

From the Troy Daily Whig.
A SCENE FROM BOMBASTES FURIOSO—NEW VERSION.

[Curtain rises and discovers King Polkofoco in a brown study.]
Enter Bombastes.
BOMBASTES.—King Polkofoco, I, Bombastes, come
Of my demands to state the total sum.
Of which, my liege, I may as well premise,
I'll bate no jot to save your royal eyes.
I'm a pure patriot—modest to a fault,
And full of talent as the sea of salt;
Yes, sir, as salt, which gives the sea its worth,
And is to ocean what I am to earth.

KING POLKOFOCO, aside.—(Salt—his old subject, curiously adorned; Talking of salt, we think our General's corned.)

BOMBASTES.—They talk of service—his routine I scorn;
Like Felix Grundy, I'm a 'Veteran born,'
Ank knew of war, e'en in my childhood's days,
More than old Zach has learned in twenty frays.
You see this uniform—

KING POLKOFOCO.—Great Chief, we do,
And hope full soon to see thee in it too,
Thou more than match for him of Waterloo.

Speak thy desire, our Royalty is dumb,
While roars aloud the Great Missouriium.

BOMBASTES.—'Tis well—you know your place, my liege, I see;
Hear then, and let your answer speedy be.
In the first place, by my cravat I swear,
No hand save mine shall that three millions bear.

Recall your generals, and of peace and war
Make me BOMBASTES, sovereign arbiter.
Vice-regal powers, in all things, must be mine,
And what I sanction you must seal and sign.
This understood—and one thing more made known,
That when you fall I fill your vacant throne—
And I am of. Expect, ere summer wanes,
A glorious peace, or—Mexico in chains!

KING POLKOFOCO.—Alas! alas! Bombastes, in the law
I cannot find a crevice, pick a flaw,
That will permit—I say it with a sigh—
Your loving liege your wish to gratify.
Ill does this answer with my will consort,
But—

BOMBASTES.—Come, old codger, cut your story short;
It can't be done, you say; well, well, 't'waps not—
The fiend take TAYLOR and that long-legged SCOTT.
I'll not be second, sir, no, sir, not I,
To any he that walks beneath the sky—
Here's my commission—stick it in your eye!
And for my uniform—'tis yours and Ritchie's,
Old women both—shy coppers for the bretches.

[Throws his commission and uniform at King Polkofoco, and exit in a rage.]

GOOD BUTTER.

BUTTER, being an indispensable article for the table, forms the most important product of the dairy, and may, with proper management, be made the source of considerable profit, with little labor, to every farmer. Yet its manufacture is too much neglected. We have selected from good authorities, the following rules and remarks on butter making.

1. That every thing should be cleanly in the whole process.
2. That the milk should be kept at a proper temperature, say from 45 to 50 degrees, while the cream is separating.
3. That the cream should be taken off and churned, before its quality is impaired.
4. That its temperature should be from 55 to 65 degrees, when put into the churn, and the churning should be moderate and uniform.
5. That salt, of the best quality, in sufficient quantity to suit the palate, should be blended with it at the first working, and the buttermilk completely got out by the butter ladle.
6. That the working of the butter should be repeated at the end of 24 hours, when the salt has become completely dissolved, and all the liquid extracted—and
7. That it should be packed, without more salt to make it weigh, in stone jars, in wooden firkins or tubs, such as will not impart to it any taint or bad flavor—and in such a manner as will totally exclude the atmosphere.

Butter made in this way will be of fine flavor; and if put down and kept in this way, the flavor will be preserved for an almost indefinite period, if kept in a temperature below seventy degrees. Water mixed either with the milk, the cream, or the butter, and especially soft water, adds nothing to, but materially abstracts the richness of the flavor. Milk skimmed at three several times, will give three qualities of milk—that taken off first being richest and most valuable.

A gentleman was speaking the other day of the kindness of his friends in visiting him. One old aunt, in particular, visited him regularly twice a year and stayed six months each time.

CORN.

