AMUSEMENTS.

ARCH STREET THEATRE.-This evening, for the benefit of Mrs. John 1 rew, the charming comedy of The Follies of a Night will be given. Mrs. Drow, in The "Duchess de Chartres," has a part to suit her entirely. Mr. Rankin will play the "Duke;" Mr. F. F. Mackay, "Dr. Druggendraft;" Mr. Stuart Rob son, "Pierre Paillot;" Mrs. Crease, "Mad'ile Duval;" a very fine cast. The piece itself is full of wit, spirit, and plot. Fortunio will follow,

WALNUT STREET THEATRE.-This evening, for Mrs. Wood's last benefit in this city, the amusing burlesque of Maseppa will be given, Mr Fawcett taking the part of the hero, whist Mrs. Wood will take the part of 'O inska" Mrs. Wood is so handsome so full of fun, so genial, and so fascinating, that we admire and like her in everything, forgiving even her faults; but in burlesque she is entirely in

NEW CHESNUT STREET THEATRE -The Red Rober and The Sleeping Beauty will be given for the last time. On Monday, the great revival of Arrah-na-Pogue, when Miss Orton will play "Arrab," she being the original "Arrah" in this country, Mr. Glenroy will appear as "Shanu the Post," a performance for which he has obtained the greatest enlogiums from the New York press.

NEW AMERICAN THRATHE, - The Field of the Cloth of Gold is played to-day, both afternoon and evening Mad'lle Zanfretta on the tight rope is one of the marvels of the ace-so casy and so graceful is she, that she seems to tread on air.

HELLER -That modern enigms, that traditionary curiosity and impenetrable mystery, the Spaynx of Heller, draws nightly crowds to Concert Hall, Whether it be human, sataute, or divine, is a question which is discussed by all who witness it for days after seeing it. The effect upon the audience of the patied bust-speaking, canng, drinking, and smoking—with all the status que effect of scalpinary, is positively horrible. The ladies turn as pale as the Sphynx, and the gentlemen, with all their wisdom, acknowledge the deception insoluble. With no other attractions, this one wonder is enough to draw far houses for months. All who love the mysterious about not full to see it. should not tall to see it.

FOVER OF THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC.-Mr. Jarvis' Matinee takes place at 4 o'clock to-day. The selec, tions are of the highest order. Mr. Jarvis holds a first rank both as a musician and planist, and he has hosts of admirers and friends. His matinees are always a great success.

THE GERMANIA .- The following is the programme of the rehearsal for to-morrow atternoon .-

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT -The concert given by Mr. Rice at the Musical Fund Hall, to-morrow evening, promise: to be a great success. The talent engaged cannot init to draw a crowded house.

THE NEW PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM,-The vast number of curiosities collected together at this new establishment seem to have struck the right vein in the popular fancy, if we may judge from the crowds that are centinually going in and out. The petits ady, Miss Lizzie Reed, and her antipode, the Nova Scoten giant, are rather the finest specimens of humanny, in their particular line, that have yet been presented to our community.

Jeff. Davis-The Alleged Plot for His Rescue.

The Southern account of the alleged plot to rescue Jeff. Davis is given by the Richmond Enquirer as follows:-

"The 'Rebel' sojourners at Old Point Comfort -most of whom have been engaged there in the United States Ordnance Department - were startled and surprised on Sunday morning by the promulgation of an order requiring them to leave the place. One hour was given depart; and, as no steamer was at hand, they passed the night at Hampion, and yesterday morning 'run the gauntlet' to the wharf at Old Point, and took the steamer to Richmond. They numbered between forty and fifty men, many of whom left their baggage behind in their hurry. The agent of the National Express and Transportation Company, located at the Point, being in the 'Rebel' category, unable to bring off his office property, turned over his keys and the con-tents of the office generally to the agent of the Adams Express Company, who happened to be a Northern man. "The reason assigned for this summary order was a report that a plot was in progress to rescue Mr. Davis. Upon what amount of truth this report was based we have no means of ascertaining, as the whole procedure was in accordance with an order from the War Depart ment at Washington, which, it is to be pre-sumed, acted upon secret evidence, the particulars of which it has not yet thought proper to divulge. In pursuance of the details of the order, the guard on duty at and around the fort was trebled, and the bridges over the most were drawn. The 'exiles' who reached the city last night report that the restrictions upon the privileges of Mr. Davis had been increased, and that now he was not even permitted to speak to the lieutenant of the guard placed over him.

