Special to The Evening Telegraph, WASHINGTON, December 29.-The Star

has the following:-The following report of General Burbridge's operations has been received by the War De-prrtment:-Despatch from General Burbridge.

CATLETTSHURG, Ky., December 18, 1864. -I have the honor to report that my mounted force, four thousand strong, in conjunction with General Gillera's Brigade, the whole under command of Major-General George Stoneman, marched from Bean's Station on the 12th of December at daylight.

They met Duke's Brigade at Kingsport, where he was drawn up to oppose the crossing of the Holston river. I sent two regiments to support General Gillem, who flanked the enemy, routing him, and killed, wounded, and captured one hundred men and a wagon train, and pursued to Bristol. He attacked that place at 3 o'clock in the morning, capturing the town, with two hundred and fifty prisoners, two trains of cars, five engines, and immense quantities of stores-

I learned that Vaughn was at Zollickoffer, twelve miles below, and marched to attack him, but he slipped away in a dense log, and made for the salt works.

I discovered his flight in time to head him off at Abington, which place I captured on the night of December 14, taking one gun, a large amount of stores, and an engine with some rolling stock.

General Gillem continued the pursuit of Vaughn, coming up with him at Marien, driving him from a strong position, and capturing fifty prisoners.

I sent Colonel Brown's Brigade to the support of General Gillem, who again came upon the enemy at Mount Airy, and drove him in confusion, capturing some prisoners and seven pieces of cannon, and a large

Colonel Brown, with his brigade, later in the day, charged the Rebel home guard of Wytheville, capturing five pieces of cannon and eight calssons.

Major Harrison, of the 12th Kentucky, who had been detached, by order of General Stoneman, with three hundred picked men and horses, struck the Virginia Ballroad on the 15th of December, near Glade's Spring, cutting it and capturing two trains of cars. He then got in Vaughn's front, and continued along the line of the road, destroying all the bridges and depots as far as Wytheville, a large amount of rolling stock, and the great iron works near Marion.

Colonel Brown destroyed the bridges for ten miles above Wytheville, when the expedition started on its return, the men and horses being entirely worn out,

Near Marion I came upon Breckinridge who was following Colonel Brown, and an engagement of thirty-six hours ensued, at the close of which Breekinridge retreated towards Saltville, but Colonel Buckley, with a brigade having got in his rear, torced him in confusion towards North Carolina.

Colonel Buckley effectually destroyed the lead mines near Wytheville on the night of

After some resistance our united forces captured and destroyed the salt works, with eight pieces of cannon.

The expedition has been entirely successful, and the damage will be more felt by the enemy than the loss of Richmond.

The salt works and lead mines are in ruins, and cannot be repaired during the war. My forces are now at this place and safe. I will send you a detailed report by mail.

(Signed)

S. T. BURBEIDGE. Brevet Major-General.

NEWS DIRECT FROM ADMIRAL PORTER.

A Bearer of Pospatches Arrived.

THE BOMBARDMENT STILL GOING ON.

The agent of the Associated Press sends the following :-

WASHINGTON, December 29, 2 P. M .- I have just this moment arrived here on the steamer Bot, which vessel also brings Lieuenant Preston, bearer of despatches from Admiral Porter. I am much surprised to hear the report prevalent of the abandonment of the expedition against Wilmington. It is not true. When I left, the fleet was still bombarding Fort Fisher. The despatches sent yesterday from Fortress Monroe were correct.

FROM ALABAMA.

Despatch from Admiral Lee.

HE DESTROYS A FORT AT CHICKASAW.

Hood's Army Broken Up.

Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc.

WASHINGTON, December 29 .- A despatch to the Navy Department, from Rear-Admiral Lee, dated flagship Ferry, Chicknsaw, Ala., December 27, says he has destroyed a new fort at that point and all the enemy's visible means of crossing the Tennessee, below Florence, and on Tuesday blew up two calssons and destroyed two field pieces there, knocking one into pieces and the other into Several transports with supplies for General Thomas arrived at Chicksaw on the 27th. It was found from the General's despatches that Lee's movement had been in good time to meet those of the General.

The Admiral says .- Hood's army is reported broken up, and its parts cannot cross at or below Florence, unless the river falls seriously. It is now falling, which made it Impracticable to-day to reach the crossing which the enemey is said to be using above Little Muscle Shorls, six miles above Florence.

A Family Hurdered.

CINCINNATI, December 29 .- Three members of the family of John M. Roosa, of Derfield, Warren county, were murdered in their bods on Monday night by some unknown persons. Two others were badly wounded.

ANNIE D'ARCY .- This young Philadelphia canlidate for histrionic honors will make her debut at the New Chesnut Street Theatre, on to-morat the New Chesaut Street Theatre, on to-morrow (Friday) evening as "Julia" in the Hunchonek, and on Saturiay evening as "Pauline" in the Lady of Lyons. Annie d'Arcy is a young lady of the figure and presence—an expressive and pretty countenance, and at the rehearsal today made a decidedly favorable impression. She is a young lady of considerable promise, and we trust she will be honored with a good andience each evening. She is not Mrs. Anne d'Arci, or Miss Annie Lousdale, as some persons imagine.
She will make her first attempt upon any stage

COLLEGE OF PHYSICIAN S.-A series of lectures are about to be communeed by Dr. Packard, at the Hall of the College of Physicians. The late Dr. Muiter, a few years before his death, offered his museum, illustrative of surgery and surgical pathology, and the sum of thirty thousand dol-lars in trust, to the College of Physicians, on condition that, within a specified period, it would condition that, within a specified period, it would treet a live-proof building, and carry out certain details for the preservation and increase of the museum. This liberal and munificant offer was accepted by the College, and in dustime the main condition of a fire-proof building compiled with. The edifice stands at the corner of Locast and Thirteenth streets. It was eracted by the mambers of the College, who subscribed, with a few executions, all the funds for the purpose. Not a dollar was granted by Dr. Mutter to this end in his devise. He specified the manner in which the interest of the thirty thousand dollars was to be spent, vir., in additions to his museum, in the pay of a curator and of a locurer, to be appointed annually by the College. This institupointed annually by the College. This insulta-tion is forther coriched by a large and growing Birary, the chief contributors to which are Dr Betton and Dr. Samuel Lewis.

Tun Fine Hoss Suit .- The fireman's horn that was lost so naturally at Atlanta, and found so singularly in Philadelphia, as stated in Tun TELEGRAPH a few days since, has been formally disposed of by Alderman Welding. There was no further evidence developed. The man who sold the horn in this city could not be found. He left for Baltimore after securing his eighty dol lett for Datamore and securing his eighty dollars, and has not been heard from since. Mr. Welding ruled that there was no evidence to prove that he born had been stolen. It was the property of a corporation in an unfriendly eithy enpured by the United States troops, and as all corporations belong to the State in which they are legalized, the born was the property of the United States Government, who came into possession of it by the right of the capture of Atlanta. As the Government did not claim it, it was returned to the gentleman who purchased it here. He is Mr. Bechtel, of the firm of Bechtel & Erne,
