Mr. Jones presented a communication from the Trustees of the Philadelphia Gas Works. It states that the Special Committee had proceeded to the Gas Works and examined a number of the employes. No invitation was given to the Board of Trustees or Chief Engineer to be present or to assist in the investigations. A condensed statement made from the last annual report of the Trustees was given, and they are willing to afford all facilities to the Committee, satisfied that it will be found that the affairs of the Trust have been conducted with fidelity, economy, and success. Three loans have already been paid out of the sinking fund, and on the 1st of January, 1866, that fund amounted to $1,621,012.21, sufficient to pay all the other loans, leaving the works worth several millions to the city clear, without having inwasted a dollar of capital. The price of gas compares (avorably with those of other cities. While the average price in other cities is $3.96, in this city but $3.15 is charged. The Trustees invite the Select and Common Councils to appoint a joint committee to audit and examine all the reports and divected the President the reports, and directed the President of the Board to appoint a committee of five to furnish all books and papers and to give any informa-

Mr. Manuel rose to a question of privilege. He complained that he had been insulted by a member of this Chamber who does not know what common decency is. He desired that gen-tleman (Colonel Page) to understand that while he (Mr. Manuel) was here he was not the Chief Engineer of the Gas Works, but he was his peer. He considered it due to these Councils, of which he had been a member ten years, to the trustees of the Gas Works, with whom he had had business relations for thirty years, and to the public, to give an explanation of his recent actions in reference to the special investigating committee. The committee have visited the Gas Works in the Twenty-sixth Ward, but as no notice had been given to the Trustees or to him, they were not present. The Chairman had asked the employes many questions about him (Manuel), which questions were all promptly answered. Afterwards the committee had visited the North Ward Gas Works, and Mr. Manuel, who happened to be there, escorted them through the works and subsequently accompanied them to the Fifteenth Ward Works. The committee declined to visit the works in the Twenty-first, Twenty-second, and Twenty-third Wards. On the 30th of April the speaker had received a note, such a one as he would have received as a member of the committee. He attended, and had been it aled in the most insulting manuer by the Chairman of the committee. sulting manner by the Chairman of the com-mittee, who had called him a liar and a scoun-drel. He was too well known in this community to be injured by anything coming from that source. He desired the most rigid investi-gation into his management, but he declined having any intercourse with the Chairman of

When the Committee on Law was called, Colonel Page asked the chairman to make the report agreed upon at the last meeting of the Mr. Wagner, chairman, replied that he had no report to make. Colonel Page said that a report had been agreed upon, was signed, and placed in the hands of the chairman. A ter the adjournment two gentlemen had mutilated the report by tearing their names off. He desired to know whether these gentlemen had a right to take their names off after the committee adjourned.

Mr. Wagner remarked that it was signed by five members, and at the last meeting two other gentlemen had put their names to it. These gentlemen had afterwards withdrawn their names, and therefore he could not submit the

Colonel Page then desired to instruct the chairman to present the report, and the President suggested that that could be done by a the rule which required reports to be signed by seven members.

Mr. Wagner, from the Committee on Schools, reported an ordinance authorizing the purchase of lots of ground on Cherry street, east of Eleventh, and on Seventeenth street, between Wood and Carlton streets, for school purposes.

The same committee reported an ordinance authorizing the Controllers of the Public Schools to enter into contracts for the erection of school-houses, except in First Ward, upon lots of ground a wined by the city, or to be leased or purchased for school purposes, provided that payment shall be made in certificates of loan provided for by ordinance of Decem-After considerable discussion, the ordinance was postponed for one week.

Mr. King offered a resolution requesting Mr. Jacob W. Colladay, the contractor for the new court house, to have the granite and other some used dressed in this city. He said that the granite of the Pennsylvania Bank building, and other structures, was all dressed in New England, and Philadelphia mechanics have reaped no benefit from it, Dr. Kamerly thought there was no purpose in the resolution. Mr. Colladay, the contractor, is going to buy his stone and dress it anywhere he can get it the cheapest. He wouldn't pay any attention to requests.

Mr. King said that he feit a pride in Philadelphia mechanics, and he considered it no more than right that the work of the city should be done by Philadelphians.

