CITY INTELLIGENCE

[For Additional Local Items see Third Page.]

ARRESTED.-James Young was arrested last evening on the charge of highway robbery. It appears that a Mr. Gallagher was walking along Lombard street, near Second, about 12 o'clock on Easter Sunday night, when he was overtaken by a man who represented himself to belong to the Harbor Police, and who entered into conversation with Gallagher. In an un-guarded moment Gallagher was knocked down by the pretended police officer, and robbed of a Pocket book and coat and nat. Yesterday evening Gallagher was walking along Walnut street in company with Officer Broomal, when he passed a man having on him what he (Gallagher) recognized as his coat. The fellow was stopped, but immediately undertook to make his escape. After running a short dis-tance he was arrested, and locked up. A number of pawn tickets were found in his possession

THE GREAT TRAGEDY.-There are no new developments in the great murder case worth recording. A man made his appearance at the Central Station this morning, who claims to be an old acquaintance of Probst, both in Germany and this country. He states that he knows his whole history, and requested permis-sion to see the prisoner, in order to try and get a full statement from him in the way of a confession. Chief Detective Franklin will accompany the man to Movamensing Prison to-day, and afford him an interview with Probst. It is estimated that ten thousand persons visited the scene of the tragedy yesterday. Penknives were used all over the premises, and thousands of persons carried away relics. Some bark was discovered on a tree containing blood, but the knives of relic hunters stripped the tree of its

The bed-clothes were upset and household utensiis scattered around in great confusion. A twenty-dollar note, which was overlooked by the thief, was found on the floor when the family returned. It is believed that the thief secured a watch, which

A SACRILIGIOUS THIEF .- On Friday night the priest's residence, adjoining the Catholic Church, on Price street, Germantown, was en-tered by a basement window, and the sacriligious thief attempted to break open what is known as the tabernacle, in which certain sacred arti-cles are kept, and which stood upon an altar. The tabernacle was defaced and broken, but the thlet did not succeed in getting anything. A hole was drilled through the door of the tabernacie, but an entrance could not be effected

ARRESTED AFTER A LONG DRIVE.— Henry Manderfield, alias Wilson, hired a carriage and pair of horses at Reading recently, under pretense of taking his sister out riding. He was suspected and arrested, and the above facts leaked out, when he was sent back to

THE GREAT SALE OF PICTURES .- Very considerable excitement is felt in fine art circles in regard to the approaching sale conducted by Mr. Robinson. The collection contains some special gems, to which it is our intention to refer specially in another issue. In the meantime, we urge all who admire fine paintings to call at Mr. Robinson's gallery, and examine the pictures. The large sales of first-class paintings is an indication of a growing taste for art in the country which is very gratifying.

Conspiracy to Rob.—On Saturday evening, white a colored man was engaged in paying a colored woman some money, at a house in the neighborhood of Eighth and St. Mary's street he was approached by two other men, and the money in his possession forced from him. He cried murder, when the woman and her accomplices, who are named Virginia Chippey, Charles Manning, and George Nixon, were arrested.

TWO TABLESPOONSFUL of the Extract of Sarsaparrila, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Biet Drink, and one bothe is equal to a gial on of the Syrap of Sarsanarhia, or the decocion as usually made. The decocition is exceeding troub esome, as it is necessary to prepare it fresh every day, and the syrap is still more objectionable, as it is weaker than the decocition; for a full saturated with sugar is susceptible of holding in solution much less extractive matter than water alone and he syrap is o herwise objectionable for the patient is frequently natureated with suceristic objectionable for the rated, by the large proportion of sucer he is obliged to take with each dose of barsaparil a and which is of no new whatever, except to keep the decocition from sholing.
