LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE GREAT BAILWAY SUIT NIBI PRIUS COURT-Judge Read .- Pennsylvania Rallroad et al versus Atlantic and Great Western Rallroad. Mr. Globons resumed his argument this morning. The defendants have complained that the Secretary of the Common-wealth refused to file in his office a copy of their agreement, and they have admitted that he reinsed to do so on the ground that he could not see the authority whereby such agreement was made. They furthermore admit that the Attorney-General instructed the Secretary not to place it upon his file. If the agreement was lawfully made, could these State officers have refused to discharge their duties in respect to it?

What the Atlantic Road wanted to effect was to consolidate their railroad with railways in New York and Ohio, with which they were then in working connection. They wanted the exclusive right, and they have not quite accomplished it, although they have secured much ingenious legislation. The Attorney-General very properly could see no authority for opening our territory to foreigners, and allowing their exclusive control of a road from the city of Dayton, in Ohio, to the city of New York.

I understood Jugge Church to say that they they had no remedy at all in a case like this, where the Secretary of the Commonwealth refused to file their agreement. In 50 Binney, 87, it was held that where a ministerial act is to e done, and there is no other specific remedy, a mandamus will be granted to do the act required. So the defendants had a remedy at hand if they sustained any injury.

The third section of the act of consolidation rovides that the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad Company shall have the same rights and privileges, and be subject to the same restrictions and liabilities, as were the original companies before consolidation. In other words, when the Atlantic Company of Western Penn-sylvania becomes consolidated with the Atlantic Company of New York, the chartered privileges granted by the New York Legislature to the corporation of that State are adopted as the law Pennsylvania, and in like manner, under the provisions of this most extraordinary act, we import from the State of Ohio the legislation of that Commonwealth, and make it part of the law of this State! Was there ever seen such reckless legislation as this? Was there ever a greater intringement upon the rights of this Commonwealth?

I say, your honor, that there is no such corporation in existence in Pennsylvania as the Atlantic and Great Western Railway Company for their act of consolidation distinctly says, that a copy of the act shall be filed in the office of the Secretary, with his seal attached, "which shall be the evidence of the existence of this

My learned friends say we have brought suit against the Atlantic and Great Western Company, thus recognizing its existence. We admit the existence of the company, but not as a cor-poration known to the law. It is merely a copartnership.

My learned friend has urged that our allies are the New York and Eric Road, and that we have discriminated against Philadelphia and in favor the control of of New York, in our rates of toll. To show how much of a Philadelphia institution is the Atlan-tic and Great Western Railway, I will produce the Money Market Review, of November 25, 1865, published in London (twenty-five days after the execution of this lease and contract with the Catawissa road, in order to form, ac-cording to the language of the lease "a great through route to the city of New York"). will find there an article about petroleum. It contains among other things the exports from New York for 1862-3-4. You might read it through without suspecting the existence of such a place as Philadelphia. Mr. Gibbons also quoted a speech of Sir Mor-ton Peto at a London banquet, contained in the same paper, wherein Pennsylvania and her interests are entirely ignored, and Sir Morton states that the Atlantic Company sustain the most amicable relations with the New York and

The Reading Railroad Company have come into Court, petitioning to be admitted as the ally of this London monopoly. They attack the Pennsylvania Railroad. They assume to be the protector and patron of Philadelphia. Yet there is not a manufacturer in Philadelphia who is not compelled to pay for his coal two dollars per ton more than its legitimate value. And those two dollars go into the treasury of the Reading Rail-road Company.

I shall conclude my argument with summing up the points I have endeavored to establish :-First. That the contract between the Sunbury and Erre and the Catawissa roads, containing grant of the franchises of the former Company is not in its nature assignable to any corporation. Second. That the Catawissa road, having voluntarily divested itself of its railroad and rolling stock, has by that act divested itself of all rights under the contract. Third. That this Court has jurisdiction to restrain the assignment, and direct the cancellation of the contract. Fourth, That the lease between the Catawissa and Atlantic roads is uttra vires.

