AMUSEMBNTS.

WALRET STREET THEATER.—The farewell night of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mean. A solemn night, whom a tiss of the his best cult vation of genius, of world wide requisition, take a lin I lead of the public, and by them will be seen no more. Mr. and Mrs. Kean retire into the hishest social circle, where they have the simulation, as seen, and affection of the noblest, the most estimable, and the mest intellectual of the land. With the remembranes of a career that is without a stain, with the co-viction of having advanced the dramatic art, and the greatest dramaust of the world, Shakes pare, in the minds of the Esglish people, Mr. and Mrs. Kean can ski in their hornes with bright memories around those. This evening the plays will be The Stranger and The Wender, two classical and sterline pieces. The increwell night of Mr. and Mrs. Kean should be an ovation. Tomerrow Mr. Roberts will appear in the Corsican Brothers.

NEW CHESNOT STREET PREATRE.-This evening the performance is for the benefit of Mr. George Clarke, an actor of artistic talent of a sixth order, with every advantage for acquiring a high position in the dramatic art. He has had lets epportunities of pia ung paras that suited him, which probably rendered him somewhat careiess; but Mr. Clarke is a fine artist, and deserves the encouragement of the public, especially as for the last two weeks he has been suffering from extreme id-health. The Comical Countess is a charming compay.

BEECHER ON RECONSTRUCTION. - The sale of RECOMMENDED ON ARCONSTRUCTION.—The sale of tickets for Rev. Herry ward Bescher's leature on Reconstruction, to be delivered at the Academy of Music on Thursday evening next has been unprecedented. The plan of conducting the sale of saits at two places—Ashmend & Evans' and Claxton's—this given great satisfaction, there having been an immense number of tickets sold in a short time, and without delay to jurcha ers. The few good seats remaining unsold, to be obtained at all, must be ap-

MATTERS OVER THE RIVER.

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES.-In accordance with the general belief that the Asiatic cholera will visit this country during the present summer, the proper authorities of Camdon seem to be determined to put the city in as clean and healthful condition as possible previous to its arrival. Many parts of the city are wretchedly filthy, and the streets covered with mud and garbage, which have accumulated during the winter, and in South Ward stagnant pools of water lie in low lots, only waiting the hot summer sun to send forth their mephitle exhalations to engender discuse and death. Aware of these facts, the medical faculty and the samtary committees are urging the purgation of the streets and the removal of nuisances with energy. But they have a giganuc work before them, unless the citizens themse wes will aid the authorities by keeping their own premises free from malariabreeding offal and garbage. This is a matter of no small consequence to the sanitary condition of the people, and the strictest care and cleanliness should be observed by every housekeeper.

CULVERT BROKE, -A portion of the culvert on Mickle street tell in resterday, and un-less it is at once-repaired, the basements along that street will again be flooded with water. This culvert is but a small wooden concern, and needs replacing with a new substantial An ordinance authorizing the building of a new one, was passed over a year since but the surhorities have neglected to commence the work, aithough the property owners have urged it strenuously, and stand ready to pay their respective assessments for it the moment the work is completed. The work should commence at once, and thus receive the people of much inconvenience.

Conference.-The New Jersey Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church will commence its sessions, in the Third Street Church, on Wednesday next, and will probably continue for a week or ten days. There is con-siderable aportant business to be transacted, arkers of that persuasion are engaged and the preparations to accommodate the in mal nd others in attendance from a distant pars the State. During the continuance of the Conference some very interesting meetings are expected to be held.

NEW DWELLING Houses .- On Third street, above Penn, five new and capacious dwelling houses are nearly completed; and on Second street, above Cooper, six more are soon to be erected, one of which has already been commenced. They are to be built in the most complete and elegant manner, and with a style of architecture which cannot fail to add much to the neat appearance of this part of the city.

CURIOUS HEN'S NEST.—A young lad named Edwin Errickson, while hunting for a hen's nest under a barn, a few days ago, at Barnegat, came across a nest containing nearly $500 in greenbacks. It is thought the money had been stolen and hid there for safe keeping, and to avoid

THE ORGANIZATION .- Some considerable interest is manifested concerning the organiza-tion of the City Cohneil to-might. The official return of the election will then be published, and the ordinary business incident to the first meeting of a new Council will be transacted.

THE RECENT BURGLARY.-No traces of the perpetrators of the robbery at Mr. John Morgan's office on Wednesday morning have yet been obtained. The thieves made a successful

MARLTON.-The M. E. Church at Marlton, Burlington county, has within the last few menth more than doubled its membership, an interesting revival having prevailed at that
