Crists in the English Cabinet-Rumored Resignation of Earl Russell-The Dake of Somerset to be Sent For-The Story Contractiesed.

From the London Times, Pebruary 28,

It would be idle to disguise the fact that the course of Government since the meeting of Parliament has been such as to excite the graves anxiety among the triends of a liberal adminis-rration. People have gone about assuring one another that everything was going well, but they did so in tones which ill-corresponded with the words of encouragement they uttered. Administration has not been called upon to do mucb, its trial has been but short, and yet what it has done has exhibited a spirit of vacillation and uncertainty which augured ill for its future.

It has seemed as it anything like unity of prin ciple was absent from its deliberations; the Cabinet has been divided against itself; what one man has proposed another has rejected, and no one has been able to guers what would hap-pen to-morrow, because it was impossible to say what spirit would then be predominant. We cannot be surprised, then, to hear it rumored that, under such circumstances, Lord Russell has asked her Malesty to relieve him from duties which have proved too irksome for him, and has begged permission to resign once more the office of First Minister of the Crown. We are not in a position to affirm positively the truth of this rumor, but the existence of such a rumor so substantiated is a fact in itself, and we shall proceed to discuss it and others which have ob tained equal authority as if they were well

If a strong liberal government, either under Lord Russell or some capable successor, can be maintained, we should, of cource, greatly prefer it; but if this is rendered impossible by internal difficulties, we may call attention to another ad-vantage which would accrue from a tory interregnum. The country is at present em barrassed by what we may venture to call, by a metaphor borrowed from the naval service, "Yellow Admirals." Men who have come to the fore by mere seniority and the course of promotion, who inspire no confidence, and have neither knowledge nor genius to justify their position. It would be invidious to mention them individually, but it is only necessary to recall the names of ministers, past and present, to be aware that there are some from whose claims both the great parties would gladly be relieved. They exist, and it is hard to displace them; but if they were once relegated to obscurity no one would think of recalling them to a position of distinction. . . . We desire, above all things, a good, sound, strong, liberal government. There are plenty of things for it to do. There is Ireland to be settled, a colonial policy to be determined, a foreign policy still in progress of transition, the permanent question of reform to be laid at rest; but it these things cannot be accomplished at once, we are content to wait for a season, that they may be accomplished more effectually. No one of these can be settled without a united Cabinet, possessing a definite policy, following the inspiration of a single leader; and although the promise of such a result may at present be dim and uncertain, we think we discover signs that a period of darkness and of germination might bring it to light.

CONTRADICTION OF THE BUMOR. From the London Globe, February 28.

We have authority to state that there is no foundation of any sort for the rumor that Earl Russell had begged permission of her Majesty to resign, and recommended the Duke of Somerset as his successor. The whole story from beginning to end is a pure fiction. From the Pall Mall Gazette, February 28.

We believe there is not the slightest foundation for the statement in the morning papers. and speculation on the reconstruction of Government may, therefore, be abandoned for the present.

Reported Illness of the Queen.

The Pall Mall Gazette had given currency to a report that Queen Victoria was indisposed, but the Daily Telegraph asserts that the report was without foundation.

The London correspondent of the Manchester Examiner says:—"Although I see that the statement of her Majesty's indisposition is vehe mently contradicted in one of the morning papers to which one would hardly look for inormation about the court, I fear that the Pall Mall Gazette was well informed and that the Queen is by no means well. She has had a severe shock in the death of Sir C. Phipps; and she is laboring under severe and trying anxiety about Prince Leopold. The health of his Royal Highness is beyond all doubt in a very critical condition; and it would even be quite safe to use a still stronger word."

The Russo-American Entente Cordiale. ANOTHER BANQUET TO GENERAL CLAY, OUR MINIS-TER, AND THE CRONSTADT PLEET.

