PHILADELPHIA, FRIDAY EVENING, MARCH 28.

Juftum et tenacem propoliti virum, Non civium ardor prava jubencium, Non vultus juftantis tyranni, Mente quatit folida.

There runs a bruit that orders go out from New York by the United States fhip Portfinouth, for the diffuption of any ne-gociation which may have been commenced with the prefent Ruler of France; and that the Pacific Committee are to return home in faid Portfmonth. We wild to be un-durficed as means achieve and is derftood, as merely echoing a public rumor in this inflance. If fo wife, fo neceffary and fo noble a ftep bas been taken, " Troy yet may live."

Commodore Truxton has with unrivalled prowels, obtained for the arms of America, a fecond iplendid triumph. The glory he has acquired, and the ineffimable fervices he has rendered to bis country, do most natur-ally expose him to the fulleft force of democratic calumny and malice. It is to be hoped, therefore, that the dherents to the federal caule, that caule which he has fo amply contributed to refcue from fupinenefs, and re-invigorated into life, will no longer continue their neglect of an enterprizing, and gallant man ; but, by advancing to join him, on that ground he has fo nobly affumed, defpel the vapors of uncertainty, and the mifts of pacification.

" An old officer who was at the fiege of Savannah," is defired to back with his name the affertion he makes concerning the cour-ageous conduct of the Orator of the Human Race, on that occasion.

Of all the various departments of civil economy, the most effential to the well. being of a state, is, unquestionably, that of education. Amongst an enflaved people, indeed, like those of Great Britain, whose indeed, like thole of Great Britain, whole yoke we happily caft off, education can be but of little value; fince the light which it imparts, ferves only to aggravate a man's flavery by imparting to him the knowledge that it is in his power to be free; and thole univerficies of Oxford and Cambridge, and Edinburgh, Dublin, &c. &c. do thus fub ferve no earthly purpole, but to foller de-fervers and fupporters of that miferable flavery, under which they gained all their acquirements. Thus what is given, is al-ways received back in full, and thus a fyf tem of flavery is propagated and prolonged. But in a free country, like ours, its impor-tance is above all estimation. For although it is not neceffary to a man's own peace, that he fhould feed on the delights which are bred in a book, yet it cannot well be imagined how the welfare of a great commuimigined how the weitare of a great commu-nity can be compafied, out by rearing up thro the means of well-ordered universities, or otherwife, men of fenfe and virtue, on whom, in these dark and dreary days of ig-norance and defolation to repose for coun-tel, and rely for our deliverance.

From the North Carolina Minerve. AN ADVICE.

I think, Americans, though paft moments are not to be recalled, paft errors may be re-peated. Have you not daily provocations to war? Let the memory of overfights, by which you have fuffered 'fo much, inftruct you to be more willow to the moch and you to be more vigilant in the prefent dan-ger .- Had your resolutions the virtue to compais what you intend, you would not fee the efforts of the French multiply as they do, and upon every-nor would the be in a condition to outbrave and affront you in The faip Washington, Williamson, from Lifbon, with feveral other veficle, are reporluch a public manner. Proceed, then, to fupport your deliberations with vigour: You have heads capable of advifing what is beft; you have judgment and experience to Schooner Sea Flower, Man, from hence, has arrived at Porto Covelle. differn what is right; and you have power and opportunity to execute what you determine. What time fo proper for action ! What occasion to happy ? And when can you hope for fuch another, if this be neglecied ? Has not the Directory, contrary o all treaties, infulted you both by land and fea ? and ftill continues to ravage ?- Is not the French an implicable enemy? a faithful ally ? the usurper of your rights, to which they have no tile nor pretence? a firanger, a barbarian, a tyrant? and indeed what are they not? In truth, if recovering from in-activity, you would affume the freedom and fpirit of your anceftors; if you would be your own foldiers and your own commanders, no longer confidering your affairs in mercenary hands, the world might, once more, behold you making a figure worthy of Americans. Yes, fellow citizens, you fhould Americans. Tes, tenow citizens, you incuta make it a flanding rule, that no perfon whatever, flould be the better for the pub-lic money, who flould hefitate to employ it for the public fervice. Are you in peace? The public is charged with you fubfiftence. Are you in war, or under a necessity as at this time, to enter into a war? Let your gratitude ublige you to accept, as pay, what you receive in peace, as a mere bounty. And without abolifhing any thing but permicious novelties ; by converting for the future, the funds for the use of the ferviceable, which funds for the ule of the ferviceable, which are fpent upon the unprofitable.—You may be well ferved in your armies; your troops regularly paid; juffice duly adminifiered; the public revenues encreafed; and every member of the commonwealth rendered ufe-ful to his country. This is what prompted me to reprefent to you upon this occafion— May the God of all nations infpire you to determine mone furth meafures as may be determine upon fuch measures as may be most expedient for the public and private good. Then let all as one man, and with one voice fhout: Let us march againff France; let us fight for our liberties; let us conquer or die. A SOLDIER.

Information is received in town from Curracoa, flating, on the authority of a reffel ar-rived there from Lifbon, that the frigate U. States, Commodore Barry, having the com-miffioners on board, had proceeded from theace to fome port in France; the Secreta-ries of the Embaffy having previously depart-ed from Lifbon for Paris.

The letter from Curracoa is faid to be from the American Conful at that port.
