EXTENSIVE FIRE IN THIRD ST.

Four Large Stores Burned-Over a Million of Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed—A Fire-man Killed, and Several Seriously Injured.

Last night about 6 o'clock a disastrous fire occurred in Third street, above Race. It began in the extensive wholesale hard ware house of George H. Roberts & Co., Nos. 235 and 237 N. Taird street. The firemen were very promptly upon the ground, but despite all their efforts the flames extended to the premises of Messrs. James, Kent. Santee & Co., dry-goods jobbers, occupying Nos. 2.59 and 241 in the same street, the adjoining premises. The latter arm had on hand an immense stock of goods. Their trade amounts to millions annually, and in the dull times their stock is exceedingly extensive.

This firm had just haid in part of their spring good, and their stock was therefore quite heavy. It is estimated that it must have reached in value the sum of $800,000. Their building, with its contents, was burned to the third story. It was gated valued at $35,000. It was gated valued at $35,000. was also valued at $35,000. It was quite extensive, reaching in depth one hundred and fifty feet, and five stories in height. The flames leaped with territic fury through the windows of these extensive establishments, and it was with great difficulty that the firemen could stand in front of the burning buildings, so great was the heat widen therefrom heat arising therefrom.

The stores on the opposite side of the street were in danger of being fired from the intensity of the neat, the flames reaching as they did at times neatly the entire width of the street.

No. 234, adjoining on the north, is occupied by George K. Smith & Snoomaker, druggists. This building is five stories in height. The flames were checked before they did much damage in this structure, although the stock on hand, which was valued at $30,000, was greatly damaged by water.

Mesers. Thomas & Brother, dealers in notions, occupied part of the four-story bullding, No. 233, adjoining the hardware store on the south. Mr.

adjoining the hardware store on the south. Mr. J. Eisenhower, shoe manufacturer, jalso occupied part of No. 233. The rear part of this building was somewhat camaged by fire, but the loss was principally caused by water.

No. 231 is a four-story building, occupied by Mr. A. C. Stevenson & Sons, curriers. He also occupied the upper story of No. 223. This building was but slightly damaged by fire, He estimates his loss at $2500. No insurance.

About half-past seven o'clock, while the firemen were endeavoring to reach the flames by men were endeavoring to reach the flames by placing hose on an adjoining building, the south wall of the building fell on the store No. 233. This building was one story less in height than the one on fire. A number of firemen, most of them members of the Columbia Hose, were on the roof of No. 233, and the falling of the wall on this crushed it in, precipitating the men to the second story, amid a mass of rubbish and fire. The disaster was at once not ced, and a scene of intense ex-

The firemen directed their streams to where they believed their comrades were buried, and the scaling ladders were brought into request. The exertions of the firemen were hastened by the cries of the men inside. When an entrance was effected, Edward O'Neal, Henry Kirby, Thomas Winters, James Mulheron, Frederick Hines, and Matthew O'Brien, members of the Columbia, were found in the ruins. They were still alive. O'N al was fastened beneath the lumber, and before he could be extricated he died. The others were released without difficulty.

According to the statement of Kirby, the men all fell together, and when they reached the second story, O'Neal suggested that they should all unite in a cry tor help, in order to insure the probability of its being heard by friends. As O'Neal's head was crushed when he was taken out, it is believed that, while his companions were being removed, the fall of some other portion of the wall caused his death. The deceased resided in Fayette street, near Arch. He leaves resided in Fayette street, near Arch. He leaves a wife and one child. William Kirby was badly bruised. Thomas Waters had one leg broken. James Mulheron was badly burned about the face and neck. Fre lerick Hines was seriously injured internally. He was taken to the hospital. O'Brien was badly injured. With the exception of Hines, all the injured men were removed to their homes.

exception of Hines, all the injured men were removed to their homes.

In addition to the above members of the Codumbia Hose, James H. McCourt was badly injured by the fail of the wall, and later in the evening, Albert Ladner, a member of the United States Hose, had an arm broken by falling through a hatchway.

The falling of the wall gave the flames full headway, and the building No. 233, occupied on the first floor by Thomas & Brother, notions, and in the other stories by J. Eisenhower, shoe dealer, was destroyed by being crushed to the cellar. No. 231, occupied by A. S. Stevens, leather dealer, was badly damaged, and No. 229, occupied by D. F. Gallagher, perfumer, was considerably damaged by water. The fire occasioned great alarm among the boarders at the Eagle Hotel, and the most of the immates left the building. The hotel property was slightly damaged by fire and water. The fire continued to burn until near midnight, by which time that portion of the building occupied by James, Kent, Santee & Co. was burned down to the third story. Mr. Roberts' portion was entirely destroyed. He Mr. Roberts' portion was entirely destroyed. He had a stock of hardware valued at $40,000, which

Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc.

An immense concourse of people have been assembled all the morning in Third street, above Race, gazing at the ruins of the great fire of last evening, a full account of which is published in evening, a full account of which is published in another column of this afternoon's TELEGRAPH. The Vigilant Steam Fire-cugine, Neptune Hose, and several other fire companies, are still in service playing on the ruins. Lieutenant Abraham Bowers, with a posse of police, are busily engaged protecting property, and keeping the crowd at a respectable distance from the destroyed buildings.

The fire originated in the counting-room of the hardware store of George H. Roberts & Co. About a quarter to 6 o'clock some clerks who were engaged in the second story saw smoke issuing from the windows of the counting-house, which is in the rear of the first floor, and very

The total loss in the buildings Nos. 235 and 287 will reach about $150,000.

The buildings Nos. 239 and 241 were about three-fourths destroyed, with their contents. These buildings were occupied by James, Kent, Santee & Co., and their stock was valued at between $700,000 and $800,000. Their whole amount of insurance will reach $570,000.

There is an insurance on each building destroyed of $10,000. These buildings are owned by James, Kent, Santee & Co.

The loss on buildings Nos. 235 and 237 will be about $25,000. These buildings cost about $33,000 each te build, a few years since.

The amount of injury to buildings Nos. 239 and 241 will be about $12,000.