The proper depth of covering, in planting corn, depends on the nature and dryness of the soils. The depth of an inch on some soils would be equal to several inches on others. A deeper covering than is actually necessary to produce healthy germination; is prejudicial to the growth of the plant and considering all circumstances, there are but few cases where it would be advisable to cover corn more than two inches, and in very moist soils, a covering of only an inch would be preferred.

If the ground has been well prepared, and is free from stones, the corn may be well planted with a machine. Lewis' "Seed Planter" will perform well in such cases, and make a great saving of labor.

THREE CROPS A YEAR.

Amos Charlton of Chelmsford, Mass., who raises several hundred dollars worth of farm and garden products from a little more than 20 acres of land, tried an experiment in planting beans with early potatoes, which he says has more than answered his expectations. After plowing and hoeing the potatoes, the beans were planted between the rows, in hills twenty inches apart, and hoed once without plowing. The potatoes were dug at mid-summer and sold for four dollars per bushel. The potato ground was then sown with turnips, thus giving a third crop.

PLASTER AND ASHES.

In order to ensure a rapid growth to the young plants, prepare a compost of ashes and plaster, in proportion of 5 bushels of the former to 1 of the latter, and give to each hill of corn, just as the plant comes up, a gill of the mixture. The increase of yield will pay you liberally for your trouble and expense. And if, in addition to this, you were to sow a bushel of plaster per acre, broad cast, over your fields, you would be most bountifully rewarded for the labor and cost.

Mary Louisa of Austria Dead.

Maria Louisa, the Grand Duchess of one of the small States of Austria Italy, and formerly wife of the Emperor Napoleon Bonaparte, died recently. This was the woman for whom Napoleon repudiated his first wife Josephine, from which moment the star of the great captain's destiny glimmered and grew dim. The simple announcement of the death of Maria Louisa of the house of Austria, unheralded as it is with royal funeral pomp or the noise of imperial ceremony, and scarcely ruffling the surface of the world's attention, must yet, in the bosoms of some, call forth a variety of emotions, especially if they remember the connections and extraordinary history of this unfortunate princess. She was the daughter of a powerful emperor—the queen of another still more mighty—and the mother of a king. She was torn from her regal state, and from the society of her consort, by the barbarities of war—exiled, degraded, & at last expired in obscurity. From the high role of distinguished royal personage she has passed away, as one whose last days few sought to honor, and whose character the great mass of the world cares not now to remember. Her only distinction is—that she was Napoleon's wife.—[GALAXY.]

NATURAL COMPASS.

It is a well-known fact that in the vast prairies of Texas, a little plant is always to be found, which, under every circumstance of climate, change of weather, rain, frost, or sunshine, invariably turns its leaves and flowers to the north. If a solitary traveller were making his way across these trackless and desolate wilds, without a star to guide or compass to direct him, he finds an unerring monitor in an humble plant and he follows its guidance, certain that it cannot mislead him.

MEXICAN NAMES.

Almost every name given to a town or locality in Mexico, is in honor of some saint or hero, or denotes some peculiarity of the place, thus: Brazos Santiago or St. Jago—Arms of St. James; Vera Cruz—true cross; Saultillo—a leap; Monterey—mountain king; Agua Neva—new water; Corpus Christi (Latin)—body of Christ; La Vacca—the cow; Neceus—nuts; Lobos—wolf; seals are called sealwolves by the Spaniards, and hence the name of the Island signifies more properly seal island.

PRINTERS IN THE ARMY.

The New Orleans Delta relates the following incident to illustrate the great numerical force of the printers in the army. Gen. Scott on a recent occasion, wanted to have some general orders printed at a given time. He sent directions to the office of the Tampico Sentinel to have them done. He was told that in consequence of the scarcity of hands the work could not be accomplished. He then on the morning parade ordered all printers to step forward 3 paces from the ranks, and several hundred men—all printers—obeyed the order!

UNWELCOME NOTORIETY.—Victor Hugo has lately written four lines in praise of a lady's foot, and so annoyed has the lady been by the public curiosity to see her foot, that she has been obliged to pretend the death of a relative and go into mourning—having thus an excuse to retire for a while, till society has time to forget it.

The expenses incurred by the New York police department during the last fiscal year, for carting drunkards, amounted to $1,336.36.