From the Liverpool Post, February 28. Americans and Russians have been again fraternizing-this time at Cronstadt-the occasion being the sixty-third anniversary of the Sailors Club of that city, General Clay and the Secre-tary of the American Legation were the guests of the evening. The General occupied the place of honor. He had on his right the Governor of Cronstadt, Aide-de-Camp General and Admiral Novossilsky, and on his left Rear-Admiral Lessov-

After toasts to the Emperor, the Grand Duke Constantine, and the Minister of Marine, General Novossilsky proposed the health of General Clay to the strains of the "American Hymn," executed by a choir of excellent musicians. Atterwards Admiral Lessovsky addressed to the American representative a speech, in which, after having traced a parallel between the history of the American and Russian fleets, and called to mind the sympathetic reception given to their squadron in the United States, he posed a toast to the prosperity and power of the fleet and sailors of America. General Clay responded in a brief but gordial speech, translated into Russian by Admiral Lessovsky.

He declared how happy he was to acknow-ledge here, as at Moscow, the sympathetic reception they gave him in the name of the Russian nation, and how much the friendly relation happily existing between the two countries had received a new force and new consecration by late events. The Polish revolution in Russia and Secession in the United States have been for the two countries a new experience, out of which they have come victoriously. General Clay then proposed a toast to the maintenance of that agreement and the prosperity of the Russian and American fleets. General Clay was immediately nominated by acclamation nonorary member of the club.

The Excitement in Ireland. PRNIANISM IN THE BRITISH ARMY.

Dublin (February 27) Telegram to London Times. This morning the orderly officers and sergeantmajors in the Dublin garrison inspected the Fenian prisoners, and identified five, arrested in civilian clothes, as deserters from their regi-England. They were delivered handcuffed to the military authorities. Three publi-cans and another man were arrested this morn-Sergeant Campbell, of the Antrim militia and two other men, were arrested to-day in Belfast; also a man named Murphy in Cork, an A BOX OF GRENADES AND THELLS -- ANOTHER FENIAN PROCLAMATION.

Dublin Correspondence of London Times. This morning the attention of the police was attracted to a box which came from Liverpool in the steamer which arrived at the North Wall. addressed to a person in Dublin and labelled "hardware," The police took possession of the box, opened it, and round that it contained some hand grenades and shells. The name of the person to whom these articles were consigned is withheld by the police for obvious reasons.

the Freeman reports that A correspo at the small village of Ashbourne, in the county Meath, the police proceeded on Thursday evenat the small villag ing to a small interacted house and there arrested twelve respectable young men, charged connected with the Fenian on suspicion with b movement. This is the best instance of Fenian-ism in this locality, with the exception of a Penian proclamation, which was posted on the pier of the chapel gare on last Saturday night, and was as follows:-

PROCLAMATION. Whereas, A certain patriotic and noble race, called Irishmon, have organized in one body ail frishmen, of every religious persuasion, to take up arms at a moment's notice, aided by the strong arm of Union Square, which is the symbol of our redemption, Irishmen organize. War! war! war! We will rise simultaneously, and banish forever the cioven foot of murder-sus alien rule.

God save Stephens! POLICEMEN CHARGED WITH PENIANISM. Dublin Telegram to Carl Examiner,

A policeman of Castleto waroche, in the county of Cork, and another from the neighborhood of Fermoy, in the same county, have been arrested on a charge of Fentantsm. ABERUTS OF IRISH AMERICANS. Five Irish Americans were arrested to-day in Synge street, and documents of a suspicious character, it is said, were found on them. Taeir names were Thomas O'Brien, Michael McGenn, Thomas Doherty Brougham, John Dunne, Jeremiah Farrell.

THE UNIVER STATES NEGOTIATING FOR AN ÆGEAN From the Pall Mall Gazette, February 27.

It is said that a negotiation is in progress between the United States and Greek Governments for the sale of an island in the Æzean Archipelago to the former as a commercial depot. We should be slow to believe that this American project has any political significance.

The Americans have certainly no ambition in the east of Europe; but there is no quarter of the world into which they are not anxious to extend their trade: and there is no doubt that the shores of the Biack Sea, and even of Asia Minor, present a wider field for international trade than the commercial navies of Europe have as yet exhausted. America, too, there can be no doubt, is the ultimate consumer of many Eastern products which are at present sent in transit to British and French ports, and are thence reshipped to the United States.

