STONEMAN AND BURBRIDGE.

The War in Southwestern Virginia—Stoneman at Nashville—His Account of the Great Raid—Defeat of the Rebel Gen. Vaughan—Breckinridge Driven into North Carolina—Immense Captures of Ammunition, Horses, and Mules—Four Rebel Printing Presses Seized—They are Sent to Parson Brownlow as Christmas Present—Eight Hundred and Sixty-nine Prisoners Captured—East Tennessee Free from Rebels.

NASHVILLE, Dec. 30.—Major-General STONEMAN, who arrived in this city last night from his great raid in East Tennessee and West Virginia, furnishes the following account of his expedition:—

The force consisted of BURBRIDGE'S troops and GILLEM'S East Tennessee troops, all under the command of Major-General STONEMAN. They left Knoxville on December 18th, and the movement was not discovered by the Rebels until after three days. At Kingsport Jonxs' command was attacked, consisting of about five hundred of MORGAN'S old command. The force was killed, scattered and captured.

Next the Rebel force of VAUGHN was discovered at Papertown, near Bristol, trying to effect a junction with BRECKINRIDGE'S force at Saltville. Our forces pursued him to Marion, where an engagement ensued, resulting in a loss to the Rebels of all their force and artillery except about 200, who retreated towards Lynchburg, Va.

BRECKINRIDGE'S command had followed General STONEMAN, with the forces of GATTNER, CROSBY and WITHERS and the balance of DUKE'S command, who had been on the frontier of Kentucky waiting to co-operate with the cavalry.

General STONEMAN attacked this force at Marion, and drove them over the mountains into North Carolina. His command then attacked the salt works, which were defended by about seven hundred men, who were either captured or dispersed. The loss by this raid to the Rebels is immense. All the railroad bridges from New River, Virginia, to the Tennessee line, are destroyed. Thirteen railroad trains, with locomotives, several trains and extra cars without engines were captured and destroyed.

All the depots or supplies in Southwestern Virginia, railroad depots, all the foundries, mills, factories, storehouses, wagons and ambulance trains, and turnpike bridges were destroyed. In addition, we captured twenty-five hundred rounds of artillery ammunition, two thousand pack saddles, and a large amount of harness, a great quantity of small arms, two thousand horses, and one thousand mules. Among the captures were two Rebel editors and four Secession printing presses. The latter were sent to Parson BROWNLOW as a Christmas present.

The severest losses to the Rebels were the destruction of the salt works at Saltville, and the lead works at Leadville. Both were rendered valueless. Our losses were very small, not exceeding 2000 killed, wounded and missing. Among the killed was Col. BOYLE, of the Eleventh Kentucky Cavalry. Our captured Rebel prisoners amount to 24 officers and 845 men.

East Tennessee is now free from any body of Rebels, and Kentucky is not infested by Confederates.

General STONEMAN held the Rebel telegraph line for eighteen hours, during which time he discovered all their plans and movements.

Diplomatic Correspondence on the "Florida" Seizure.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.

It appears from official correspondence that on the 11th of November Secretary SEWARD wrote to Minister WEBB that this Government had just heard of the capture of the Florida by the Wachusett, at Bahia, and of the consequent hostilities adopted by the Brazilian forces in that port, and that in this stage of the matter the President thought it proper that Mr. WEBB should inform the Minister for Foreign Affairs that we are not indisposed to examine the subject on its merits carefully, and to consider whatever question may arise out of it, in a becoming and friendly spirit, if that spirit should be adopted by his Imperial Majesty's Government.

On the 15th of December Mr. BARROSA, charge d' affaires ad interim, addressed Secretary SEWARD a letter in reference to the seizure of the Florida, calling it an act of the most transcendent gravity, which involved a manifest violation of the territorial jurisdiction of the empire, and an offense to its honor and sovereignty. He enters into the particulars of the seizure, and concludes by saying, "On this occasion, remembering the United States whose antecedents are well known, and noted in history by the energetic defense of and respect for neutral rights. Of these unshaken principles the undersigned cannot consider the event which occurred at Bahia otherwise than as the individual act of the Commander of the Wachusett not authorized or approved by his Government, and that it will consequently give to the Government of his Majesty the Emperor, the explanations and reparations which, in conformity with international laws, are due to a power when maintains friendly and pacific relations with the United States.

"The just reclamation of the Imperial Government being thus presented, the undersigned awaits the reply of the Hon. Mr. SEWARD, and fully confiding in his exalted wisdom and in the justice of the Government of the United States, he has not even for a moment doubted but that it will be as satisfactory as the incontestible right which aids the empire, and the vast gravity of the offense which was done to it may require."

Secretary SEWARD, in his reply, says:—"Jealousy of foreign intervention in every form, and absolute non-intervention in the domestic affairs of foreign nations, are cardinal principles in the policy of the United States. You have therefore justly expected that the President would disavow and regret the proceedings at Bahia. He will suspend Captain COLLINS, and direct him to appear before a Court-Martial.

"The Consul at Bahia admits that he advised and invited the capture, and was active in the proceedings. He will, therefore, be dismissed. The flag of Brazil will receive from the United States Navy the honor customary in the intercourse of friendly maritime powers. It is not to be understood, however, that this Government admits or gives credit to the charges of falsehood, treachery and deception which are brought against the Captain and the Consul.