"It seems that the alleged plot to rescue Mr. Davis has been suspected for some days past, and the sentries had been increased, and a strict surveillance instituted throughout the fortress and its environs. No vessel arrived without being searched; not even a canoe or a tishing smack was permitted to touch the shore with out being met and inspected by a military guard; while during the night an armed vessel has been put on patrol duty in the Roads in front of the fortress. Every defensive preparation neces-sary to anticipate and repel a formidable assault

The Death of Captain Rufus Cheate. Rufus Choate, only son of the late Hon. Rufus Choate, died at Dorchester on the 15th instant, When our civil war broke out Mr. Choate was in the practice of the law in this city, having, for a young man just starting in his profession, a large clientage. Everything looked prosperously for him. There was every inducement-selfishly speaking—for him to remain at home, But the echoes from Sumter had scarcely ceased before he had offered his services to the Government-" for the war."

He was determined, to use his own language, "to see the thing through," and for this reason, among others, joined the 2d Massachusetts Regi-ment, which was, we believe the first in the country organized for that length of time. Mr. Choate remained with his regiment till the au-tumn of 1862, when the disease which attacked him shortly after he joined the army compelled him to resign his commission.

His sufferings during the last four years have been almost uninterrupted and almost incredible. Yet during the whole he showed the same sweetness of temper, the same patience, the same uncomplainingness that had always char-acterized him. "And yet they say I suffer," said he, when the horrors of Andersonville were read to him.

The testimony of his brother officers is unani-mous as to his wit, his humor, and his untailing humanity. When he resigned his commission one of them wrote, "Choate has left, and with him goes the life of the regiment. No more fun now, but simple duty." At the battle of Cedar Mountain he and three other officers of the same regiment were so ill that none but themselves thought of their taking part in the impending conflict. Not so they, however. They were helped or carried on to the field. One present wrote:-"All our officers behaved nobly. Those who ought to have stayed away wouldn't. Goodwin, Cary, Choate, and Stephen Perkins were all quite ill, but would not stay away from Choate is the only one of the four not killed It was splended to see those sick fellows walk right up into that shower of bullets, as if they were so much rain.' The reveille has now sounded for the last of the noble four, and he has gone to join his comrades and answer to his name when the roll is called, - Boston Traveller.

THE FENIANS.

Important Session of the Senate-What They Propose to Do Regarding the Stephens Publications and Recent Events-The O'Mahony Division-Great Activity Imparted by Stephens' Indorsement-The Two Systems in Full

The Fenian Senate met yesterday afternoon at their bealquarters, No. 734 Broadway, The papers at ant they met to fry the O'Mahony Senators (Sinnott, Meany, and Mutlen); but it is a graver cause that summons them from their distant abodes. The question of holding a Congress to organize their division as O'Mahony has his seems the principal question pending action. The telegraphic report from Buifalo regarding this matter is premature and unauthentic. The question has not been acted upon as to place or time, or in any of its bearings. It will be heard

The Stephens-Mahony publications will of course come up. These publications the Senators de not regard as "a decision" in any light, even if genume. They say the Senatorial division of Fenjanism comprises two-thirds of the working brotherhood throughout the coun-try, and that Stephens knows better than to wipe that body off in the gladfatorial parlance of "cutting and backing," which appears in the alleged letter of the 22d December.

