 Individuals, operated asa a belp to relilieve the State of much of her dobt: ofor every millon subbecribed by the people was a amilion saved for the State Treasury. It therefore ssowews that the generosity oo our people exceoded that of any resident in our sistar Commonwealths. Again, the redaced average shown by usis due the the that that the patriotism of our citizens exceeded that of others, and quota withoutters conentinued to to supplys our officer selected for so imoortant a ste wardship. amounts to $$ 475,000,0000$. Each Legislature has been petitioning Congress to secure the assumption on the part of the United States of her particularar dabt. The idea that the Government woild and to its own three thousand millions five hundred millions more was preequable, it was decided that there shall be reimbursed by the United States to each of the States that farnighed troops to the Union army, and also to the several Territories, and the District of Columb'a, a sum equal to tilty-five dollars for each man duly entered into military or naval service of the United States doring the late war, the usual number beng reduced to a uniform standard of three years' service.

This would give to Pennsylvanin fifteen milllons of dollars, table. This would leave us a debt of but thirty-nine millions, which is certainly very small, considering the amount of astistance rendered by our stace. We have thus in statistics, in refutation of all of the slanders heaped upon our State by the New York fournals, an oficial declaration that Pennand logalty, any other State in the American Some More Tinkering with the Constitu-

New York Times intimates will meet the approval of a large number, if not a majority of

 of the poison of Jactional batred and sectional power. Our Republic can be annihilited by the same causes, and liberty, with the blessings of peace, be lost in ani American edilition ings of peace, be lost in ani American edition of the dark daģ or Europe. To let the negro alone is to secure not only his welare, but the tesing of the blessings of tree institutions to the whites and blacks alike, malitng one dependent upon the
 the negro alone, he would rise by example, and be elevated by contact with the more cducated white. But if his friends are willing to let him take care of himself, his foes are not. The very men by whom it is supposed that he will be dignififed by association with, or as our friend romantically expresses it, be "dependent upon in the battle of life," are desirous ot crushing out every effort to improve,otpreventignt the every advancement to accomplish which the old Dominion urges that the negro ob left alone. If the enemies and tyrets hyrants or the black will ouly leave him alone, his friesds will do likewise; but while he is orpressed, simple fustice compels us to de-

 Vory truly, your friend, Jons Murcazi.
