes street, Fell's point, in the city of Baltimore, voluntarily maketh oath, that the following statement is just and true.

In the beginning of May last, my three children, a boy of seven, and two girls, the one five and the other three years of age, were taken very ill, nearly at the same time, of a common fever, as I then supposed; but was from convinced the disorder was caused by worms—they were frequently troubled with convulsion fits, and violent flatulencies in their sleep, and with almost continual vomiting and purging, particularly the youngest. I made immediate application to a physician of the first reputation, and his medicines were administered with a confidence of success which only increased our disappointment. The children grew daily worse, and I was absolutely without hopes of their recovery. They ungressed soon appeared almost devoid of animation, and scarcely an inhabitant of this world. In this distressing moment, I was told that Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges had performed many cures in cases equally desperate—I immediately purchased a box, and gave each of them a dose, which in a few hours produced the most desirable effects; the eldest voided a great number of very large worms, and the second thousands of small ones, many of them not a quarter of an inch long—the youngest felt them to be consumed, and had the appearance of skin and of slimy matter. I repeated the dose agreeable to the paper of directions, and they all speedily recovered a good state of health which they still enjoy, tho' five months have nearly elapsed since they were on the borders of the grave, and the death of the whole appeared to be inevitable.

Sworn before me this 26th day of September, 1799. J. SMITH.

LETTER

From Mr. John F. Abercromby, Soap and Candle Manufacturer, No. 28, Bridge Street, Baltimore.

TO THE PROPRIETOR OF Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges.

SIR, I think it my duty to inform you that I have experienced the happiest effects from your Lozenges, having been much afflicted for four years past, with various complaints caused by worms, particularly a constant pain in my stomach and bowels, frequent and severe head ache, with a general lassitude and weakness, during which time I had the best medical advice that could be obtained from the most skilful physicians I could hear of, both American and European, with out any alleviation of my disorder.

I should, too probably, have continued without relief, but for your Worm Destroying Lozenges, which brought from me an astonishing quantity of small white worms, about the size of a coarse thread, and in a short time, I found myself perfectly free from all my former complaints, and have enjoyed a good state of health for five months past.

I have constantly recommended your medicine, and shall as long as I live, having, from my own experience reason to believe it to be an invaluable and unparalleled remedy. Should any person wish for further information, I will with pleasure satisfy their enquiries on this subject. JOHN J. ABERCROMBY.

SIR, July 10, 1799.

I had been a long time afflicted with a violent and gnawing pain in my stomach, a dull, heavy, continual head ache, with a frequent swimming in my head, accompanied with dimness of sight and sometimes partial blindness, and was rendered incapable of attending my business, thro' loss of strength; sometimes could scarcely eat a morsel for two or three days; when my appetite would suddenly become astonishingly voracious. I firmly believed myself to be in a consumption, which must soon put a period to my life when happily hearing of several cures performed by Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges in complaints which could not be accounted for, I took two doses, which expelled an incredible number of small sharp pointed worms; in short, I now enjoy as perfect health and strength, as ever I had in my life, and I believe my cure to be entirely effected by means of your medicine.

My brother witnessing its surprising efficacy was induced to take a dose though in tolerable health, which occasioned him likewise to void a great quantity of worms of the same kind, and thereby probably prevented his experiencing those dreadful disorders with which I was afflicted.

A sincere desire that others in similar circumstance may receive the same benefit, is the reason of my sending you this account.

Yours, very respectfully,

AQUILA GOLDING.

Hartford Road, a miles from Baltimore.

OBSERVE.

Those who wish to avail themselves of the benefits proposed by the above remedy, should be particularly careful as they value their money and their health, to guard against the numerous impositions daily attempted on the public, by applying to Mr. Wm. Y. Birch, Stationer, No. 17, South Second Street, who is appointed the only vender in Philadelphia.—Literae observe that none can be depended on as being genuine, unless the signature of Lee & Co. is pasted on the outside of each.

Purchasers by the dozen or groce will receive a handsome allowance by application to Lee and Co. Market street, Baltimore.
