THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1864.

THE FOREIGN PRESS ON OUR POLITICAL AND MILITARY SITUATION. The recent successes of our arms at Atlanta and elsewhere have produced a very decided impression on public opinion...

THE LOSS OF FAITH IN ENGLAND. The decline in the financial credit of the Southern States will prove practically one of the most disastrous reverses which the Rebellion has yet suffered.

THE BRITISH PRESS IS ALSO discussing with unusual earnestness and ludicrous diversity of opinion the probabilities and issues of the coming Presidential election.

THE CHICAGO CONVENTION professes to stand by the Union as stoutly as the Republicans themselves, and we can very well understand why.

THE REBEL INVASION OF MISSOURI. Reports were received at headquarters yesterday, to the effect that Shelby had advanced from Fredericktown twelve or fifteen miles northward to Farmington.

CITY INTELLIGENCE. COMPLETION OF A NEW MARKET HOUSE.—The new market house, at the northeast corner of Twelfth and Market streets, having been completed, will be thrown open to the public on Saturday morning next.

THE MERCANTILE CLUB. We trust that none of our readers will overlook the advertisement in another column of the grand mass meeting of the Mercantile Union Club, which will be held this evening, at Concert Hall.

NEW HAMPSHIRE NEWSPAPERS have declined in number from forty to twenty-nine.

PAVING MAKING AN BUSINESS. Everybody is familiar with the trick of the wag who collected a crowd at a street corner in mid-day by simply gazing skyward for a few seconds, and then when a dozen gaping idlers had joined with unvaried faces in the business, he slipped off, feeling sure that the increasing mob was a fixed institution for a whole afternoon.

SHOOTING AFFAIR.—A colored man named Joseph Russell was shot on board of a tug-boat on the Delaware yesterday afternoon. He, with a number of other persons, had been engaged in a party on board of a vessel.

"THE REBEL OIL COMPANY OF WEST VIRGINIA." Capital, $500,000, divided into 100,000 shares at $5 per share. Subscription price, $100 per share.
