THE POLITICAL PROSPECT IN PFNNSYLVANIA.

GENERAL IRVIN.

Our intelligence from the interior (says the Philadelphia Inquirer) is highly favorable to the triumphant election of Gen. Irvin in October next. The friends of Home Industry are thoroughly united throughout the State, and will co-operate together hand to hand and shoulder to shoulder. The friends of Clay, of Taylor, of Scott, of Clayton, and McLean, all indeed who are opposed to the existing dynasty, will rally together as one man, and in changing the Administration of Pennsylvania, give an impulse to the Presidential campaign of 1848. The character of Gen. Irvin is well ca'culated to secure for him confidence and support. Active, enterprising, intelligent and urbane, perfectly familiar with the resources and devoted to the interests of the Commonwealth, Pennsylvania could not but prosper with him in the Gubernatorial chair. He has mingled with people on various occasions, and has made the most favorable impression by his frank, farmer-like and courteous manners, his strong common sense, and his hearty devotion to all that is calculated to elevate the character and promote the prosperity of the Keystone State. His course while a member of Congress was such as to give great satisfaction to our citizens. His specches, his votes and his general bearing were every way wort'y a representative of this old Commonwealth. His nomination has been received with the liveliest enthusiasm by the Whigs of Pennsylvania, as well as by thousands of Exchange bank the voters who are in favor of the one Mer. & Man. bank par Steubenville term principle, and who think that Gov. "Storms," it is said, "purify the air," but storms do mischief also, and are so for an evil. Were it within human power to maintain the Electrical equilibrium between the earth and air, there would be no occasion for storms, for the air would always be pure. So of the human body. If kept free from morbid humors, the action is regujar and healthy. But if those humors are allowed to accumulate, a crisis, or, in other words, a storm, will arise, which is always more or less dangerous. Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are equally well calculated to prevent the storm, or to allay it when it comes. But prevention is better than cure, besides being cheaper and less troublesome.-The delay of a day in the commencement of sickness has often proved fatal, and always renders the case more difficult to manage.

Let the sickness be caused by changes of weather, high living, want of exercise, close confinement, functional derangement, or anything else, the effect upon the body is much the same-is equally dangerous, and is removable by the same means.

Have you a cold? Let it not ripen into Consumption. Are you Dyspeptic? Beware of the hypochondria. Two Pills taken every other night on an empty stomach, for a short time, will, in nine cases out of ten, cure the Dyspepsia. and thereby drive away the legion of "devils blue." For Headache, no medicine is superior to Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills. Costiveness, that prolific mother of disease, is caused by a torpid state of the liver, which these Pills effectually cures. By striking at the root of disease, Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills prevent all and cure all .-They can hardly ever be taken amiss, if used with common discretion; and we commend them to the use of those who have not vet tried them.

Beware of Counterfeits of all kinds; Some are coated with sugar; others are made to resemble in outward appearance the original medicine. The safest course is, to purchase from the regular agents only, one or more of whom may be found in every village & town in the state.
