MATTERS OVER THE RIVER.

CAPE MAY .- From present indications the coming season at this popular summer resort will, for numbers, tachlon, and amusement, eclipse all its predecessors. The railroad lead-ing bither will run additional trains to those employed last summer; while the comfort of travel has been increased by the clearing of the woodland, where such exists, to a considerable distance on each side of the road. Woodbury, Glassboro, North and South Vineland, and Mill-Glassboro, North and South Vineland, and Millville, lying along the route, are pretty and thriving villages. In addition to the trains, boats will leave Philadelphia and New York every day for Cape Island. The Baltimore passengers come, via care, to New Castle, and thence by boat to the Island. At Cape May everything shows the hand of improvement.
New cottages are being erected, and the hotels renovated and repaired. The Centre House, Washington Hotel, and Colonel Fenlins "Cottage by the Sea," have remained open during the winter. The Ocean, House and Congress Hall unite to form a New Congress Hall, the whole being under the management of Mr. J. F.
Cake, and forming one of the largest hotels in Cake, and forming one of the largest hotels in America. The Tontine, a small notel last year, has been greatly enlarged, and now bears the name of the Sherman House. In front of Con-gress Hall long rows of neat and pretty bathhouses have been erected, and upon the lawn new summer-houses have appeared.

Mr. Samuel R. Magonagle, the proprietor of the Wave, has erected a handsome new publica-tion office. Dr. Ralph M. Townsend, of this city, will be junior editor of the summer's edi-tion, and the paper promises to be a welcome visitor at the daily breakfast-table.

A feet of yachis will be anchored off the island, for the purpose of accommodating fish-ing parties, etc. No better tishing or guming exists than that found in the many lalets and marshes around the island. Parties from as far South as the Carolinas nave visited the island during the present month, for the purpose o securing cottages; but the demand far exceeds the supply. Rooms have already been engaged at the various hotels, and everything indicates a CAUTION TO HOUSEKEEPERS. - On Saturday two men dressed in military apparel were seen wandering along the streets of Camden, apparently engaged in selling various triding articles. On Federal street one of them entered a house while the family were upstairs at work, and took from the parlor a bonuet, and then decamped. The article was soon missed, and as the men was seen to enter and leave the house again by a neighbor, they were watched and arrested. At the time they were arrested the man who had taken the bonnet was about hiding it under a wood pile at the foot of Plum street. They were taken before Mayor Budd, and one of them giving the name of Robert Park was committed; the other was released. So frequent have these robberies become, that it is strange housekeepers will keep their from oors open even while they are busy in other parts of the house.

CULVERTING .- At the recent session of the New Jersey Legislature a supplement was passed to the charter of Camden, anthorizing the City Council to divide the several wards into culvert districts, and to assess all property within said districts to pay expenses of constructing necessary drains, culverts, etc. This is as it should be, for, under the old system, only those residing on the streets in which the culverts were laid were assessed, although others were benefited as much as they. As soon as the weather becomes settled, three or four culverts will be commenced.

A NECESSARY LAW .- The City Councils have passed an ordinance netitying all families against throwing offal and garbage into the paved streets, under a severe penalty. It also provides for the removal of ashes, etc., in carts every Wednesday and Saturday mornings. This timely precaution in the removal of filth will be of great advantage to the sanitary condition of Camden during the warm and sickly weather.

CONFIRMATION .- The Right Rev. Bishop Odenheimer, of the New Jersey diocese, yester-day morning paid his annual visit to St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church, in Camden, and administered the rite of confirmation to twenty-

ARRESTED .- On Saturday night, Officer Ayres arrested a man at the depot, who was charged with having stolen $11 from a person in Philadelphia. The money was found upon his person, and he was handed over to the Philadelphia officer, who took him in charge.

DELIRIUM TREMENS.-Yesterday a man was admitted into the Station House, in a terri-ble fit of delirium tremens. He presented a serious plight, exhibiting those brutal instincts which disgrace humanity. Oh, rum, what wilt thou not do?

LOCKED UP.—Mayor Budd yesterday locked up a regular specimen of a female Amazon, who had shown a peculiar penchant for smashing up things in general, and threaten-ing to take the lives of the family with whom she was living in Plum street.

BOARD OF EDUCATION .- The new Board of Education has organized by the election of Thomas G. Rowand, M. D., as President; Thomas A. Wilson, Treasurer; and James M. Cassady,

Another School.—Arrangements are being made to reopen the public school at the paper mills, which has been suspended since the new building on Sixth street was completed.

ATLANTIC COURTS. — To-morrow, the April term of the Atlantic county Courts will commence at May's Landing. Considerael business upon the docket is to be disposed of.

SAd ACCIDENT .- A small child of Mr. Morgan, a gentleman residing on Mickle street, above Front, fell down a pair of stairs on Saturday, and had its arm broken.

Another Large Fire in New York.

DESTRUCTION OF A PIANO FORTE MANUFACTORY. This morning about 3 o'clock a fire was discovered in the plane forte manufactory, Nos. 101, 103, and 105 E. Thirty-third street, owned 101, 103, and 105 E. Thirty-third street, owned by M. Laes Shiseng. At the time the fire was first seen it appeared to be on the first floor, near the stove. The building, which is five stories high, 75 feet front by 27 feet deep, was entirely destroyed.

