A SYSTEMATIC SWINDLER,-On Saturday alternoon a gentlemanly looking individual was arraigned upon the charge of having been en-gaged in a number of wholesale swindles. He would call upon wholesale dealers, represent himself as a member of a firm doing business in Richmond, Virginia, and buya bill of goods, generally to the amount of several hundred dollars. He would pay for the goods with a draft exceeding the amount of the bill, and then would ask for the difference in cash between the bill of goods and the sums which the draft cashed for Some of the dealers complied with called for. Some of the dealers complied with his request for cash, but took the precaution to inquire in respect to the drafts before the goods were shipped. In all instances the drafts were discovered to be worthless. But the swindler did not contine his operations to the dealers in dry goods or clothing; he swindled confectioners and jewellers, and last, though not least, tried his hand at the makers of monuments, or dering two from different marble workers, for a decrased brother, who, he represented to one of them, had been killed in the Rebel service at Fredericksburg, and to the other that he had been cut down at Chancellorsville. The swindler, in order to excite sympathy, carried his arm in a sling at one time, and at another pre-tended to be lame in one of his legs. At the Continental he ran up a bill of over ninety-eight dollars. He gave the name of Robert Morris; but has gone by the name of B. M. Powell, of the firm of Pezinev & Powell, of Richmond. The firms he bought foods of were Stillson & Boyer, Bomberger & Co., William H. Yeaton & Co., and Lewis L. Guthman. The fellow was held for a further hearing to-morrow.

IMPOSING ORDINATION CEREMONY .- Yesterday morning St. Joseph's Church, Willing's lley, was crowded to excess on the occasion of the ordination of P. A. Jordan and P. F. O'Neill to the Priesthood. At 104 o clock a procession, consisting of cross bearers, acolytes, deacons, clergy, and Bishop Wood, accompanied by the clergy, and Bishop Wood, accompanied by the Vicar-General and Chancellor of the Diocese, entered the sanctuary. The candidates for ordination followed. The celebration of the Mass then commenced, as follows:—Right Rev. James Frederick Wood, Bishop of Philadelphia, celebrant, aided by Very Rev. Dr. O'Hara, Assistant Priest; Deacons of Honor, Very Rev. P. A. Stanton, Com. Gen. O. S. A., and Rev. P. J. Blenkinsop, S. J.; Deacon and sub Deacon of the Mass. Env. James Kenth, D. D. and Rev. J. F. Mass, Rev. James Keogh, D. D., and Rev. J. F. Shanahan Superior of the Preparatory Seminary; Master of Ceremonies, Rev. A. J. McConomy. Among the priests within the sauctuary we noticed Very Rev. A. M. Paresce, Provincial of Maryland; Rev. F. J. Barbelin, Pastor of St. Maryland; Rev. F. J. Barbelin, Pastor of St. Joseph's; Rev. Messrs, N. A. O'Brien, P. Conway, Michael Hennessy, T. F. Hopkins, and J. Pendergrast. The choral part of the services was under the direction of Professor W. A. Newland, and the ringing was very line. Hadyn's "Third Mass" was given by the regular members of the choir. Stradella's "Prayer," which Miss Caddie McCaffrey sang at the Offertorium, was exquisitely rendered.

MISSIONARY MEETING.—Last evening. missionary meeting was held at St. Stephen's P. E. Church by the Southeastern Missionary Convocation, which includes all the Episcopal churches south of Market and east of Broad street. The opening religious exercises were conducted by the Rev. Messrs, Graham and Ful-lerton. Interesting addresses were delivered by Rev. W. B. Erben, of the Seamen's Mission, Rev. C. L. Fisher, of the Mission Church of St. John the Evangelist, and Rev. Joseph R. Moore, of the Mission Church of the Crucifixion for colored people.

THE EPISCOPAL HOSPITAL.-This charity has now six wards occupied by patients. The number usually in them is about ninety. They are received subject to the rules of the institu tion, without regard to creed, color, or country, In addition to medical treatment, the patients enjoy the spiritual care of an efficient chaplain, and have the ministrations of a band of devoted Christian women, whose services have proved invaluable. The expenses of the institution during the past year were $27,000. The reliable income is $7000, and the difference is made up principally by contributions.

RUNAWAY .- A pair of horses attached to a sleigh ran away yesterday in a small street, east of Broad. The driver was in the back seat, and the animals, a splendid pair, turned into Parrish, and up to Broat. The moment this grand avenue was reached the horses went on a run with fearful speed. Numbers of persons, as is usual, urged them on by running before them and waving their hats. The driver held on and the nags kept on at their best speed, going north, until lost to view.

RESIDENCE ENTERED AND ROBBED .-Betore daylight yesterday morning, the residence of W. H. Belsterling, No. 225 North Fifth street, was entered by burglars, who, it is supposed, effected an entrance by means of nippers used upon the key left in the door lock. After securing articles of clothing, jewelry, and a sum of money, the whole valued at $150, the thieves

A NEW SKATING PARK .- On Saturday a large number of urchins amused themselves by skating upon the frozen snow in Franklin Square, at Sixth and Vine streets. Although the gates were closed, Young America devised the only mode of gaining an entrance, viz., by scaling the high iron railing which encircles that beautiful park.

An English journal gives the following summary of the official statistics of the British iron trade during the past year:"The great advance in the value of iron in 1865 forms an important feature in our commer-cial history. Production has increased, the demand for home use and export has been somewhat active, and even a seven per cent. bank rate has not prevented Scotch pig iron from advancing to 65s, per ton. The production of iron in Scotland last year was 1,135,000 tons, being an increase of 4000 tons as compared with

This great decrease indicates much healthiness in the trade, and in a measure accounts for the rise in prices during the past year. In England the transactions in metals generally have been extensive. The quotations have, consequently, steadily improved, although the importations from abroad have been on liberal scale. Returns for the United King dom give the annexed arrivals during the first

Belgian competition does not, therefore, appear to have extended itself to Russia. Upwards of 25,000 tons of wrought iron were forwarded to India last year. To the same quarter nearly 100,000 tons of railway iron were shipped. The gradual extension of the railway system in India and Russia, and the triffing quantities produced in the latter country, must long continue to have an important bearing upon the trade in the United Kingdom. Some of the shippers of pig iron may hesitate to operate largely at present prices; but it is well known that the quotations in most of the markets of