This circuitous process cannot fail to suggest to American traders the advantage of shipping their goods direct from the original places of export; but in order to organize a movement of this sort it has probably been found necessary for the Americans to have a depot of their own in Turkish waters. What they require is simply a safe and accessible harbor and a good roadstead. Those who know the Cyclades and the Sporades are aware that these requirements, common as they are in our own islands, are not often to be found in the Greek Archipelago. Rock and iron-bound coasts are more frequent there than creeks and inlets. There are, how-eyer, exceptions to this rule, and no exception can be more conspicuous than the magnificent harbor of Syra.

That, indeed, is much too precious to be ceded; but some other somewhat less desirable. haven may no doubt be found. One thing is certain, that the Greek Government will be very glad of the purchase money. If the resulting increase of American trade should be what may be fairly anticipated, neither party will have regret the transaction that is ascribed to the two Governments.

CONGRESS.

Senate. Washington, March 12 .- Mr. Grimes (Iowa) offered the memorial of the Iowa Legislature asking for the speedy trial of Jeff. Davis, which was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Wilson (Mass.), from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported the resolution of thanks to the seamen who assisted in saving the soldiers and officers from the wreck of the steamship San Francisco. Also the bill to fix the rate of mileage for officers travelling on public duty.

At 12 o'clock the bill to extend the time for withdrawing goods from the public stores and bonded warehouses was taken up.
Mr. Sprague (Ill.) took the floor in opposition

House of Representatives. The first business in order during the morning hour was the call of Committees for reports, the reports to be piaced upon the calendar. None The next business was the call of the States for resolutions.

Mr. Ashley (Ohio) offered a resolution directing the Joint Committee on the Library to inquire into the expediency of purchasing the portrait of Hon. Joshua R. Giddings, now on biticn in the Congressional Library. Mr. Ashley stated that the picture was painted and owned by Miss Ransom, of Cleveland, Ohio, and was a work of art as faultless as it was a faithful representation of a great and good man who had for nearly a quarter of a century "Faithful stood, with prophet's finger Pointing towards the biessed to-be, When beneath the spread of heaven Every creature shall be free."

Mr. Eldridge (Mass.) demanded the yeas and nays, and being ordered, the vote resulted in yeas 78 and nays 53; so the resolution was auopted.
Mr. Julien (Ind.), by unanimous consent, introduced a bill to fix eight hours as a day's work in all cases where laborers, mechanics, or artisans shall be employed by or under the authority of the Government of the United States. It was read twice and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Spalding (Ohio) introduced a joint resolution in reference to the taxation of United States notes and certificates of indebtedness by the several States. The joint resolution proposes to enact that the act of June 39, 1864, shall not be so construed as to exempt from taxation by or under State or municipal authority United States notes or certificates of indeptedness bearing inerest. The joint resolution was read twice

Mr. Spalding moved to refer it to the Committee of Ways and Means, with leave to report at any time; and also moved the previous question, which was seconded.
Mr. Wentworth (Ill.) objected to the latter part of the motion, giving leave to report at any He wanted no repudiation. The Speaker-It is too late to object. The House has ordered the main question. Mr. Stevens-I hope the gentleman will make it a resolution of inquiry. The Speaker-There are no instructions in the joint resolution. It is simply to be referred to the Committee of Ways and Means. Mr. Wentworth—I would scarcely object to refer anything now, since the guarantee of the Mexican bonds was referred. (Laughter.) Mr. Conkling (N. Y.)—Will it be in order for me to ask the mover of that resolution to modify it, so as to make it applicable only to such secu-rities as shall be issued hereafter? The Speaker-It can only be done by unant mous consent.

Mr. Spalding—I shall not consent to that.

want to tax the greenbacks in the States. It is as much as we can do to carry the interest-bearmg bonds without taxation.

Mr. Morrill (Vt.)—Will not the gentleman make it a resolution of inquiry?

Mr. Spaiding—It goes no further than that it will be submitted to the Committee of Ways and Means.

Mr. Wentworth moved to reconsider the vote ordering the main question.