TERMS OF THE HERALD.

This paper is published every Tuesday, at $2 per annum, payable half-yearly in advance.—If not paid within the year, $2.50 will invariably be charged.
No subscription taken for less than six months—nor can a subscriber discontinue unless at the option of the editor, until arrears are paid off.
ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted at $1 per square, for the first three insertions, and 25 cents for every subsequent insertion; longer ones in proportion.

Jayne's Hair Tonic.

We know Dr. Quigley personally, and there is no man in the country whose opinion is entitled to more respect. He is on all subjects honest and sincere, and his high character as a Physician can be attested by the first medical men in the city.—Philadelphia Sun.

Several years ago my hair began to fall rapidly from the scalp, and I had the prospect of premature baldness. At length a friend recommended your Hair Tonic. I used three or four bottles, according to the printed direction, and at the end of six months, my hair was thick set and since its tendency to turn grey was arrested.

I have never before given a certificate recommending patent medicines, which indiscriminately used, as they often are, do much injury; but in a case like the present, where I know the article to be beneficial, and that it can do no harm, I have no scruples in stating facts within my own knowledge. Yours, &c., JOHN QUIGLEY, M.D.

HOTEL FOR INVALIDS AT PITTSBURGH.

Drs. Speer and Kuhn.
THE object of this establishment is to supply a want greatly felt by respectable travellers on our western highways—by residents, without family, taken sick—and by patients from the surrounding towns and country who resort to this place for relief from surgical and other diseases. Such have often suffered from the want of the various comforts and attentions so necessary and agreeable to the sick, and from careless and unfaithful nurses; and been subjected to heavy and unreasonable charges.

Invalids will here be provided with constant, faithful and comfortable attendance, and at a rate much below the usual charges.
While the care of both physicians will be extended to every variety of disease, it is intended by Dr. Speer, to give special attention to

ALL SURGICAL DISEASES, PARTICULARLY TO DISEASES OF THE EYE.
To these branches of his profession he has given a large share of his attention for the last twenty-five years, and he will continue to devote to them the experience acquired by a constant practice during that time.

The Hotel for Invalids is not an experiment. Its establishment is suggested not only as necessary to supply an evident want in this city, in the entire absence of any special provision for the sick, but is warranted also by the success of similar institutions at Cincinnati and New Orleans—the former under the care of Drs. Talliaferro, Marshall and Strader—the latter under that of Dr. Stone.
The building selected for the purpose is situated at the corner of Federal and Robinson streets, in Allegheny city, adjoining the city of Pittsburgh. It is commodious and roomy, and furnished with all accommodations necessary for the sick.
Applications for admission to be made to the subscribers, at their office on Penn street, Pittsburgh, or at the establishment. No contagious diseases will be admitted.

Jayne's Expectorant.
Mr Ebenezer Webster, of Providence, (R I) was cured of a severe ASTHMA by using five bottles.

Rev. Dr. Babcock, of Poughkeepsie, says that knowing Dr. Jayne to be a regular Physician, and having used his medicines personally and in his family, does not hesitate to commend them as safe and eminently useful medicines, and a valuable addition to our Materia Medica.
Rev. John Segur, of Lambertsville, New Jersey who was suffering with a hoarseness and soreness of the lungs and throat, and a suffocating Asthma was cured by one bottle.

Mr. J. L. Simpkins says that it cured his wife of CONSUMPTION, and one of his children of HOOPING COUGH.
Rev. Jonathan Gouge, D. D. Professor of Granville College, Ohio, says, "He was laboring under a severe COLD, COUGH and HOARSENESS, and that his difficulty of breathing was so great that he felt himself in imminent danger of immediate suffocation but was perfectly cured by using this Expectorant."
Mrs. Dilks, of Salem, N J was cured of Asthma of 20 year's standing, by using two bottles of this medicine. Mr. Ward, also, of Salem was cured of the same complaint by five bottles.

26) JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT.
By a reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that this valuable Medicine is offered for sale in this city. We esteem it a pleasure to be able to recommend this medicine, as the best calculated for the purpose of curing coughs, colds, sore-throat, asthma, and all affections of the lungs. From a long personal acquaintance with Dr. Jayne, we know that he is no quack, and his medicines are not nostrums of the modern cry-up, but are the result of his long experience as a practicing physician, and the expense of great labor.—Hartford (Ct.) Daily Review.

ONLY GIVE IT A FAIR TRIAL.
We ask no more of any one, than to give Dr. Jayne's Expectorant a fair trial, and if it does not cure the various diseases for which it is recommended, sooner and more effectually than any other medicine that has ever been offered to the public, the Proprietor is willing to undergo any penalty, however severe, the public may see proper to impose upon him. It has, and it will cure Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Bleeding from the Lungs or Throat, Whooping Cough, Croup, and a very large majority of the most hopeless cases of CONSUMPTION, when Physicians and prescriptions fail to do any good. Again we say, only try it. It will not harm you, but it must and it will do you good.

AWFUL MURDER.—How quick will the eye be arrested by a paragraph headed "Awful Murder," and we read with repugnance to ascertain what flagrant outrage has been perpetrated upon some fellow-being. But what apathy do we too often manifest when we behold the most lovely part of Creation murdered by that monster of evil, Consumption, with other kindred affections. The depreciation of these murderous diseases would be comparatively harmless, if Jayne's Expectorant were as generally known and appreciated as its unrivalled merits deserve. It is without exception the most valuable preparation in existence for Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, and every other affection of the throat, lungs or breast. It never fails to give relief.
Prepared at No. 8, south third street, Philadelphia.

"Is there no balm in Gilead?" was the pathetic exclamation of the prophet of Israel, as he beheld the degradation and miseries of his people—and does not the heart of the philanthropist move with emotions of commiseration and sorrow, as he witnesses the hopeless and helpless condition of thousands dying all around him with Consumption, and other pulmonary affections, and to ask, "Is there no balm that can heal them?" nor physician to rescue them from death?—Yes, there is a balm that will heal them, and at once arrest those fatal diseases, and restore them to health. It is found in Jayne's Expectorant, which never fails to relieve.

Another New Year!
Amid the ever succession of periods, once more has revolved around. How fraught with food for thought are those "mile stones" in human life!
Change after Change—how many the changes—that a retrospect of the past 12 months will conjure up to view!

The Struggling Poor have in some instances been made happy by the dawn of brighter days; while those basking in the Sunshine of Prosperity have had to taste the bitter pang of want. How ought these vivid lessons—from off life's truthful page—to stir up the hearts of all —to godly deeds,
And thoughts of sympathy!
Death, too, has not been idle; but has helped to make up the changes of the past year. And where health once took up its abode, disease now holds its thraldom. But how oft is ill health attributed to Negligence or Prejudice, which induces the suffering invalid to refuse using the rightful remedy which his own peculiar malady calls for. The experience of more than Ten Thousand Trials
proves the unequalled value of that pleasant and most celebrated medicine, Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, For Diseases of the Lungs and Breast!

ANOTHER ASTONISHING CURE!
Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry!
For Coughs, Colds, Consumption, &c., Important to all those afflicted with Diseases of the Lungs and Breast. Will Miracles ever cease! More evidence of its surprising Health-Restorative virtues!
The following has just been received from Mr. Edward Stratton, of Lexington, Mo., which shows that Consumption in its worst form can be cured by Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.
LEXINGTON, Mo., Jan. 21, 1845.

Benjamin Phelps—Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in communicating to you what I consider an extraordinary cure effected on my daughter, about 11 years of age, by Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. About the first of September last, my daughter was taken sick, and attended by several physicians, whose prescriptions were ineffectual, or seemed to do no good. She was attended with a constant cough and pain in the breast. Her physicians and all who seen her, came to the conclusion that she was in a confirmed stage of Consumption. I made no other calculation than for her to die. But as she commenced taking the Balsam she began to improve, and continued so until her health was restored, and is now entirely well. With a view of benefiting those who may be similarly afflicted, I take pleasure in recommending this medicine to the confidence of the public.
Yours, with respect,
EDWARD STRATTON.