Mr. Cuyler then assumed the duty of concluding the argument for the plaintiffs. He argued that the main point involved in the suit was to the validity of this lease between the Catawissa road, and the Atlantic and Great Western road, and Western Central roads. He maintained that it was invalid, because no such corporation exists in this Commonwealth as the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad Company. Where is the vidence of its existence? They cannot produce any, except an affidavit that their charter was not filed away in the State archives. DISTRICT COURT, No. 2-Judge Stroud,-Ange lina Palethorp, trustee of the estate of John H Palethorp, deceased, vs. Gustavus Bergner and Christian Muchleck, now or late trading as Berg ner & Muehleck. This was an action to recover damages for the alleged violation of a certain agreement for the leasing of Military Hall, in Library street, in this city, by plaintiff to the de

It is alleged by the plaintiff that on the 8th of June, 1863, the defendants entered into an agree-ment with her for the leasing of Military Hall at the annual rent of $1800 per annum, for the period of five years, with the privilege of a ten years' lease at the same rent, provided, however, certain improvements, repairs, etc., were made, done, and paid for by the defendants, and the first two stories of the building were brought out to the line of the Mercantile Library Building on the same street.

Under this agreement it is alleged that the de-fendants entered into the possession of Military Hall, and still continue in possession, but have neglected and refused to bring out the first two stories of the building to the line of the Mercantile Library. Hence the present action for damages. The case is on trial. The defense had not opened when we were obliged to close

MATTERS OVER THE RIVER.

COUNTERFEITING .- This morning Court resumed the case of two men named Brown and Heckel, who stand charged with having been engaged in passing counterfeit money to a large extent. At the time of arrest a considerable amount of spurious notes was found upon them, and in close proximity where the the arrest took place, some six or seven hundred dollars of the same notes were found where they had evidently thrown them found where they had evidently thrown them away, knowing that it taken with these bills in their possession, the evidence against them would be so strong as not to admit of a single doubt. In their trial before the court the evidence was unmistakably strong, and the prosecutor omitted nothing which could in any wise tend to strengthen the testimony adduced, although the opposing counsel employed every legal point and technicality of evidence to prevent a conviction. After the closing of the evidence and pleadings on both sides, the Judge charged the jury in a very pointed and able manner, setting forth every point of law and evidence bearing forth every point of law and evidence bearing upon the case, and showing the evils arising from violations of law prohibiting the issuing and circulating of counterfeit bills. The jury then retired, and had not returned with their verdict up to the time of the present writing, For several months past an unusual amount of counterfeit money has been circulating in Camden and the adjoining villages, consisting of fractional currency and notes of various descriptions, which have been so well executed that most people have been deceived by them. The officers of the law have been vigilant in ferret-

RAILBOAD IN CAMDEN .- A number of wealthyand influential gentlemen in Camden have ormed an association for the purpose of building a horse car railroad in Camden, extending from Cooper's to Kaighn's Point, through seve ral of the most prominent streets. They will obtain a charter at the present session of the Legislature, and the work of construction will commence at the early opening of spring. The beginning of this road will be only the commencement of enterprise in that line, as a number of others are contemplated, and will speedily be started. These roads cannot fail to be of great advantage to the citizens of Camden, and will contribute in no small degree to the advancement of the city.

ing out the offenders, and it is quite possible that the two men above mentioned have been largely engaged in the business,

CROWDED.-The Station House during the night is pretty well crowded with lodgers, comprising some very pitiful cases, who seek shelter there from the inclement weather. These poor people are of all grades upon which poverty and destitution have lain their squaild hands, and they must suffer intolerable pangs were it not for the provision thus made by the city.

