ple. Sunday forenoon the Ruffian Ambaffador arrived at Portfmouth, where all the Ruffian officers remaining there were introduced to him by Gen. Heffen. His Excellency's errand to Portfmouth, is to enqure particularly into the nature of the diforder that continues to carry off fo many of the troops belonging to his nation. The hofpital flups now appropriated for their ac-commodation are, the Britanta, Pegale, and Portland. We lament to add, that the diffemper is but little or nothing abated. distemper is but little or nothing abated.

It is flated, that in conlequence of orders from his Royal highers the commander in chief, all the volunteer corps in England are to hold themfelves in readinels for actual fervice.

" The commanders in Chief Moreau, "The commanders in Chief Moreau, Maffena and Brune, have addreffed procla-mations to their armies, on the Revolution of the 9th of November, and on the New Conflictuion. Moreau fees in this event, a victory obtained over two factions equally powerfal, and the triumph of liberty and genius fubfituted to the empire of unfkilful-nefs and ignorance. Maffena fees in it the Conflictution of military flate, rewards de-creed to devotion and to courage, an honour-able retreat for the brave men who are maim-ed in the field of honour : affithance for their ed in the field of honour ; affiftance for their families ; the return of happinefs and good order ;---the dawn of profperity to the ar-mics, and the regeneration of the Republic. Brune fees nothing in it but the expulsion of the Emigrants, and the fecurity of the national demefines. All three of them loudly applaed the New Conflitution. Brune praifes Buonaparte, who has in a few days erected a vigorous Government. Moreau pays a fplendid homage to the talents of the three Confuls. All of them promifes peace, and a period to the miferies of the atmy."