The loss on stock, tools, etc., is estimated at about $20,000, insured for $3000, as follows:—Equitable, of Philadelphia, $2000; Norwich, $1000; Philadelphia Fire and Life, $1000; Groceis, $2000; Baltle, $2000; Knickerbocker, $1000. Total, $9000.

Total, $9000. Total, $9000; Knickerbocker, $1000. Total, $9000.

The bailding was owned by Mrs. Ann M. Shlseng; loss about $10,000, insured for $7300, as follows:—Kensington, of Philadelphia, $1000; Philadelphia Fire and Life, $1300; People's, $1000; Commonwealth, $2000. New Amsterdam, $2000. Total, $7300.

When the rear wall fell some of the windowwhich the fear wall tell some of the window-blinds on the buildings on Thirty-fourth street were destroyed. The cornice of Nos. 108 and 110 were also on fire several times. The origin of the fire is reported as suspicious, and Fire Marshal Baker has it under investigation.—New York Commercial Advertiser, Salurday.

-The Norfolk Post says that the oyster law passed by the Virginia Legislature is doing more to injure the trade of Norfolk than all other causes combined. Since it has gone into operation at least fifty vessels have left that port to load with Maryland oysters. The steamers refuse to carry oysters from Norfolk, as the tonnage duty is too enormous for them

—There is a talk of reviving at the Pergola Theatre, Florence, operas no less substantial than Spontin's Vestale and Fernand Cortex, Cherubini's Medea, (the day of which majestic work seems to be coming everywhere), the same composer's Les Deux Journees (which ought to be brought to a hearing), the Agnese of Paer, and other of the once famous solid musical operas, which have been displaced by the works of later days.

AMUSEMENTS.

Wainut Street Theatre. — The play Mrs. Rowers presents to highly, entitled Diana belongs to the highest school of the drama. It is full of action, without spirit, but yet free from all the faults of the sensational school. The dialocus is full of with and repartes Mr. McCollom and Mr J H Paylor are the two heroes and Mrs. Bowers plays the part of a bewildering, bewitching coquette; graceful brilliant, yet impassioned. The part is eminimitly adapted to her versatile powers. The dresses are splended and tasteful. Diana should produce a sensation.

To-morrow afternoon Mesars Marble and Wilks will take a benefit at this theatre. Both of these very young actors have acquired the favor of the public by their talent and spirit Mr. Marble belongs to the aristocracy of the dramatic profession, it an ancestry of talent may be so accounted. They ofter a capital bill, varied by distinguished volunteers from all the theatres, and should meet with generous patronage. generous patronage

NEW CHESNUT STREET THEATRE.-The first of a NEW CHESTOT STREET THEATRE.—The first of a secrets of capital stering comedies will be given this evening. The Heir-at-Law, with the whole strength of the company, including Miss Orton as the touder and toucing "Cice y Homespun." will be given. It is quite refreshing to see the Chesnut rising into higher spheres. It has a fine company (with some few exceptions, good scenery, and fine resources for mise-cu-scene, and we trust that the success of this week will prove that there is no need of descending to sensation to draw

ARCH STREET THEATRE.—Mr. Murdoch's "Ham-let" is the most deeply studied, the most scholar y, and the very triumph of intellect. Every word and sentence of Shakespeare finds its true meaning, its philosophy, its deep passion, its marvellous pathos. This will be one of the great intellectual enjoyments of Mr. Murdoch's eng. gement. of Mr. Murdoch's eng gement.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC—The Ravels continue their charming entertainments. This evening a new piece called the Alchymiat, or, the Illusion, will begiven, with Gabriel Ravel and Mad'lle Peupa, who blays and dances and enchants in the character of an ap-

in our relations with the Divan has arisen as follows:-Sarkis Minasian, who has for many years acted as the resident agent in Turkey for the sale of Dr. J. C. Aver & Co.'s medicines, driven by the increase of his business to a necessity for more room, built his warehouse in Constantinople several stories higher, after having obtained the necessary permit from the authorities. The Imans of a neighboring mosque which overlooked the premises demanded a large present in money, which was refused. They then applied to the Grand Vizier for the enforcement of an obselete law, which had been disregarded two hundred years, requiring him to take down the building to eighteen feet, which was granted, and they commenced the work of demolition. Minasian then applied to the American Minister, who notified the Sublime Porte that American property could not be thus trifled with, and that the demolition must cease. Then commenced the usual course of Mussulman prevarication and promises, but no nulsulman prevariation and promises, but no real redress. Finally Minister Morris informed them that if their depredations continued, he should order the United States ships-of-war to enter the Fosphorus, and Messrs. Ayers' medical warehouse would not be alone roodess. A stroke of his pen could have laid the whole city under the sweep of American cannon, backed by men who are not schooled in the lessons of tear. This brought them to their senses and speedy redress. Minasian has now senses and speedy redress. Minasian has now arrived in this country, to present the case to our State Department for indemnity. At length it is something to say among the peoples of the earth—"I am an American citizen!"—Columbia
