FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER. JAMES M. POWELL, OF MERCER COUNTY. FOR CONGRESS: ANDREW STEWART, OF FAYETTE COUNTY.

Those free trade politicians who are endeavoring to persuade men that the protective system is injurious to their interests, can have but a poor opinion of the general intelligence of the people, whose own experience & observation teaches them the contrary. The past history of our country from the establishment of its government down to the present day proves their assertions false and bears witness to the beneficial effects which protective duties have at all times had upon every branch of business in which our citizens are engaged. This question has got to be so well understood, that but few men can any longer be misled in regard to it. The shoemaker, for instance, who cannot afford to sell a pair of shoes for less than $2, knows if a foreign article similar to his own can be sold by his neighbor at $1 50, that he cannot compete with him, for people generally buy where they can get the cheapest article; but place a duty of 75 cents upon the foreign article, and you raise the price of it to $2 25—twenty five cents above that of the domestic one; and the shoemaker perceives at once that he is benefited by this duty, being now able to sell his shoes 25 cents cheaper than the other, without reducing his price one cent. This is the way in which all our mechanics are benefited, in a greater or lesser degree, by a protective Tariff. They understand the practical operation of it, and consequently can no longer be deceived by fine-spun free trade theories, however plausible these may appear upon paper.

CANAL COMMISSIONER.

A new paper has been started at Johnstown, entitled the "Democratic Courier," which advocates the election of Job Mann for Congress, and goes tooth and nail against Foster for Canal Commissioner. The editor, Mr. Devine, is a spirited writer, and being evidently well informed in regard to the manner in which the public works are managed, digs it into the Board of Canal Commissioners right and left. Among other things he says: "Tis strange, but no less strange than true," that in many instances, the appointments made on the public improvements, seem to have been effected with a view to discountenance capacity, intelligence and worth"—and in reference to a particular appointment at Johnstown, he adds, "Mr. Foster should have had some little regard for the FEELINGS of those necessarily compelled to come in contact with the collectors of the public revenue." Surely, there must be something, or rather a good many things, "rotten in Denmark," or the "Courier" would not dare to rap the Canal Board over the knuckles after the fashion it does.

PITTSBURG & CONNELLSVILLE RAIL ROAD.

We understand, says the Pittsburgh Gazette of the 15th, that Mr. Latrobe who was appointed Engineer in Chief of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Rail Road Co., has written to the President that he will be prepared to enter upon the duties of his appointment in the course of the coming week, and proceed with the location of the Road for letting with all practicable despatch.

Hypochondria in Pittsburgh.

The Gazette records three cases of hypochondria that have occurred in Pittsburgh during the past week. John Pritchard, who had been bitten by a mad dog about nine months ago, and Gustavus Sandoll, bitten about four months ago, both died with the awful disease; and another man, named Sprat, bitten a short time since, is also suffering from it.

The Army under Col. Kearney.

In addition to the Army news given in to-days paper, we learn by an article in the National Intelligencer, that Col. Kearney's command left Bent's Fort on the 5th August for Santa Fe, distant 220 miles. His forces amount to 1600 men.

Felix G. McConnell, Member of Congress from Alabama, in a fit of delirium, committed suicide in Washington city.

Hon. Louis McLane, late Minister to Great Britain, arrived at Baltimore last week.

Fatal Accident.

On Tuesday of last week Mr. HARTMAN BERG, of Somerset township, suddenly lost his life while engaged in hauling timber for a building which he was about erecting. He had just reached the building ground with a log, when wishing to move a little further forward, the horses made a sudden plunge and threw Mr. Berg from his feet; and before he could recover himself, he was struck on the temple by the end of the log and instantly killed. The deceased was an industrious man and a good citizen.

THE ISSUE MADE UP.

FREE TRADE vs. PROTECTION. The Tariff of '46 vs. The Tariff of '42.

The last Genius has defined Mr. Weyand's position. "Mr. Weyand, (says the Genius) would advocate the Tariff law of 1846 which discriminates in favor of American industry, and particularly in favor of Pennsylvania interests!" Again the Genius says, "Mr. Weyand views the Tariff law of '42, as very unequal in its operation, unjust and oppressive to the people generally." Mr. Weyand is in favor of the Tariff of '46, then, because it is PARTICULARLY favorable to Pennsylvania interests. Why really Mr. Genius, this appears as if you intend it to be understood as ironical. It takes just THREE FIFTHS the present duty off of Iron—more than half the duty off of coal—and this we are told is particularly favorable to Pennsylvania. It takes off nearly half the duty on wool costing over 7 cents per lb., and nearly the same off many kinds of woollen goods; and this is particularly favorable to farmers. It greatly reduces the protection on all mechanical productions, hats, shoes, ready made clothing, smithwork, and every thing else produced by American industry, and this is particularly favorable to mechanics!