Dr. Kamerly moved to indefinitely postpone the resolution. Not agreed to. The resolution was agreed to. Colonel Page submitted a resolution, directing the Chairman of the Committee on Law to present the report of the committee on a subject submitted to it for inquiry, viz.:-By what authority the Trustees of the Gas Works approprinted $300 to two of the members for making Colonel Page said he was not very familiar with the rules of Select Council in regard to committees, but he has always understood the parliamentary rule to be that when a committee decides a matter its power is exhausted; that there is no reconsideration in committee. report had been regularly adopted and signed by eight members. Afterwards two members had withdrawn their names. He denied their right to do so and desired the chamber to settle Mr. Smith held that the members of a committee had a right to tell the chairman to withhold a report after it had been adopted. The matter can again come before the committee. Dr. Kamerly favored the resolution. He contended that the report of the committee was valid when it was signed and given to the chairman, and nobody had a right to mutilate it by erasing their names from it. Mr. Freeman declared that the only question was the right of gentlemen to control their names before they became the property of the Chamber, Until a report is presented, it is considered the property of the committee, and gentlemen have reserved the right to remove their names if they were afterwards convinced they had signed a wrong report. Colonel Page contended that if any gentleman finds that he has made a mistake in signing a report, it is his place to bring the matter up in committee, and not take their names off outside of it, as has been done in this case. A gentleman only has a right to control his name after signing a report by going to the committee and explaining that he has made a mistake.

The resolution was disagreed to. Yeas, 6; The resolution from Common Council to appoint a joint special committee to investigate the affairs of the Gas Works was called up.

Very harmoniously, and don't desire any interference. This resolution will abelian the committee and establish a new one, with the Chairman in the other Chamber. The Select Council has confidence in its committee, and the committee will munity is satisfied that the committee will make a trathful report. The speaker agreed that Common Council by its action in this matter de-sires to clog the investigation, and that any interference with the present committee will be looked upon with suspic or by the people.

Dr. Kamerly also opposed the passage of the Colonel Page explained that he had offered the original resolution because ne considered it the right and duty of Councils to investigate the affairs of the Gas Works. The committee had visited the different Gas Works, and, in all instances, it has been met by the Trustees, greeted with cordiality, and every facility was offered. Then came the summoning of witnesses.

A gentleman, who is a member of this Chamber, was requested by a polite note to attend. He did so, but what transpired in committee, Colonel Page said he was not at liberty to tell; but a phonographer was not at liberty to tell; but a phonographer was there, and when his report is brought to light, if it ever is, it will be seen whether the chairman of the committee is right or not. It will then be seen whether this committee has not been insulted from the very outstart, and the chairman was obliged to use harsh language—not the words which have been attributed to him—by the condent of buted to him-by the conduct of an officer of the Gas Works. Every heart in this city tooks to this committee to reduce the tax upon a very necessary article. This resolution supersedes this committee, and if it is concurred in he shall consider himself dismissed, as he could not be expected to the second supersedes. expected to play a subordinate part in the drams now being performed. He had no per-sonal motive in this investigation, and he social be very glad if the Trustees shall come out with

Without action on the subject, the Chamber dicurned. Common Branch-President Stokley in the hair .- Mr. Evans offered a resolution appointing a joint committee of five from each Chamber to examine the accounts and investigate the nanagement of the Philadelphia Gas Works. Mr. Hetzel opposed the passage of the resolu-tion on the ground that it reflected on the special committee of Select Council appointed for the same purpose. If the resolution read "the appointment of five members from Common Council to act in conjunction with the Select Council Committee," then he would vote for it; but as the resolution is, he believed it was offered for the purpose of having a whitewashing committee appointed. He was contident that the gas men knew that the Chairman of the Select Council Committee was not to be cowed down. On the passage of the resolution the year and nays were called, resulting in yeas 29, nays 7.

The Chairman appointed the following mempers on the Committee: -Messrs, Evans, Willits, Cresswell, Bardsley, and Gill.
Mr. Simpson offered a resolution instructing the City Solicitor to compel the Ridge Avenue and Manayunk Passenger Railway Company to relay their rails according to the established grade of the city. Referred to Committee on Surveys.