Mr. Stevens (Pa.)—I move to lay the joint resolution on the table. It is rank repudiation,

The vote ordering the main question was reconsidered. Mr. Stevens withdrew his motion.
Mr. Rogers (N. J) renewed it, and called for the yeas and mays. The yeas and mays being ordered, the vote resulted in yeas 42, nays 90, so the resolution was not laid on the table. Mr. Spalding then modified his resolution by striking out the words "certificates of indebted-

Several members objected to the right of mo diffication, but the Speaker ruled in favor of it.
On the suggestion of Mr. Hooper (Masa.), it was further modified, so as to read "that the act of June 30, 1864, shall not be so construed as to exempt from taxation by or under State or municipal authority, any amount of United States notes not bearing interest, held by any person as money." The previous question was again seconded, and the main question ordered; the joint resolution was referred to the Committee on Ways

DEATH OF A PROMINENT CITIZEN .- During the past ten days we have been called upon to chronicle the death of three prominent business men of Philadelphia and its vicinity—Mr. Martin, Mr. Fotterall, and Dr. Jayne. To-day we regret to be under the necessity of adding another to the list, John P. Crozer, one of the oldest, wealthiest, and most exteened manufactures. oldest, wealthiest, and most esteemed manufac-turers in the country, who died yesterday morn-ing, at about 9 o'clock, at his residence near Chester, in Delaware county. Mr. Crozer com-menced the manufacture of cotton goods at an early day, and, in connection with his sons, has been in active business up to within a few days of his death. His energy and business skill were only excelled by the integrity and irreproacha-ble character of his private life. Those who ble character of his private lite. Those who knew him best speak of him as a model of the true Christian gentleman, modest, unassuming, but overflowing with the milk of human kindness. Like Dr. Jayne, he was a devoted member of the Baptist Church, and gave largely to the benevolent and charitable organizations of that body-though he did not confine his benefactions to any particular branch of the Church His charity empraced all classes of the needy He leaves several sons and daughters to inherit his vast wealth. Rev. Benjamin F. Griffling. Agent of the Baptist Publication Society, and William Bucknell, Jr., both residents of our city, married two of his daughters. Mr. Crozer was about seventy-five years of age, and died after a comparatively short illness. He is another worthy and valuable citizen taken from us in the midst of his usefulness, crowned with years and honor. Every one that ever came in contact with him will regret the loss of a good

LAUNCHED THIS MORNING .- A new irea steam tow-boat, side-wheel, built at the yard of Messrs Cramp and Son, for towing coal barges from Berdentown to the Schuylkill, was launched from Berdentown to the Schuylkill, was launched this morning, at high tide, from the upper yard of the builders. The vessel is wholly built of iron, whe wonder is, the unprecedented shortness of the time in which she was built. Her keel was laid on January 2; she was put in the water on March 12. The iron frame alone was not yet rolled at the date first named. A furnace for the purpose of bending the iron was put up close by the stocks, and this is now a permanent appurtenance of the yard. A fine marine rallway is nearly completed at the same point, of sufficient capacity to haul ont of water the largest merchantmen that come to this port. There has been a want of such a railway as the one in question. It will be faished about the 1st of April. The tow-boat launched this morning is 165 feet long, 25 feet beam, 50 feet over ad. Excepting the guards she is constructed wholly of iron. At the lower yard of the same builders is a large ferry-boat in progress of construction, the first for the new Shackamaxon street Ferry to Camden. A large three-masted schooner, and another propeller tug-boat, are affectionately side by side. This part of the river front is full of bustle and activity.

SINGULAR FATALITY AMONG CATTLE .-John McCarty, a very respectable farmer and dairyman, hving on the Yellow House road, about three miles below the city, has lost within a short time a number of cows by a disease which has not as yet been explained. That it is contagious in its character cannot be doubted. as the symptoms and effects are similar in al cases. The malignity of the malady is proved by the fact that the cattle altacked scarcely ever recover. Already some twelve have died, and out of the number which he had a few weeks ago only five or six remain. The case is a sad one, as these cattle were the means by which Mr. McCarty secured his living. It is to be hoped that scientiae gentlemen will give this matter their careful attention, and that appropriate means will be taken to limit the spread of the disease. Every precaution should be taken by our Board of Health, and other associations formed for the purpose of taking care of our sanitary condition during the coming summer. It is not necessary for our citizens to grow excited about these matters, but wise precautions are always proper in such cases.

