Are we to have War about Oregon!

The givings out from Washington of the course which those who hold the reins of government for the time being intended to pursue in regard to the Oregon question, have excited considerable apprehension in the public mind, of a disturbance of the present peaceful relations existing between the United States and Great Britain; and the question is often asked, 'are we to have war with England?'

For ourselves, we cannot believe that any two nations whose interests are so closely blended as those of the United States and Great Britain, whose interests must be so deeply and seriously affected by such a calamity,—whose people possess so much good sense and sound discretion as do those of both these nations and whose public opinion has such a controlling influence upon their respective rulers, will suffer them to commit such an act of folly.

We are not going to advocate the British claim to any part of Oregon, nor deny our own to the whole of it; but admitting it to be a perfect title, what are we to gain as a nation by a war with England at this time? Shall we establish our title to the country in dispute? Shall we secure exclusive possession of it? In our humble judgment, we shall do neither by a declaration of war. It is well known that both countries have claimed this territory ever since the last war; and that negotiation, upon negotiation has been entered into for the purpose of settling the respective claims of the two countries but with no favorable result; and further that a compromise, a joint occupancy of the country, for the last twenty seven years, has existed by agreement.

Under this arrangement, for many years the British settlers were more numerous than ours but for four or five years past, the tide of emigration from the United States has set across the Rocky Mountains with a constantly increasing strength until it is probable that full one half of the inhabitants are Americans or emigrants from the States. We know that in 1841, the Secretary of the Navy took measures to encourage emigration to Oregon in order to counteract the influence and the power of the British population there, and had the policy adopted been quietly pursued, as it was intended it should be, by the government the Americans would, even by this time have considerably outnumbered, the British settlers; and in ten years more the country would have been ours by possession without a shadow of a quarrel with England in regard to it. Americans going there would have carried with them their love of liberty and attachment to a republican government, and whether they might have chosen to attach themselves to the United States or to have formed an independent government for themselves; it is certain they would never have consented to come under British rule.

Why was not this wise policy continued. Why when we were silently but rapidly getting possession of the territory, need we make a rumpus about it, and talk of using force. Did we suppose that it was easier, or more manly or more wise to seize upon it, than to wait the operation of those silent causes which were sure to place it in our hands, in a short time, without a word of disturbance? Not so, no such reason operated upon those who have stirred up this pool of bitter waters. Their object was to make a little political capital out of the cry. They knew that the masses love the idea of getting territory of aggrandizing the nation by extending its boundaries, and whether the cry which thus won their favor, should lead to a war and the loss of the whole territory, or not, they cared not so it served the purpose of putting the m into power. "Oregon and Texas," whether cabalistic words to lead the masses in 1844. The great object to be gained by those who used them was, not these territories, but the President and the possession of the spoils of offices. The cry is kept up in order to strengthen the powers that be.—U S Gazette.

HOTEL FOR INVALIDS AT PITTSBURGH.

Drs. Speer and Kuhn.

THE object of this establishment is to supply a want greatly felt by respectable travellers on our western highways—by residents, without family, taken sick—and by patients from the surrounding towns and country who resort to this place for relief from surgical and other diseases. Such have often suffered from the want of the various comforts and attentions so necessary and agreeable to the sick, and from careless and unfaithful nurses; and been subjected to heavy and unreasonable charges. Invalids will here be provided with constant, faithful and comfortable attendance, and at a rate much below the usual charges. While the care of both physicians will be extended to every variety of disease, it is intended by Dr. Speer, to give special attention to ALL SURGICAL DISEASES, PARTICULARLY TO DISEASES OF THE EYE. To these branches of his profession he has given a large share of his attention for the last twenty-five years, and he will continue to devote to them the experience acquired by a constant practice during that time. The Hotel for Invalids is not an experiment. Its establishment is suggested not only as necessary to supply an evident want in this city, in the entire absence of any special provision for the sick, but is warranted also by the success of similar institutions at Cincinnati and New Orleans—the former under the care of Drs. Falfafiero, Marshall and Strader—the latter under that of Dr. Stone. The building selected for the purpose is situated at the corner of Federal and Robinson streets, in Allegheny city, adjoining the city of Pittsburgh. It is commodious and roomy, and furnished with all accommodations necessary for the sick. Applications for admission to be made to the subscribers, at their office on Penn street, Pittsburgh, or at the establishment. No contagious diseases will be admitted. J. R. SPEER, M. D. J. S. DR. DUNCAN'S EXPECTORANT REMEDY, FOR CONSUMPTION,

Colds, Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, Pain in the Side, Breast and Chest, Whooping Cough, Croup, and all Diseases of the Liver and Lungs. BEWARE OF CONSUMPTION. We behold many who unfortunately are the object of disease, borne down by its pain and distress, without a medicine to strengthen and soothe the enfeebled frame, or relieve the poisoned mind; and Providence has caused Nature to produce a HEALING BALM for all living creatures, particularly the afflicted. Heavens, whose labors have been so successful to discover the Medical Agent for the removal and cure of a disease which seems for ages to have defied the powers of the healing art, should be regarded in the light of a public benefactor. The proprietor of Dr. Duncan's EXPECTORANT REMEDY claims this, substantiated by thousands who are living monuments restored from the bed of sickness to the enjoyment of their dearest friends, and again rendered an ornament to society. Those who suffer with the premonitory symptoms of CONSUMPTION, should not neglect themselves from time to time, until the disease becomes seated, and rendered beyond the control of medicine, but immediately procure Dr. Duncan's Expectorant Remedy, a medicine that certainly to remove all the first evil seeds of Consumption, when used in due season. Just received 4 doz. of the above medicine and for sale by Parker & Ankeny, the only authorized agent for Somerset county. Dec. 24, 1844.