"These charges are denied on the authority of the officers accused, and the Secretary also takes occasion to say that his Government disallows the assumption that the insurgents of this country are a lawful naval belligerent, and, on the contrary, it maintains that the ascription of that character by the Government of Brazil to insurgent citizens of the United States who have hitherto been and who are still destitute of naval forces, ports and coasts is an act of intervention, in derogation of the laws of nations, and unfriendly and wrongful as it is manifestly injurious to the United States."

After further remarks, he says:—"It does not, however, belong to the captains of ships-of-war of the United States, or to the commanders of their armies, or to their consuls residing in foreign ports, acting without the authority of Congress and without even Executive direction, and choosing their own time, manner and occasion, to assert the rights and redress the wrongs of the country. This power can be lawfully exercised only by the Government of the United States.

"Although the crew were enemies of the United States, and, as they contend, enemies of the human race, yet the offenders were nevertheless unlawfully brought into the custody of this Government, and therefore they could not lawfully be subjected here to the punishment which they deserved, nor could they, being enemies, be allowed to enjoy the protection of the United States. They will therefore be set at liberty to seek a refuge wherever they may find it, with the hazard of recapture when beyond the jurisdiction of this Government.

The entire correspondence will never be officially promulgated.

—A member of General Meade's staff recently saw a ragged boy with an uncommon large muffler about his neck. He asked what was the matter with him, and he replied that he had got the itch. The officer investigated, and found important despatches to General Lee.

General Thomas at Pulaski—Hood not yet Across the Tennessee—Our Gun-boats Shelling His Pontoons—Granger and Steadman on His Right.

NASHVILLE, Dec. 30.—The first train through from Chattanooga arrived here this evening. The railroad communication will now be regularly kept up.

General THOMAS' head-quarters were at Pulaski last night. Our advance was closely following HOOD, who, it is believed, is trying to cross the Tennessee River. GRANGER and STEADMAN are on his right, and the gun-boats are shelling his pontoons, which he has as yet been unable to cross upon.

The river is on fast rise is falling slowly. There has been a steady rain all this evening.

Discharge of the Columbia Co. Conspirators

HARRISBURG, Dec. 30 1864.—By the following orders it will be seen that STOTT E. COLLEY and DANIEL MCHENRY, two Columbia county prisoners, have been discharged. At the closing of the case, some weeks ago, your correspondent reported the acquittal of DANIEL MCHENRY:—

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF PENNSYLVANIA, PHILADELPHIA, PA., Dec 28, 1864.—Special Orders No. 311.—Extracts—7.—STOTT E. COLLEY, a citizen of Columbia county, Pa., having been acquitted before a Military Commission now sitting in Harrisburg, Pa., will be released from arrest.

The Quartermaster's Department will furnish the necessary transportation to Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania.

The Military Commission now in session in Harrisburg, Pa., having acquitted DANIEL MCHENRY, a citizen of Columbia county, Pa., the commanding officer at Harrisburg will forward him under proper guard to Head-quarters Board of Enrollment, Fourteenth District, Pennsylvania, at Troy, Bradford county, Pennsylvania, as a drafted man. By command of Major-General CADWALADER.

JNO. G. SCHULTZE, A. A. G.

To Capt. H. L. JOHNSON, Judge Advocate.

—The man who smoked in bed on his wedding night, was sarcastically informed by his bride that "no gentleman ever lighted his cigar at the torch of Hymen."—Exchange.

—It may not be generally known that those familiar lines,

"You'd scarce expect one of my age,
To speak in public on the stage," &c., had their origin in New Ipswich, New Hampshire. They were written in 1791 for an exhibition, by David Everett, of that town, who graduated at Dartmouth in 1795. They were first spoken by Ephraim H. Farrar, youngest son of Rev. Stephen Farrar, first minister of New Ipswich. At the centennial celebration, in 1850, Mr. Farrar, then an aged man, was called on for a speech, and rising, simply repeated two lines,

"You'd scarce expect one of my age,
To speak in public on the stage,"

which caused considerable merriment among the audience.

NEW YEAR'S GIFT CAMP LIBRARIES.

The United States Christian Commission, in response to numerous and earnest appeals from gunboats, chaplains, and field officers, will receive, forward, and place under the care of proper librarians,

ONE THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED AND FORTY CAMP AND GUNBOAT LIBRARIES, of one hundred and fifty volumes each, if the friends of our soldiers and sailors will forward them to its branches, or to the Central Office, during the holidays. It is but a small matter for each parcel asser of holiday gifts for friends, at home to buy a handsome and pleasant book for his friends in camp or hospital, write his name in it, and direct the bookseller to send it to the Commission. It will be a positive pleasure to hundreds of wives and mothers to take down the choicest volumes from their book-cases and send them thus, where their loved ones can enjoy the pleasure and profit of perusing them. Send none but the best; our soldiers deserve the best." The standard essayists, histories, biography, travels, science, poetry, magazines, standard works of fiction, whatever, in short, you would put into the chamber of your own brother, confined with a broken limb, will be acceptable, as well as religious works. Forward the parcel, marked CAMP LIBRARY, to any of the branches of the Christian Commission, or to
