JOMINI'S LIFE OF NAPOLEON

THE CAREER OF JOMINI

This is the first English translation made of the greatest work of General Jomini... The book is a military classic, it relates to the military and political events which Napoleon took so great a part in...

Instead of discussing the merits of a work which will always be read by military men, and also by civilians and students, with interest and curiosity, we give below some account of the author...

General Jomini was born in 1762, in the village of Payerne, Switzerland, on the 12th of March, 1779. His family was of Italian origin, but had been several centuries resident in the Canton of Vaud...

After the peace of Lunéville, in 1801, Jomini returned to Paris, and was appointed aide-de-camp to Napoleon, who had just returned to France after his little encounter with the Emperor...

Meeting the Emperor one Sunday, Napoleon made inquiries in regard to his progress in writing the history of the Italian campaigns. Jomini reported in person the next day...

When the war of 1812 broke out between France and Russia, Jomini not wishing to fight for the Emperor, he was appointed aide-de-camp to the Emperor's brother-in-law, Alexander, who had previously offered him a high position in the Russian army...

He rejoined the army on the day of the battle of Lützen, and was appointed by Napoleon chief of staff to the Emperor's army...

advice which he gave to move on the enemy's right, instead of the left, on an opinion subsequently confirmed by the result of the battle of Wagram...

General McPherson was too well known as a brilliant officer to require any further extended notice. The regular diary of his military career, which he commenced on July 28, 1863, is now in the hands of the War Department...

General McPherson has been with me in every battle since the commencement of the Rebellion, except Belmont. At Fort Henry, Donelson, and Vicksburg, he was in command of the army...

General Johnston has been relieved from duty in command of the Rebel army in Georgia. The reason for this has not been made public, and it is not known whether the Government has any objection to his return to the South...

Mr. Edward J. Wood makes public, through the medium of the following letter, a list of names of persons who have been discharged from the army...

THE CENTRAL PARK.—We have received some accounts of the forthcoming picture of Central Park, by Martel, which leads us to believe the work will be worthy of the great subject it illustrates...

Colonel Thomas' Command.—Meeting at the Great Hall, on Monday, July 25, 1864, the following resolutions were adopted: That the Committee on the subject of the Central Park be authorized to make a report on the subject...

THE HOSE.—The hose, which is used in extinguishing fires, is made of a material which is very strong and durable, and is used in a variety of ways...