CITY INTELLIGENCE

"A NEFDY CASE."—In nearly all the papers of yesterday the local columns contained the following:—"A Needy Case." It gave an account of an aged woman who had fallen on the ice and broken her leg. "Her husband was a soldier in the war of 1812, and her two sons tought in the Union army during the late Rebel-lion. She was soliciting food when the accident happened." This morning we visited the case, and report as follows:-After much difficulty found No. 5 Maynard's court. Found that the poor woman lived in the garret, but the stairs were so narrow and dark that the woman below said I must get a candle, though it was then 10 A. M. While pre paring to ascend, a gentieman who resides in the neighborhood, and who had visited and relieved her the day before, enters, and kindly offers his wound our way with our providential companion and our lighted tapers down stairs; came to the City Pastor's, selected clothing suitable for the case, and are now, in company with Mrs. City Pastor, setting out with our bundies, etc. A more wretched looking location is not in Philadelphia. Yet this garret was neat and as clean as we could, under the circumstances, expect it to be. Any special contribu-tions sent, for the relief of this case to City Pastor will be judiciously applied.

This is a good sensational story, and yet it does not compare with the touching, tender, pathetic hundreds of cases that call at City Pastor's house, and come daily under our observation.

The poor lonely widow-still, in many cases young in years, with a large family of small children, and no work—hungry, cold, naked, and yet nice, modest, bashful, tearful—is the most touching, if not the most needy case. This is the class that needs special attention, and this class is numerous. Let them have our aid, our sympathy, as well as these extreme cases. Nay more, for more de-serving far are they. Yours, etc., Miss H. M.,

Agent and Assistant Superintendent of Supplies and Distribution for "City Pastor."

ANOTHER DISTURBANCE.—This morning about 4 o'clock a general imelee occurred at the well-known Antictam Saloon, on Ninth street, just below Market. A dance was going on, when a row was suddenly kicked up, and in the tracas the bertender was seriously injured by a blow from one of the party. He was struck upon the head with a billy by some of the rioters. The Antietam is one of the most pestilent dens of infamy which exist in our city. It is wretches of both sexes, and between midnight and dawn it disgorges its foul habitues upon the street, who render the air heavy with obscenity and prefaneness. It is a locality that disgraces the city, offends the moral feelings of those rusi-dent in the immediate neighborhood, and is well worth the attention of Mayor M'Michael and the Chief of Police. We did not learn whether there were any arrests made, but from the vigor with which the officer spring his ratfle we ima-gine that some of the rascals must have come to If so, we hope they will receive their just reward.

PRESENTATION OF A TRUMPET, - The handsome silver ire-trumpet voted for at St. Joseph's Fair, and won by the Hibernia Engine lompany, was presented to the Company last evening, at the residence of Mrs. George Ed-wards, to whose charitable labors much of the success of the Fair was due. The trumpet was presented by Rev. Father Blenkinson, and re-ceived on behalf of the Company by Colonel James Page, Robert Tempest, Esq., and John R. Downing, Esq., the President, Vice-President, and Secretary. A fine entertainment followed. The occasion altogether was a most pleasant and

A NEW COUNTERFEIT.-Captain Franklin, the United States Treasury Department, has detected a new twenty-five cent fractional rency note. The vignette in the centre is bad, the figure having a breastpin, while in the genuine nothing of the kind appears. It would be well for everybody to be on their guard in respect to this matter.

DISHONEST EMPLOYE.-William Randerson, a lad who says he came from Georgia, was arrested at the Reading Railroad depot last night, charged with the larceny of $38 from a Mongomery county farmer, with whom he had been employed. He had only been there a week when he robbed his employer and left. The defendant was remanded for trial.

JOHN O'MARONY.—On Saturday night a grand mass meeting of the Fenians of our city will be held at the Bansom Street Hall. As no larger place could be secored they were compelled to take this ove, when it six Academies were engaged all would be filled. John O'Mahony and B. Doran Killian will speak. When we say this we need add no more, as the mere announcement in itself will secure an attendance ten times as large as the Hall can accommodate.

CHARGED WITH VAGRANCY-Yesterday he Twentieth Ward police visited Camp Cad walader, and arrested eighteen contrabands who had been left there, and had no homes. They had tollowed regiments from the South, and some of them had been engaged as officers' ser vants. They were committed as vagrants.