PENSIONS.—The Pension Agent was busy during the past week in paying the widows and orphans of our dead soldiers, and those who have been mutilated for life in the great struggle for our national existence, the sum granted by adopted of having special days works admirably, as the crowd is thereby diminished, and the rush entirely avoided. It is a great improvement upon the old plan of every one taking their chances, necessitating the waste of time by the pensioners, and the great discomfort of all concerned.

AMAZONIAN.-A youth named William Donnelly, seventeen years of age, entered the General Grant House, No. 123 North Seventh street, on Saturday night, and went up stairs with the intention of committing a burglary. He had in his pessession a chisel and a number of false keys. A woman residing in the house saw him going up stairs, and proceeded after him. She courageously seized Donnelly by the throat, and was in turn seized in like manner by the burglar. A scuffle ensued, during which Donnelly got the worst of it, for he was arrested and taken before Alderman Godbou, who held him in $800 bail.

WHOLESALE ARREST OF DISORDERLY Boys .- On Saturday last Mayor McMichael gave the different Police Lieutenants instructions to arrest all disorderly boys found lounging about street corners, and otherwise disturbing the public peace. In accordance with this order 50 arrests were made in the Eighth Police District, comprised in the Thirteenth and Fourtenth Wards; 25 in the Second District, Thurd and Fourth Wards; 30 in the First District, First and wenty-sixth Wards; 20 in the Twelith District, Twentieth Ward; and about 20 were arrested in different other districts.

COULDN'T SEE ANY HARM IN IT .- John Fell is an American citizen of African descent. stole a quantity of sugar from another colored citizen, who in turn stole the same from a firm called Lippincott & Co. John, when arrested, sald "He didn't think it was any harm to steal de sugar from anoder nigger who stole it from de white folks." Alderman Godbou, however, before whom John was taken, "couldn't see it in that light," and held him in $800 to

CORONER'S CASES .- The Coroner will hold an inquest to-day on the body of a lad named James Gammon, aged three years, residing at No. 611 South Eighteenth street, who was run over by a wagon at Eighteenth and South streets, on Saturday evening and killed. Also on the body of Bridget Coales, aged 28 years, who was found dead on Saturday evening at her residence, No. 1131 Somerset street. DIED OF HER INJURIES .- Mrs. Snell, who, it will be remembered, was shot in the head by some person unknown, while walking with her husband and child in the Eighth Ward, died of her injuries on Saturday afternoon, between and 3 o'clock. It was at first supposed that the wound would not prove intal, but such was not the result. She resides at No. 2029 Palethorpe street. The individual that committed the act is still at large.

CHARGED WITH ARSON.—A young man was arrested yesterday, charged with setting fire to a hay barrack on the Logan estate, near Germantown, some time since. Three cows and about one and a half tons of hay were de-stroyed by the fire. The barn was occupied by Thomas Keliey, and owned by Judge Keliey and ATTACK WITH A "BILLY."-Jas. McCart ney attacked Samuel Fleming with a "billy," at a house, Second and Thompson streets, last evening, for which he was taken before Alderman Shoemaker, and committed in default of $1000 ball.

Gentlemen:—I have recently been laboring under the dis ressing effects of indigestion accompanied by a prostration of the nervous system. A uncrous remedies were recommended by irienes, and some of them tes of but wit hout relief. Your Hoofland's German Bitters were recommended by pricase, and some of them tes of but wit hout relief. Your Hoofland's German Bitters were recommended by persons who had tree them, and whose involable menion of these bit ers induced one to try them. I must confess that I had an aversion to Patent kedicines from the "thousand and one" quack. Bitters," whose only alm seems to be to parm of sweetened and drugged liquor upon the community in a sly way, and the tendency of which I tes, is to make many a confirmed drunkard. Upon tearning that yours was really a medicinal preparation. I took it wit happy effect. Its action not only upon the stomach out upon the nervous system was promot and gratifying. I feel that I have derived great and permanent benefit from the use of a few bottles. that I have derived given the use of a few boiles.
