AN INTERESTING CEREMONY .- A tablet

AN INTERESTING CEREMONY. -- A tablet of poinhed white marble, about three leet in width, and seven in height, was yes-terday set into the wall in the vestibule of Fine Street Church. It is to commemorate the young men who went from that church to sustain the cause of their country against recelicon, and who fell in maintaining that righten cause and in a panel at the top the word "Martyrs," encircled by a clown of therms, be ow he words "From Fine Street Church " a sword and shackles. Then follow in carved letters the names, with the date and place of death, respectively, of those who fell in deiness of death, respectively, of those who fell in delense of the nation

Yesterday atternoon, at 4 o'clock, ceremonies ap-propriate to the occasion took place Prayer was offered by Key. Dr Robbins. Ur. Bramerd toen said that he hoped that the daty of doing henor to our noble oreal, begun m this church to-cay, would be followed by every church in the land. He know that, if those whose names are inscribed poon that mutal tablet had been asked what tribute they would most delight m, it they were to fail in their country's cause, they it they were to fail in their country's cause, they would prefer to be remembered by their church, and honored just as we have honored them; many of those whose names appear he had ba used in their infancy, and he jost still that they were his children. He then introduced Charles Giobons, sations to Dr. Branera, the distinguished and bonored pastor of this churca, for the opportunity of offering upon this occasion a brief tribute of te memories of the dead soldiers of the Those whose names are clussified upon sect to the this taolet we'e personally known to thes congrega tion, with whom, as I am informed, they worshipped They could not hear the truth preached, as it was by their loval pastor, without being inspired with by their joyal pastor, without being inspired with battred for treason and oppression. They gave their lives for the overthrow of both. They fell nobly in the cause of truth and jurflee, with the armor of righteousness upon them "they sleep well." The fullest measure of our gratitude is due, not to them only, but to two hundree and eighty thousand more who fe im battle dued of diseases contracted in the upble style. public service, or from statuation and fiendish crucity in the foul pens and prisons of the South. What can we do for them now that they are dead?

Nothing. We can only a sociate they with the cause for which they died, and honor them by honoring the cause. We must uphold it as worthy of their sacrifice, and never-never abandon it. They died for their country-for liberty and justice, at war with treason, oppression, and wrong. They did their duty well, and it is ours to see that their services shall not be cheapened or their fame im-perilled, by putt ng our trust in trainers, or encouraging a laise sympathy with men whose hands are stained with loyal blood, and whose hearts are The as there as there oaths, Could we usult the memories of our dead soldiers more than to permit the enemies who shew then to enter our lecisia ive hals and make laws for the people? Is the nation to be governed now by the men who sought to destroy it? Shall they wipe their bloody swords upon the flag for which the lova soldier died, and yote in Congress against the people or his widew or his condens which the picusion for his widow or his congress against the picusion for his widow or his corphan child? This volve tablet is a profest against it! From every battle-field come the volces of our slain in earnest and solenn r+monstrance! The dead of Anderson-vile start into life again, and standing before us will start into life again, and standing before us with their giaring eyes that pioree our very souls, with their giaring eyes that pioree our very souls, with their giaring eyes that pioree our very souls. ask if we whom they erved, would dishonor them now by crowning treason. From Libby and Castle Thunder, as d Beile is a and Salisbury the ghosts of our butters rise and domand with trumpet tongues but fit includes the additional with with the forever sacred, and that no trator's hand shall fouch the ark that bears it. For their sake, then-for the liv-ing as well as the dead-lor the sake of our children -for the sake of justice-for the sake of God-let us harbor neither live hor sympathy, nor confidence har bear for the sake of for the sake of sold set.

nor respect for treason or for trainors! We should never t ust the flag of our country in such hands nor suffer the vote of a traitor to defile an American ballot-box! The waves of freaton is d ath, and so it has been ever since the days of Judas. If that penaity be commuted to perpetual distranchisement of the trailors of the South who have been in arms against us, it is as far as mercy can go without injustice, and wrong, and insult to the good citizen who serves the country with fide-buy and lass down his bide it downer being b Ity and lays down his life in its derense. It is a sad and sickening spectacle to see a processor of loyalty standing on the grave of the murdered Lincoln, and hear him demand for traitors the unconditional right hear him demand for traitors the unconditional right of representation in Cong. ess. I am not uttering a political speech, but simply the inspirations of a loyal heart filled with respect for the memory of the men who died for us, and with gratitude to the Almighty Father for accepting them as his instruments to destroy oppression, break every yoke, and proclaim liberty to all the inhabi-tants of the land. We must secure all that our arms have woos. If we listen to that kind of instruction that comes from the fase prophets of the day, who are ready to scourge us tor doubting their assumed and comes from the in septopoles of the day, who are ready to scourge us for doubting their assumed intallibility, instead of having a Moses for our leader, we shall be ble the cedats of Lebanon that accepted a bramble for their ruler, and were de-stroyed by the fire that came out of it. We must learn our lessons in a very different school. We had better look into the graves where cities and nations