THE SENATORS ACKNOWLEDGE STEPHENS, BUT BE-PUDIATE THE LETTERS-THEY EXPECT STEPHENS.

TO "SICKEN" AND TURN TO THEM. The epithets "wretches," "traitors," "dogs," etc., applied to tae three hundred thousand workers as much as much asto the Senators (for the Senatorial rank and file are immeasurably more radical anti-O'Mahony men than Michael Scanlar, or any other Senator), shut off this etter in any event they claim from the charac-'a indement in the case," and mark it as "a blind challition of passion worthy of no respect, wherever it comes from." They, therefore, repudinte this document in toto, and it is not expected to receive a moment's attention in their Still, they do not pretend to repudiate Stephens and his I. R. B., for they still fall to realize that such sentiments ever proceeded from him, and they do not tax him with them. Some few concede that O'Mshony, having his ear as Head Centre, may have startled him with stories of the Senate's giving up ireland for Canada," deserting his I. R. B., etc., and by having further ound himself to a reform of his "drag chain policy," as it is termed by Stephens; and to give cordial aid hereafter may have evoked from Stephens the appointment as his financial agent

In that case they say they are content to let Stephens enjoy his prestige, satisfied, taey say, that "if he does not die of the dose, he will surely sicken in quick time," and turn gladly to the sterling power of non-O'Mahonyism, which, they say, will ever be ready to lend their strong hand to the Irish republican work. But the Senators from far and near protest, in the most solemn manner, that they "could never again touch O'Mahony and his establishment with a forty foot pole."

THE SENATORIAL DIVISION TO SOUND THE TOCSIN SINGLE-HANDED, AND "HEAD OFF O'MAHONY"

HERE AND IN TRELAND. The course, then, on the assumption Stephens' recognition of O'Mahony, seems to lay on their own account for the time being. And in this position they would assuredly be on the outside track, and O'Mahony's party, if in rapport with the I. R. B., would have a decided advantage. It is only as part of a general system of which the Irish movement will be the chief central figure that an American body can claim consideration from Fenians.

The Senatorial party, with their dash, genius, military talent, may, it is true, come to a sprightlier culmination, and if the toesin cry sounds, and the work is followed up well against the red coats anywhere, they will engross public attention and sympathy here and head off the O'Mahony system, and become a more available body. Then, they assume, Stephens would gladly smile fraternally upon them, and, for the rest, the I. R. B. would see to it that such powerful co-operators should not be o tracized and hacked on" for the sake of any man or estab-

"With hopes like these" do the noble Romans cheer themselves, and hence they are working heartily for the good day coming. For the prewever and as long as they soom to res the ban of Stephens, they are literally destined to have up-hill work of it.

THE SESSION YESTERDAY.

The proceedings of the Senate yesterday were mostly of a preliminary character, nothing of public interest having transpired. To-day they will meet again, and be in better working order. The manifestations from the country are coming in fast in the shape of remittances and documents of endorsement. These latter, however, have now acquired a sameness in the public prints, and it is only acts, not words, that will command any attention.

THE O'MAHONY DIVISION-VITALITY IMPARTED BY STEPHENS' LETTER.

This division of the F. B. manifests the greatest possible activity and cheer at present. Collectors with their books swarm the city, canvassers are all through the country, organizers are everywhere at work, and on all sides there is evidence of success and vitality, owing, no doubt, to the assurance from Stephens that the old "drag chain policy" was forsworn at last, and that "John" had given assurance of pulling bravely hereafter in the common harness.

BOW THE WORK GOES BRAVELY ON -ENDORSEMENTS AND SUPPORT OF THE WORKERS.

The effect of the whole proceedings through the country were not at first very encouraging. But when Stephens' commission was received and communicated by O'Mahony to the circles, many a waverer took better heart, and the O'Mahony mercury quickly rose up above zero again. At present there is great devotion manifested towards O'Mahony by his followers, and thousands of true patriots in the city and country are pulling strongly and all together for the Irish Republican Brotherhood under his management.