Mr. Hetzel offered the following reselution:

Resolved, By the Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia, That a joint special committee of five members from each Chamber be appointed to examine into and report upon the management and condition of the Philadelphia was Works; and to that end, and for that purpose they are authorized and directed to send for any person or persons, and examine all books, papers, and documents, which shall or may be necessary, in their opinion, for full and correct information as to the said Trust to show the receipts and expenditures, the stock on hand, the number and positions of persons employed, the saiaries paid, and the prices charged for gas; and generally to report upon the sobs employed, the salaries paid, and the prices charged for gas; and generally to report upon the manner in which the said Trust is conducted, and whether any, and if any, what abuses exist therein, and of any other mattars relating thereto.

Mr. Franciscus moved to resume the third eading of the ordinance to abolish the office of Chief Inspector of Streets, under discussion at the last session of Councils. The ordinance

Mr. Franciscus called up the ordinance to change the boundaries of the First and Second Pelice Districts, and to create a new Police Dis-trict therein, to be called the Seventeenth District. This ordinance provides that the First and Second Police Districts, as at present constituted, shall be divided into three Police Districts, to be bounded as follows:—
First District shall comprise all that portion of the city lying south of South or Cedar street, between Broad and the river Schuylkill, and the station house shall be at Twentieth and Fitzwater streets, in the Twenty-sixth Ward; the Second District shall comprise all that part lying south of South or Cedar street, and east of Sixth, and the station house at Southwark Hall; and the Seventeenth District shall comtrise all that portion of the city lying south of South or Cedar streets, and between Sixth and Broad streets, and the station house shall be at the Movamensing Hall, in Christian street, between Ninth and Tenth streets, in the Second Ward. It farther provides that the present police force shall not be increased thereby.

The Select Council bill appropriating $677 to the Department of Street Cleansing was called up. A motion to postpone was made. Mr. Nickels opposed the bill. He considered it a system of wholesale roobery. He was surprised that the Chairman of the Committee on Street Cleansing would put his name to the bill. Mr. Nickels took back the last remark, and said he was not surprised at the Committee fixing his Mr. Willits said he was not willing to vote for the bill. The Common Council have abolished the office, and it is supposed that the Chief Inspector, Mr. Gordon, goes with it. On motion, postponed for the present.

Mr. Stanton offered a resolution to have the dock at the foot of Washington street wharf widened and deepened, so as to admit of the entrance of the largest vessels. This was in answer to an application by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Agreed to. Adjourned, DESTRUCTIVE FIRE,-About half past 9 o'clock last evening the extensive coal-oil re-finery of Messrs. Logan & Lloyd, located at the corner of Twentieth street and Washington avenue, took fire from a leak in one of the stills, The principal building of the refinery, including the still and treating houses, office, stables, frame sheds, and about eight hundred barrels of oil and benzine in tanks and process of refining, were consumed, and the machiney, fix-tures, and apparatus rendered a complete wreck. A large quantity of refined oil and benzine, in barrels and cans, was rescued. The fire-men worked nobly, and prevented the flames from extending to the surrounding properties, though none of the blazing oil escaped into the streets. Some of the adjoining sheds fell in from the weight of the people on them, and a number of persons, including firemen, were hurt, but no one, so far as we could ascertain, was seriously injured. The total loss will amount to about $15,000, and is fully covered by insurance in New York and New England companies. The fire made a great light, and at 1 o'clock this morning was still burning, notwithstanding a drenching ram prevailed.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY .- John Lydon, a resident of Wilkesbarre, arrived in this city last evening, about nine o'clock, and while passing along Thomson street, near Germantown avenue, on his way from the North Pennsylvania railroad depot to the Eagle Hotel, on Third street, near New, he was caught by three men. One of the number held his hands behind his back while another placed a handkerchief over his mouth, thus preventing him from defending himself or calling for assistance. The third party then robbed him of his wallet, containing upwards of eleven hundred dollars. Lydon is unable to describe any of the parties who committed the daring outrage. MAN DROWNED .- The body of an unknown white man, aged about fifty years, was found in the Delaware river at Noble street wharf on Wednesday. The deceased was about five feet eight inches in height, with brown whiskers, and was dressed in black ribbed coat and pants, black under coants the grow undershirts and Mr. King opposed the resolution. The present black under pants, two grey undershirts, and Committee of Select Council is getting along; low shoes. The Coroner took charge of the body.