A PLEASAXT ENTERTAINMENT. — The annual examination of St. Michae's School took place last night, in the school building attached to st Michael's Church, in Second streat. near J for-son. In the presence of a large concourse of persons it eace claes were commenced by an overture by the back, composed of pupils of the school, at the class of which the second class was examined in re-gard to their statisments in geography. The est dence given by the case of problements in this branch of their studies, was quite satisfies cry. The examination in this study continued for about the Brother who conducted the examination were answered promptly. The pupils of the first class place are undoubted evidence of their statisments in English grammar, book-keeping, algebra, and prometry. MUSICAL FUND HALL reometry. 'The school consists of about five hundred scholars.

taught by six instructors, who are known by the name of Christian Brothers, B. R. Onver being the Director of the schoo . The exercises were concluded by a grand fina'e by the Band.

PARADE OF THE CADETS OF TEM-PERANCE.—The Cadots of Temp-rance paraded yesterday, according to announcement, but the rain interfered sadly with the arrangements before the entire route had been passed over. The members of the various Sections assemiled on Broad street, right sections of the unit assemiled on Broad street, right the various Sections assemi led on Broad street, right resting on Che-nut, punctually at 10 o'clock, in the fol o'sling order:-First Division, composed of Sec-tions Nos. 1 to 5, headed by Jacob Potter, Grand Maishal, and Special Aids: second Division, Sec-tions Nos. 6 to 12. are buried, and inquire why they perished. We shall find that oppression and pride, and avarice and corruption, and injustice, fostered by false prophets, brought upon them the judzments of the Almighty and the irrevocable penalty of death. "Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida!" stands to-da, as a perpetual warning to all people and nations of the earth. I should tremble for my country new more than ever before, if I had not faith in the power and will of Almighty God to overrule the mirigues of faithless servants, and es-tailsh that justice who e judgments do not vary with the complex on of its wards. Let us r joice that ou nob e dead have left to us the grateial duty of pating together the grand re-sults of their patriotic sacrifices. We have their honored and living comta riots to aid us in this sa cred work W+ have the 1 ght of Christianity to cheer us in our labors, and to illuminate and flustrate, as we poor ss, the victories of the war. What a giorious work it is, to fit up from darkness and degradation, into light and respectability, an entire race or human brings, and invest them with the rights and dignity of an intelligent and responsible

Can any one complain that such labor as this can work a wrong to any citizen of the country? Can any Christian say that snowledge and Christianty and even-handed justice must be reserved for a par-ticular race of men, and that others must be excluded from the enjoyment of them? Can any loyal man survey the batt e fields of the Rebellion, or look into the nomes or hearts made desolate by its wickedness, and say that its instigators and abettors. un hiven of their crimes, should be not only the peers but the rulers of a loyal people? I cannot answer these questions for oth rs, but i h we answered for mysel; and I think I have truly answered for those whose memories you would honor

Hon, Morton Mc Michael was then introduced. He did not come to make any speech. He had been in-troduced as the chief magistrate of Philadelonia, and i e came in the name of that high position to endoise the ac ion of this congretation in the erec-tion of that monument to their honored dead. He hoped to see the example emulated by overy church in the ion. in the land.

ANNIVERSARY EXENCISES AT THE NORTHERN HOME FOR FRIENDLESS CHILDREN .-The exercises connected with the Fifteenth Anniverany of the formal opening of the Northern Home for Friendless Children, yesterday afternoon, at-tract d a large crowd of visitors, and were of a highly interesting character J. W. Claghorn, Esq., presided, and addresses were delivered by the Rev. Mr. For ence and Mr. Mason.

The recitations and dialogues by the children were not only varied, but refle ted great credit upon the teachers. Quite a number of new and very pretty and appropriate songs and h mns were sung by the children in a style which elicited the admiration of all present. At the close of the exercises, the children sat down to a bountiful supper, which they enjo) of with great guado, there are at to a time connected with the Northern

Home nearly 400 children about 180 of whom are the orphins of soldiers and sailors. In order to meet the preatly increased demand for room, the creation of a new building is to be commenced at once, which will contain a large school-room, a laundry, aining-room, etc on next lucsday evening. May 8, at a quarter before So'clock, the regular universary of the Home will be celebrated at the North Broad Street Pres-bylerian Church, Broad and streets, on which occusion one hundred of the children belonging to the Bome will sing a number of their beautiful songe, and there will be a repetition of the restaions and dialogues which give so much pleasure to the visitors ves erday. The annual report will also be read, and addresses delivered by Key. Mr flow-sen, Dr. Readle, and other nominent speakers. The occasion prompes to be one of great interest.