The most exigent now have little fears that there will be any reversion or detention of any tunds from the L. R. B., for the sharp eye kept upon each other by either management will preciude shuffing and insure directness and faith-fulness all around. The O'Mahonyites have literally buckled on the armor, and are expect-ing to do a grand work now by the side of "the men in the gap" for the promotion of the common object. o'Mahony will most probably strain every nerve to sustain the home body; in fact, he must from motives of self-preservation, if nothing else; for a return of slackness or coldness towards the home men might evoke at any mo-ment from Stephens a revocation of his decree of approval, and that would leave the fortunes of the house of O'Mahony in the poorest plight imaginable, while the rival division will be watching for every chance to instal themselves in the tayor of the central movement, which seems to be a necessary passport to the hearts and purses of the American Irish people, The O'Mahony side, like the Senatorial, are in receipt of voluminous evidences of good will from Circles and supporters in all quarters. They are mostly of a class with what we have been publishing, and have no freshness for our readers.

BUSINESS AT UNION SQUARE, Business has not yet resumed the vigor it is expected to do in a lew days at Union square. The different Circles throughout the country are waiting to hear the result of the Convention from their delegates before commencing active

Many of the delegates bave taken with them several thousand dollars' worth of bonds to dis-pose of. These are of so large amount, that, if soid, it will place the Head Centre in a position to command sufficient lands for active operations soon.—N. Y. Hera'd,

MRS. GRINDER.

THE PRISONER'S CONDITION. The Pittsburg Commercial of last evening cen' tains the following:-

Report of the Medical Commission.—HARRIS-BURO, January 17.—The medical commissioners appointed by Secretary of State Sliter, consisting of Doctors John Curwin, of the State Lunated Asylum at Harrisburg, J. R. Reed, of the Dixmont Hospital, and James S. King, of Pittsburg, for the purpose of inquiring late the mental soundness of the unfortunate Martha Grinder, under sentence of death for poisoning Mrs. Mary Caruthers, have transmitted a report by telegraph from Pittsburg to the Secretary of the Country weeks. Commonwealth. The commissioners give a full account of their interview with the prisoner, and unanimously agree that she is not even tainte with insanity. Secretary Slifer has decided, in view of this fact, not to interiere with the de-cision of the Court. No respite will be granted, and, therefore, the execution must take place on Friday.

AN AFFROTING INTERVIEW. George Grinder, the husband of the prisoner, was arrested some time after his wife for supposed complicity in the murder of Miss Jan Buchanan, but nothing was produced to crimi-nate him, and the Court ordered his discharge. Since that time he has visited his wretched wife in her cell several times, and their interviews have been of an ordinary character. Yesterday another interview was allowed them, that was, however, particularly affecting. The prisoner had been informed that all hope of respite was past, and when she med her husband, the thought of being at last forced to bid him a long farewell seemed to flash across her mind, and as she related to him the pamful intelligence, she completely broke down, and for some time could not be restored. Her whole nervous system gave way. She sobbed as though her heart would break. She continued to be hysterical for a considerable time, and so affected her husband that he too gave way to his feelings, and the unhappy pair mingled their tears together. Warden White, who was present at the time, relates the facts as trying to the teelings of any human being. He saw that the presence of the husband was likely to render his prisoner more helpless and feeble than ever, and he accordingly ended the interview as soon as possible. When Mr. Grinder leit the jail he went out like one utterly broken in spirit and inconsolable.

