WATER-OFFICE.

Centre Square, Febeuary 5, 1800. N compliance with the instructions of the Committee for watering the city, and with my own inclinations, every possible admittance and information has been given to those citizens who have visited the Works during their progress. The Engines are now arrived, and are immediately to be put up, and it is hoped that it will be thought reafonable and just, both to the Public, and to the Contractor for the Engines, that the workmen should not be interrupted. As a very few months will fully gratify the curiolity of the citizens, by shewing them the Engines in full operation, a temporary ex-clution of all vilitors from the Engine houses cannot appear improper.

FROM A CORRESPONDENT.

It geght to be remembered that the great object with the antifederalifts now, is the election of Mr. Jefferson as President of the United States, in opposition to Mr. Adams. As to the cause of France, they care no-As to the cause of France, they care nothing about it, any sarther than they can make it subservient to their own views; more especially since the late change in that government, which they confessedly do not understand, although they no doubt teaze the promoters of it with professions of friend-

Notwith flanding the professions of the leaders of the party to the contrary, they bear an implacable hatred to our conflitution, as well as to the measures of the government; and conceive that the only way to effect a change in both, is to get fuch men into power as think with themselves. In this State they succeeded at the late election, owing to lies and falshood on their part, and fupineness on the other, and the confequences are, and will be severely felt.

The antifederalifts may preach up the virtues of their candidate, but the writer of this will confider the day on which they fucceed in their election, as the commence-ment of a revolution. Mr. Jefferson may be a good man, but he is a very bad politician; and would appear more so, when sur-rounded with a host of sycophant democrats. He does not sufficiently reslect, that there is a portion of every community who are opposed to laws and good government, because they are a restraint on licentiousness, and who are made use of by defigning men to promote their own interested views.

MR. FENNO,

The Aurora of this morning contains feveral accounts of a fracas which took place in the house of representatives on the 20th Is recommended as a Medicine of specific and unparalleled virtues for the immediate relief and specify and per manent cure of the above diforders, having stood a trial of many successful years, during which period many thousands of both sexes have been restored from the brink of the grave.

This Baltam is particularly adapted to weak semale constitutions, as well as to phicgmatic habits in general; it acts powerfully as a nervine, not only to the weak stomach, but to the whole nervoos system ! corress a visited appetite and digestion in the first pusages, and assists wonderfully in recovering the tone of the uritary and genital organs:—Hence its efficacy in the most obstinate seminal gleets in unen, and corresponding weaknesses in women; and hence instant. The accounts are given in the form

It is thought that the most car less observer, in strolling the streets, will remark many ladies, whose

It is recommended to the Lay Preacher of Peunfylvania to fermonize against face painting. A cheating, uncleanly and unhealthy practice. He may find an apt text in the back of Genesis. It does not appear that the man of war engaged by Captain Truxton, came out in confequence of any challenge. On the contrary, it appears that the two vellers met by accident; and as the Frenchman first fired upon captain T. the sharge of rasbness fet up by certain persons, falls to the ground.

What think ye of GOVERNOR M. KEAN, now?

In the last paper was published his reply to an address of the Senate of Penosylvania, which, if you have read, I recommend to

Were this declaration of Mr. M'Kean's Were this declaration of Mr. M. Kean's founded in truth it might possibly afford fome apology for his unprecedented conduct, in removing many of the most faithful officers in the commonwealth. But unfortunately for the Governor and his advocates, the fallacy of his affertions in this respect, is clearly demonstrable in every county of

In Chester county Col. Williams Gibbons, a man whose integrity and abilities in office have never been even questioned, and whose virtuous services in "American war" will be remembered with gratitude when Thomas M'Kean shall have ceased to be the Governor of Pennfylvania; this worthy character (who by the bye had not enjoyed the office of Prothonotary more than fix or feven years) was superceded by a youth, who at the commencement of the revolution, was probably unborn—But be it known that this lucky young gentleman is a branch of the wealthy and republican family of the Heislers; of course possessed in at least of equal patriotism and talents? with the veteran Col. Gibbons, and therefore his sagacious Excellency has thought proper to bring him "from retixement into public

Some of you may recollect a little infignificant creature, that had fearcely wit enough to drefs himself, who a few years ago came into this county and followed the law at Allentown, but foon gave over the chate and emigrated hence, nobody knew whither—Yet, strange to tell, this man of "Talents." this great feeluded "Patriot," has been found out in his "retirement," by our omniscient Governor, "brought into the public service, as clerk of the sessions in Cumberland county.

With regard to the propriety of the change which has been in this county, I shall make no remarks; you are all qualified to judge for yourfelves-I will only observe, that if you are diffarisfied with it, you have nothing to reproach these persons with, who opposed the election of his excellency, for These samples of Mr. M'Kean's removals and appointments, will enable you to form a pretty accurate opinion of his excellency's ideas of "Pariotism and Talents," and exhibit also charming specimens of those inestimable blessings which (it was foretold by our scramblers for office) would foretold by our feramblers for office) would abundantly flow from his beneficent admi-
