TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1864.

THE FOLLOWING LINES WILL BE SINGING AT A UNION MASS MEETING TO BE HELD AT BEVERLY, NEW JERSEY, THIS EVENING, NOVEMBER 1.

THE SPADE IS THE THING THAT THE SWORD FEARS.

NURSERY RHYMES.

DEDICATED TO THE UNION ARMY. There was a young man of Rich Mountain...

There was a young man of Potomac, As yet for a night he'd no stomach...

There was a young man of Manassas, For eight months, he said, 'Surely they'll thrash us.'

There was a young man of Lee's Mill, Who'd drownded Vermont's son with a will...

There was a young man of West Point, Said 'These fellows' names like Van Amburg...

There was a young man of West Point, While 'twas advance flushed the game...

There was a young man of Fair Oaks, With his generals was forced to compare notes...

There was a young man of Hancock, Fought with a brigade, not a man over...

There was a young man of Gaines' Mill, Who was afraid of the enemy's mill...

There was a young man of Glendale, Who felt the courage still fall...

Said a young man of Malvern Hill, 'I now can raise Richmond as well.'

Said a young man of Malvern Hill, 'I now can raise Richmond as well.'

ARMY OF THE JAMES.

Important Advantages Gained by General Butler.

SHERIDAN'S SUCCESS IN THE VALLEY.

Special to The Evening Telegraph.

WASHINGTON, November 1.—The United States Cavalry arrived here this morning from City Point, with news of the 8th 11th Cavalry, in the neighborhood of Salem, Virginia.

General Butler gained important advantages of position, which he retains. General Marston, a commander of a division in the Army of the James, came up on the Comstock as a passenger.

Colonel Pinks, Chief Quartermaster at City Point, has been promoted to a brigadier.

The Hagerstown correspondent of the Washington Star says:—General Custer has not yet returned from the pursuit of the guerrilla party which captured General Duffie on his way from Winchester to this place.

General Sheridan's dismounted cavalry camp has been removed from Martinsburg to Hagerstown. There are between three and four thousand men in camp, the majority of whom are of Averill's old command.

Eight hundred head of stock captured in the valley, and composed of young colts, brood mares, hogs, sheep, cows, &c., were driven through here into Pennsylvania a few days ago.

General Ransom was a son of the brave Colonel Ransom, of the Regular Army, who was killed at Chancellorsville. General Ransom entered the war as captain in the 11th Illinois Regiment.

After the capture of Vicksburg he took part in the short Texas campaign, and went up the Red River, commanding a division in the 1st Army Corps.

General Ransom stayed for some time with friends in this city. When he was able to return to his duty he was sent to join Sherman's army, and after General Dodge was wounded and disabled, Sherman placed Ransom at the head of the 17th Army Corps.

Devised to the service and faithful to an extreme sense of duty, General Ransom retained his command as long as he was able to sit his horse, and for the last week kept on duty, though compelled to ride in an ambulance. He died at his post, and in a manner which has won for him the best, noblest, and most commendable of a young man of his generation.

The Duke of Newcastle takes our citizens by surprise. He was well known in our country, as he acted as guardian of the Prince of Wales. The New York Times publishes the following obituary on him:—

The Duke of Newcastle brings news of the death of the Duke of Norfolk, one of the most illustrious of the nobles of the British Empire.

He had held at different times subordinate Government positions in the successive Governments of Sir Robert Peel, Sir John Lubbock, and Lord Palmerston.

SHERIDAN'S ARMY.

Safe Supply of His Army. Rebel Account of Early's Defeat.

He is to be Retained in Command.

Arrangements have been made by which all the army wagon trains to supply Sheridan's army will rendezvous at Martinsburg, Va.

Little I thought ten days ago when I was writing about the capture of the guerrilla party, to which I am now just returned, that one of the greatest, if not the greatest, of the war, and a stampede of infantry, too, had yet to take place.

I don't know whether it is better to laugh or to cry, for the thing is so odd and ludicrous in some respects, that I can only burst out laughing at the outrage of a penitentiary, the rights of reversion to some slaves, some petty island of the South Sea, or even for the sake of some Siberia of ours, we might as well take our time and ease, and look only upon the funny part of this great mischief.

After speaking of the capture of eighteen pieces of artillery, the correspondent proceeds to state:—

The Yankees bring up a new line at about one hour and a quarter before sundown, they push it to the front, and our left division (Gordon's) gives way, they give way, but that is nothing, God bless them; the best of men give way sometimes; but why don't they rally? I don't know, but they don't rally.

But rally they won't. See them go back unceremoniously, and they are making no stand. They do not rally anything to officers, they just slip back with their muskets pointed in their hands, as if they were deploying back as skirmishers. In the meanwhile the Yankees lose no time; it is now their turn to go forward.

Rebally they won't. See them go back unceremoniously, and they are making no stand. They do not rally anything to officers, they just slip back with their muskets pointed in their hands, as if they were deploying back as skirmishers.

THE NEW YORK ELECTION FRAUDS.

COLONEL NORTH TO BE TRIED TO-MORROW.

TROUBLE AT THE POLLS APPREHENDED.

Special to The Evening Telegraph.

WASHINGTON, November 1.—The New York Commissioners will have another interview with Secretary Stanton this afternoon.

Colonel North will have his trial to-morrow. It is believed by the Government that leading New York Democrats intend to bring on a collision at the polls.

It will not succeed, however.

THE CAPTURE OF THE "HOANOK." New York, November 1.—Mr. Hawley, of the captured steamer Hoanok, in a statement of the affair, says the steamer was boarded in Havana harbor by three boats containing passengers.

The officers and crew were overpowered and made prisoners, and the vessel headed for Bermuda, where a pilot was called on board.

The report that Captain Dred had received notice of a plot to capture his vessel is unfounded.

Twenty-eight dead bodies have been taken out of the wreck. Two of the wounded have since died, and twenty or thirty more are wounded.

The accident occurred six miles south of Lafayette. A majority of the killed and wounded were returned soldiers.

Among the killed is Rev. B. F. Wiana, of the Sanitary Commission.

The United States Treasury Department. WASHINGTON, November 1.—K. S. Ellis has entered upon his duties as Sixth Auditor, and John W. Foster, formerly of Chicago, as Third Auditor of the Treasury Department.

The Gold Market. New York, November 1.—Gold was sold as high as 24 1/2, and has now fallen to 24. It is quoted at the Board on 25 1/2, and at half-past 1 was sold at 25 1/2.
