CATHEDRAL DEDICATION.

Dedication of the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul—Solemn and Impressive Ceremonies—The Services by Bishop Spalding—Very Interesting Religious Program—Very Large Attendance.

The grand Cathedral of Saint Peter and Saint Paul, which has been in progress of construction for several years, was dedicated with solemn and impressive ceremonies in the presence of a vast concourse of people, and of many of the clergy of the Roman Catholic Church in this and other dioceses.

At ten o'clock of the morning, the crowd began to gather in the vicinity of the massive structure, a full description of which was given in the Tuesday edition of this paper. The formal bodies of music, singing and instrumental, were arranged in the pews of the apse, and examined with great curiosity the magnificent proportions and decorations thereof. The pews were nearly overflowing, and the altar, were adorned with flowers and garlands.

At the hour appointed the procession passed from the chapel on Summer street to Water street to Loren Square, which was passed over, when they returned to the site of the cathedral, and from thence to the front door of the Cathedral, where the ceremony of the blessing commences and continues until a circle of the building had been made. This ceremony, which was attended with solemnity and the chanting of the various and magnificent robes of their respective orders.

At the hour appointed the procession entered the front door of the Cathedral, where it was solemnly received by the various and magnificent robes of their respective orders. The Bishop of the Diocese, in a very interesting and eloquent address, exhorted the congregation to piety and devotion. He spoke of the cathedral as a place of worship, and as a monument to the faith of our fathers. He then read the prayer book, and then the Mass was celebrated.

FOURTH EDITION FROM THE SOUTH.

LATEST FROM SHERMAN.

Confirmation of the Report that he is Moving on Macon.

In this edition the words which will be published here, were received from Sherman, and are of a nature to confirm the report that he is moving on Macon. The general Sherman, after receiving the report, immediately ordered the necessary preparations to be made for a march on the city of Macon.

REBEL REPORT OF THE ATTACK ON BUTLER.

Special to the Evening Telegraph. WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—A rebel paper of Saturday, received here to-day, contains the report of Sherman's moving on Macon, and the late of Burgoyne for him.

GEN. SHERMAN'S MARCH.

BEAUREGARD AND HOOD OUTWITTED.

Sixty Thousand Troops En Route for the Atlantic Coast. Their destination Savannah or Charleston. They will visit Macon, Milledgeville, and Augusta—City of Atlanta Destroyed and Total Destruction of the Railroad Between Atlanta and Augusta—Attacks the Twentieth Corps and is Repulsed.

WASHINGTON, November 20.—It is not generally understood that it is known General Sherman will touch at Macon. He has five corps of veteran infantry—the 24th and 25th of the Army of the Cumberland, and the 13th, 16th, and 17th of the Army of the Tennessee, comprising all of over 60,000 men. He has also picked up the 20th Corps under Kilipatrick, and has thirty days' rations for man and beast. It goes finely equipped in every particular.

His scout system and courier line are complete as to guard against the possibility even of a failure. The country through which he goes is abundantly supplied with food and forage, and he has a steady course, traveled by hot streams. It rains a week on a stretch, it dries up or soaks down in the city in a few hours. After arriving at Macon he will divide his army, sending a part to Savannah and a part to Augusta. He will strike the latter place, and after capturing supplies up the Savannah river, will be able to move on Columbia or Charleston. This is a very important step in the campaign.

The Western and Atlantic, running from Chattanooga to Macon, and then from Macon to Atlanta, has been almost entirely destroyed. It will take a year to rebuild it, with no inconvenience in obtaining supplies. The Georgia railroad (State owned) is also destroyed, and it is to which the Confederacy is indebted many millions of dollars, running from Atlanta to Macon, and from Macon to Savannah, a distance of about 100 miles. The occupation of Augusta will add to its destruction.

The Macon and Western railroad, running from Atlanta to Macon, 103 miles, is entirely destroyed. The Georgia Central railroad, running from Macon to Savannah, 127 miles, and a day's march from Savannah to Charleston, 137 miles. From Augusta to Columbia, South Carolina, 141 by rail. Most of the latter place, and after capturing supplies up the Savannah river, will be able to move on Columbia or Charleston. This is a very important step in the campaign.

At the conclusion of the sermon the Grand Mass was celebrated and the benediction pronounced. The services were conducted with great solemnity and beauty, and the people were much edified. The Bishop of the Diocese, in a very interesting and eloquent address, exhorted the congregation to piety and devotion.
