WINDOW SHADES.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medical Directory, Review, on the subject of the extract of Sarsaparilla in venereal affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., etc. Speaking of Syphilis, and diseases arising from the use of mercury, he states: "The remedy is equal to the extract of Sarsaparilla, and is as efficacious, and in some instances, is more so, than any other drug used in the treatment of venereal diseases."

N. E. CORNER

TWO TABLESPOONFUL of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Laboulbion Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usual made. The decoction is exceedingly disagreeable, and it is necessary to prepare it fresh every day, and the syrup is still more objectionable, as it is weaker than the decoction; and a fluid saturated with sugar is susceptible of holding in solution much less extractive matter than water alone, and is very inferior to the decoction, and is very inferior to the decoction, and is very inferior to the decoction.