MRS. GRINDER'S SPIRITUAL CONDITION. The prisoner is fortunate in having secured for her spiritual adviser the Rev. Dr. Holmes, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, a man of deep piety, whose sympathizing nature finds ample vent in unremitting attentions to her future and eternal welfare. Since her conviction he has been regular in his visits to the cell of the con-demned one. Mrs. Grinder has usually shown demned one. Mrs. Grinder has usually shown an adequate appreciation for the kindness thus manifested in her behalf, and since the commis-sion closed its labors, she has felt a stronger desire than ever for the prayers of her pastor. Yesterday, she requested that he might be sent to see her in the evening. We understand that her wishes were complied with, and that the unfortunate woman gave unmistakable tokens of heartfelt contrition. WILL THE PRISONER CONFESS? In view of this fact it has been suggested that Mrs. Grinder will, probably, make a full confes-sion of her crime. The evidence produced at the trial was so clearly against her that no one who reads it over with care can entertain any doubts about her guilt. If she is really preparing, then, for the solemn scene at a judgment bar more terrible than any here below, let us hope more terrible than any nere below, let us nope that the first step towards that end will be an acknowledgment of her offense against both human and divine laws. We were told, last night, that her condition had considerably improved, but we could not discover any reliable facts concerning the confession which we believe her posteriors. ing her confession, which, we believe, has not

PREPARATIONS FOR THE EXECUTION. Sheriff Stewart, upon learning the result of the Commissioners' visit to the Ja'l, concluded, without further delay, all the necessary arrangements for carrying out the sentence of the law, to-morrow. The scaffold upon which Marschall and Frecke were executed still remains standing in the jail yard, with the fatal trap-door down, just as it was left last Friday afternoon, at the close of the terrible scene which took place at that time. This same scaffold will be used at the execution to-morrow, and either one of the cords which strangled the wretched Boyd's Hill murderers be placed about the neck of the modern Borgia. The Sheriff has issued a limited number of passes to witness the fate of the prisoner. But the demand for them is exceedingly great, even temales of respectable families having expressed a desire to be present on the occasion. The sight will, in all probability, be unusually fearful. The physical condition of the prisoner is such as to warrant the belief that she will have to be carried to the scaffold—a scene almost too terrible to contemplate-and without the power of standing on her feet, be launched into eternity. It will be seen by the special telegram of our Harrisburg correspondent that the report of the medical commission was received at the office of the Hon. Eli Slifer, Secretary of State, yesterday afternoon, and that that official has decided, in view of the opinion of the commission, that no respite shall be granted.

THE PRESIDENT'S POSITION.

Our Special Despatches.

WASHINGTON, January 19.

The Freedmen. The Freedmen's Bureau has information that large numbers of freedmen who went to Texas are returning to Louisiana and other States, not liking Texas. They say there is too much beef, and not enough bacon| there. A consolidated report of freedmen's schools in the South has been made up, showing in November last 631 schools and 75,334 scholars.

The Equal Suffrage Bill. It is believed that the District negro suffrage bill will pass the Senate substantially as it passed the House, and by a two-thirds majority. The President and the Suffrage Bill.

The opposition members of Congress claim that the President will veto the House bill on equal suffrage if it passes the Senate; there is little doubt that it will pass the Senate. A leading member of the Cabinet expressed the opinion last night that the bill would be vetoed; but prominent members of the House and Senate are confident to the contrary.

The New Loan Bill. The Ways and Means Committee have imposed secrecy upon its members in reference to its action upon the Loan bill.

The "Idaho" Claim. The Naval Committee of the House is considering the petition of Mr. Forbes, asking payment for the Idaho, which is not yet constructed. The contract price was six hundred thousand dellars, and Mr. Forbes claims that he has already spent nine hundred thousand upon her.

Rebel Steamers. The Navy Department has ordered the Rebei steamer Florida to be fitted out at our Navy Yard for a one year's cruise, and a complement of officers have already been ordered to her.

The ram Stonewall is being prepared for experiments, and is being overhauled. In about a week she will be opened to the public. It is said that the Government will take out her spars and guns and use her as a ram.

Constitutional Amendments. The House Judiciary Committee had up the subject of further Constitutional amendments, but came to no conclusion. Enough is known, however, to render it certain that the Committee will, at an early day, report an amendment providing that where black men are not entitled to vote, they shall not be represented in