Thomas Jefferson said "levy duties on the articles you can make at home. LIGHTER at first, but HEAVIER and HEAVIER as the supply at home increases." But Walker and Weyand adopt just the reverse of this rule, they say as the supply increases at home make the duties LIGHTER and LIGHTER—reduce the duty to increase the revenue by increasing imports.

Which is right, Jefferson and Stewart, or Walker and Weyand? Let the Farmers and Mechanics decide this question on the second Tuesday of October as they think best for their own interest.—Uniontown Democrat.

THE DUTIES ON COAL AND IRON.

The party leaders in Pennsylvania are, as we last week stated, at their old game of fraud and deception. They duped and swindled the people once, by proclaiming Polk a protectionist, and they hope to do it again, with the false pretence, that the duties on coal and iron will be raised at the next session of Congress. They know it cannot be done, but that matters not, if they can win the prize, the only one for which they play,—the spoils of office.

This same game will doubtless be taken up by their brethren in this region, who just now would sooner hear of arsenic than pig metal or bar iron, and sooner drink of assafetida than look into a coal pit. Any thing but stone coal and bar iron for them; they have grown sick of the eight, and a speedy death will be the consequence.

Raise the duties on coal and iron, eh!—The Southern Loco-focos are supreme, and they will never relent, no matter how "intolerable" may be the sufferings, political or pecuniary, of their Northern allies. Not they: their doctrine is a further reduction of the Tariff, such a reduction, as will bring it down to "THE REVENUE STANDARD." Not is this all: their objection is aimed especially at the duties on coal and iron, even now at 30 per cent., too high, in their opinion, for revenue.

The Charleston Mercury, of the 20th of August, has an article on this very subject, from which we make the following extract: "It [the tariff] is far too high on a considerable list of important articles, and for a just revenue system too low on others. THE DUTIES ON COAL, IRON, woollens, wool, wines and some other article ARE TOO HIGH for revenue. The tariff too, in ordinary times, will produce more revenue than the Government ought to spend. At present it is needed, and will be for several years, and until that necessity disappears, there will be no essential modification."

We need scarcely remind our readers that the Mercury is Mr. CALHOUN's "organ," and speaks "by authority" for the whole phalanx of Southern, free trade Loco-focos. And what cannot these do! They carried the annexation of Texas despite the North, and crushed the fifty-four men. They defeated the Harbor and River Bill and withal strangled that other darling of the West, the graduation of the price, and the final cession, of the public lands, to the States in which they lie. In fine, the Southern Loco-focos have carried every measure, the Tariff of '46 included, on which they set their hearts, whilst the Northern and Western allies have gone begging, with nothing to show for all their labors.—They have been whipped and scourged like so many plantation slaves, and still they whine and beg for mercy. They dare not rebel, and the more they are despised, the more severely they are lashed—the more humbly they kneel and do homage. And yet these cringing, suppliant, crouching tools, talk of further protection to coal and iron. Powerless and trampled down they could not effect their object, even if they had the manliness to break their shackles and demand justice for a suffering constituency. Let the people trust not, therefore, to their false promises, but cling to and sustain Whigs and Whig principles, in whose success only, can they hope for an amelioration of their condition.—Cumb. (Md.) Ctr.

SPECULATING ON UNCLE SAM.—It is said that some rich and fat jobs have been made out of the necessities of the United States Government to procure transportation for the provisions and supplies of the expedition to Santa Fe. The farmers of Clay, Jackson, Platte, and some other counties, have sold nearly all their wagons, oxen, mules and horses, to the United States at round prices. One speculator we are told cleared $2,700 in thirty days, the purchase of oxen only; still the demand is not satisfied, and many wagons and teams are yet necessary to send forward the requisite amount of provisions.—St. Louis Republican.

CARPETS.

A sale of carpets from the Thompsonville Factory, recently took place in New York. It was well attended, a good many out of town dealers being present, and the whole stock was sold at prices fully up to the expectations of the trade, if not above them; though considerably lower than last year's rates. Admixter carpets brought 2.65 the running yards; three-ply, 97 1/2 a $1 04 1/2; super ingrain 56 1/2 a 61; Venitian 30 a 80; according to width and pattern, tufted and chenille rugs $3 50 a $8 each.
