PERELLI'S OFERA.—The last but one of the series of operas that has been delighting us this winter look place last evening—a recotition of Linda. Miss Denegre has recovered from her indeposition, and the opera was therefore given complete. Miss Hewlett has very much improved; she has gained force; her voice has jost its crace tones, and is no v smooth and mellow. Her execution is perfectly even. All that Miss Howlett wants is expression to make her a pleasing as well as a fine perfectly even. All that all is flewlett wants is expression to make her a pleasing as well as a flow singer. The degree of perfection to which Mias Hewlett has attained, snovs the great service Perch's opera are doing for the progress of music and the influence they will have on our future.

They must inevitably lead to a foundation of a musical school which will be or immense advantage.

to our population, and raise Philadelphia in the rank of cities. Miss Denegie's voice and manner are atterly changed from when we first heard her—she is last becoming an artist. She has still to guard against an inexac hest of intonation, the bestting defect of contraito voices. Br. Schmidtz's cellette and sympathetic voice safleted a little from his recent lluces, but still his singur is most streeable. Durand gave us all the music with his usual perfection: ons maled ction scene was greeted with the sponta-neous enthusiasm such time powerful, artistic act-ing is sure to excite. The crayer in the just not was as effectively same as it ever was on any operationstage. Mr. Nathans' does tones are marnificent in such moreover. The choins was excellent. The large and factorable audience went away with a profound recret that this opera was so near the end of these emertan ments. There is one more opera to be given—Favorita, with Signor Perein.

ARCH STREET THEATRE. -Mr. Barrett gave for bis ARCH STREET HEATHE.—Mr. Barrett gave for his benefit. The Marble Heart. His "Rapusel" was intense, earnest, and pathetic, and increased his reputation. The play was well put on the stage, and the difficunt statue scene exceedingly well managed. This evening Richard III will be given, the evincing performance of Mr. Barret.'s engaged on. On Monday Madame Coleste will committee.

WALRUT STREET THEATRE.-This will be Mr. Brougham's and high for the season, a circum stance which the public will much regret. He ha drawn immense houses throughout the whole o his two cugarements. This evening he give us Playing With Fire, and the burlesque of Meta ACADLMY OF MUSIC -- The Ravels give two per for matrices to-day. At the Matinee, as well as at the evening performance, the three brothers Ravel will appear, and M'he Yepita, Young America, and the Martinette family. All the young people, freed from school to-day, patronize the Ravel Matinee.

AMERICAN THEATRE.—The wonderful performances of the boy El Nino kadie are mee ing with a just appreciation both in the numbers, that are in attendance and in the any lause with which they are nightly received. The Fowier Sisters are also ocau-tiful performers. Mr. Heron, the new tenor, is a great addition to the corps.

New Chesnut Street Theatre.—The last op-portunity of seeing Miss Mitchell in her popular creation of "Fanchon" will be to-night, as on iton-day she will appear in another play, The Pearl of

THE SACKING OF ALTAMURA .- A private view The SACKING OF ALTANURY.—A private view was given last evening, at r. Gabrylewitz's Philadelphia Art Gallery, No. 1895 Chesnut street, of Cammarana's great bistorical ricture of the Sacking of Adamira by Cardioal kuffo, in 1799, Quite a number of councisseurs in painting were present at the exhibition, including a large syrinking of the members of the press, who were all unanimously agreed as to the flority, historical accuracy, and wonderally meritorious qualities of the picture As a work of art it certainly stands unsurpa sed in the school of which it is a splendid idustration; and as long as genius shall be admired, so long will Cammarana's name, as the producer of such a work, be neld in the highest esteem. Mr. John Sartain, of this city, has received in-tructions to engrave the picture in the best style known to the river's art, and in the meantime the work itself will remain on exhibition at the Gabrylewitz Gallery for the inspection of the

COMPLIMENTARY BENEFIT,-Master E. B. Dantels, the boy who distinguished himself as the drum-mer of the 68th Penns lyania Regiment, raised by Colone Hawksworth, of this city, will have a our fit on Wednesday evening. THE editor of the Bulletin writes :-"Partly in a spir.t of scientific inquiry, and con siderably more with the desire to get rid of a trouble some stump or long standing, we visited Dr Colton. at his office. No 787 Walnut street, this morning. We inhaled the gas, and woke up in a minute or two from a pleasant dream, feeling as fresh and well as ever, and having the protound pleasure of seeing our old termenter fast in the grip of the forceps of the operator. We absolutely felt no pain whatever during the operation."

P. H Vancer Weyde, Professor of Chemistry in Girard College, writes to Dr. Colton:-

"I know of no case m which I should consider the nitrous oxide gas unadvisable, except in a stage of consumption so far gone that the excitement attending the extraction of a tooth would be unsafe without any anasthetia "

GAS CONSUMERS.

The equal distribution of gas from one source of supply to many points of outlet, extending over a large area, involves a greater expense than is consistent with commercial interests, and the consequence is, that consumers are compelled to submit to the inconveniences of over and under supply, or individually to

The head which forces through the supply mains the necessary amount of gas for consumers, is called "pressure. ' and is measured by the number of tenths of inches of water which it will support in a syphon tube. Every service pipe that conveys gas from the line of a great main deprives the remaining portion of a certain amount of pressure; the consequence is, that when large amounts of gas are to be passed, the pressure at the source of supply and at the terminus is very far from equal, so that it is utterly impossible for gas companies to furnish a supply without a sensible dif ference between the source and the extremity of use, and the consequent wasteful consumption by the con-

There are two means of remedying this difficulty One is to place in the house of each consumeria Garholder of sufficient capacity to contain the supply for a night, and allow it to be filled during the day, and then shut off from the street pressure, and burn from the

The other is to place in each house, along with the meter, an instrument called a Regulator, which only shall furnish the needed amount of gas required for each ourner, and with a uniform pressure. a h 50.001 cm The first would prove expensive, offensive, and danperous. The second is the plan generally adopted, and of the number of devices contrived for this purpose nearly all have proved tailures, owing to their use of Mercury, or the Fiexible Diaphragm.

The two essential qualities to be attained in an efficient Regulator are: -Finar, delicacy of adjustment, with reference to some fixed standard; and SECOND the ability, within the instrument itself, to increase the pressure when the greater quantity of gas is re-

These qualities, with other peculiar advantages, are combined in the Regulator invented by Dr. C. M. Cresson. It has been used with great success in Philadelphia during the past two years, always producing a steady light, with a saving of from twenty to thirty per cent. in the amount of gas consumed.

EXPERIMENTAL TRIAL

OF THE

CRESSON REGULATO3,

AT THE

Franklin Institute, October 18, 1865

COPY OF REPORT.

"An experimental trial was then made as to the quantity of gas consumed by the burners when under regulation to their maximum economy, and also the amount consumed by the same burners when subjected to the ordinary variations of street pressure.

"The result showed that with the Regulator there was uniformly 78 cubic feet of gas per hour consumed, being an average of a 7-10 cubic feet per burner. While without the Regulator the same burners consumed from 163 to 140 cubic feet per hour, the average being 126 cubic feet, or 6 feet per hour to each burner."
